No political mavericks on the cattle range this year—they have all come up to the republican corral.

Nebraska prairies will raise still one more crop this year—the largest yield of republican votes they have produced in several seasons.

Roosevelt day, which comes Thursday, October 4, is the next red letter day in Omaha's calendar.

Nothing would so disappoint the Bryanites as a satisfactory settlement of the coal miners' strike.

The Commercial club should keep right on in its quest for new jobbing houses and factories for Omaha.

Medical authority says it is bad for the health to go to bed with an empty stomach.

It is a poor election when our voters are not treated to the opportunity to express themselves on a few bond propositions.

The appeal of Bryan and the national committee for the formation of Bryan and Stevenson clubs evidently fell on something more than stony ground.

Aguinaldo's private secretary is in this country to make a few speeches on the Philippine question.

The seven new members of the school board to be chosen this year would by themselves almost make a majority of that body.

Large crowds come out in the rain to see and hear Roosevelt.

St. Joseph may have hypnotized the census man to list it with a bigger population than Omaha.

The musical festival, the street fair and the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival have come and gone.

Boss Croker cannot understand why he should be dragged into national politics.

The English press insists that in the edicts promulgated by the emperor of China ordering the punishment of leaders in the outrages committed on foreigners.

The English press insists that in the edicts promulgated by the emperor of China ordering the punishment of leaders in the outrages committed on foreigners.

QUESTIONS HE WILL NOT ANSWER.

With something of bravado Mr. Bryan has a number of times told audiences that he is willing to state what his policy is regarding the Philippines.

But why is not Mr. Bryan equally frank as to some other questions which are no less important to the American people?

There is another matter as to which the views of the popercrat candidate would be interesting.

There is another matter as to which the views of the popercrat candidate would be interesting. That is the disfranchisement of colored citizens in the south.

Mr. Bryan will continue to ignore these questions. They are not veto catches.

LABOR WOULD SUFFER.

Hon. James H. Eckels, who was commissioner of the currency in the second Cleveland administration.

It would seem that every intelligent workman must see the truth of this. What can labor possibly gain through any policy for which the Bryanite party stands?

AURISIA A DELUSION.

The worst delusion in this campaign are those who believe, or profess to believe, that Mr. Bryan, if elected, would do nothing to overthrow the gold standard law and put the country on a silver basis.

How do the populists of the west who are supporting Bryan like it to have Boss Croker dictate one of the most important cabinet positions in Bryan's cabinet in case he should be elected?

There has not been a fall for many years in which the soil of this state has been in such good condition to go into winter as the present.

Problem of the Century.

College education is said to reduce a girl's chances of marriage. It brings up the question whether the light of science is an equivalent for that of a good match.

Money to Move the Crop.

The demand for small notes usual at this time of year, whether for moving the crops or for carrying the elections, will be met without trouble at the federal subtreasuries.

QUESTIONING FAITH IN HIS PROMISE.

Those who think as the Baltimore Sun does are nursing a delusion which will be rudely dispelled if Mr. Bryan should be elected.

Nothing succeeds like success. This is again exemplified by the success that has crowned the musical festival and Ak-Sar-Ben carnival just brought to a close in this city.

One specially significant feature that is remarked upon by all those actively engaged in the management of these enterprises is the better feeling among the Omaha business men and Omaha people generally.

This feeling seems to indicate a revival and strengthening of public spirit, always necessary for adequate support to every public undertaking.

Wonder of the New Navy.

The naval maneuvers at Newport suggest that the submarine torpedo boat may yet play a larger part in history than had been anticipated.

STOPPING TRAIN ROBBERIES.

Why is it that train robberies seem to increase in frequency and daring and that their movement is from the west, where the open plains and unpopulated mountain regions enable the thieves to make good their escape to the east?

CONCERNING IMPERIALISM.

Governor Sayers of Texas reports the amount of money received by him as contributions for the relief of the Galveston flood victims as $672,476.

FACTS THAT RISE ABOVE THE CLATTER OF CHAIRS.

If we can get a five minutes' hearing in this deafening din which our esteemed democratic contemporaries have raised before the question of imperialism.

THE NEBRASKA CITY INCIDENT AS IT APPEARS TO THE OMAHA NEWS.

Mr. Bryan went to Nebraska City day before yesterday to talk starch. There is in that town a starch factory giving employment to 300 persons.

THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS.

Washington Post. If Mr. Hanna has really settled the coal miners' strike he has accomplished more good than all the other politicians combined.

Problem of the Century.

College education is said to reduce a girl's chances of marriage. It brings up the question whether the light of science is an equivalent for that of a good match.

Money to Move the Crop.

The demand for small notes usual at this time of year, whether for moving the crops or for carrying the elections, will be met without trouble at the federal subtreasuries.

Dollar and Dinner Pail.

What shall it profit a man to assist Aginaldo to a throne and lose his own job? McKinley proposes to establish order in the Philippines, set up a stable government with local self-government and United States sovereignty.

A True Representative.

Fred M. Young of Omaha has the nomination for the legislature. It is needless to say that organized labor will have a true and loyal representative if he is elected.

What Bryanism Would Do.

Under Bryanism every important industry in the land would be made to feel a shock such as business has never felt in the country's entire history.

General Palmer and His Pension.

Let it not be forgotten in reviewing the life of the late General John M. Palmer that when a pension of $100 a month was voted him in his old age and poverty he made the request that the amount be cut in half.

Departure of Oom Paul from the South African Republic.

There is something pathetic and much that is instructive in the scene that will soon be witnessed in Delagoa bay when the Dutch battleship Gelderland will receive on board the former president of the late Transvaal Republic to convey him back to the land from which his forefathers came 250 years ago.

Easy as Rolling off a Log When You Know How.

Why is it that train robberies seem to increase in frequency and daring and that their movement is from the west, where the open plains and unpopulated mountain regions enable the thieves to make good their escape to the east?

THE NEBRASKA SITUATION.

The complete ascendancy of the nationalists in the approaching Cuban constitutional convention will not surprise the government, which organized the government of the United States was dominated by the late revolutionists.

PROGRESSIVE STRIDES OF THE ISLANDERS TOWARD INDEPENDENCE.

The nationalists are, it is said, in favor of independence at once, and the withdrawal of American troops and the immediate removal of all American supervision and control.

BRYAN ON STARCH.

Recently the populist attorney general of Nebraska began suit to annul the sale of the Nebraska City factory to the United Starch company.

The man who does things. If Mr. Hanna has really settled the coal miners' strike he has accomplished more good than all the other politicians combined.

Huteson's Golden Rule. "How's back if you want it?" "Always been a feature of our optical business. It's our guarantee of absolute satisfaction if glasses are not right we will make them so. Our facilities for correct fitting are excelled by no other optical establishment in the state, as we own our own factory. We examine your eyes free and the glasses we give you are right beyond a shadow of a doubt, and at a fair price." J. C. Huteson & Co., Consulting Opticians, 1520 Douglas Street.
