REPUBLICANS HAVE STATE

Edward Fitch Gives Results of His Observations During Stumping Tour.
FARMERS ARE ALL WELL SATISFIED
Good Markets and High Prices Winning More Votes for the Republican Ticket Than Oratory Could Do.

After two weeks' hard campaigning in a dozen counties in the state Edward Fitch, prominent in Chicago as a lawyer and politician, made a report of his journey to the republican state committee yesterday. Mr. Fitch's principal addresses were delivered in Madison, Pierce, Saunders, Washington, Gage, Cass, Clay, Hall and Butler counties. "In each county where I spoke," said Mr. Fitch, "I made it a point to make inquiry of the chairmen and secretaries of the republican county committees. I asked them not what they expected to achieve in November, but what they are able to show today. I sought for the same information from the hundreds to whom I was introduced along the route. So I am not giving you any personal opinion, but the testimony of men acquainted with local conditions in each vicinity when I assure you that McKinley has the state today if he can only hold it. What is winning more votes than any oratory or printed matter is the common-sense views of the farmers and stock raisers that they are enjoying good markets and high prices, and that a change might bring much harm, but little good. "I was present at the Roosevelt rallies this week, with the exception of one day, when I had a debate with Amos Cummings of New York at the Butler county fair. Whether Cummings was too good-natured to tear me up or whether he lacked the arguments to do it the republicans present were satisfied with the outcome. Since September 20 I have been speaking every night in the open air to gatherings of from 1,500 to 2,000 people, and will stop in Omaha over Sunday for a rest. I am proud of the strategic republicans are making throughout the state, and have become personally interested in it. The state committee has communicated with the national committee on the subject and I will continue my work in Nebraska for another week or so."

national social democratic ticket for the state has been filed with the secretary of state. It contains only presidential electors and the parties at the head of the move claim that they will have at least 2,000 votes for Debs this fall. If they show that many votes they will materially reduce the Bryan vote in the state. The other tickets so far filed are the republican, democrat, people's party and prohibition. The democrat and people's party tickets are the same and while there will be five tickets on the ballot there will only be choice of four.

WAR HORSES OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

Republican Carboneau Orders Unable to Find Hired Men to Address.
A group of veteran republicans gathered in the county committee rooms yesterday upon the fact that they had no words to conquer, as in 1896, when every street corner had its spillover. "Why, four years ago," remarked Mr. Barnes, a republican with a flowing white beard, "the real republican headquarters were on the curbs at Fifteenth and Parnum streets. We argued with the free silver agitators who drove them back to their headquarters on Fifteenth just this side of Dodge street. There they got reinforcements and the war waged fast. Party headquarters were stationed at every turn. The republican center was in the Holman building at Fourteenth and Parnum streets; there was a large branch office in the New York Life building and another at Parnum and Parnum. Banners overhung the streets and the railings were lined with idle men, feeding the hope that Bryan would in some mysterious way juggle money into their pockets. Today it is hard to find idle men to make a political point, there are no discussions and the chairs in the headquarters' rooms are empty. The reason is that the unemployed have gone to work."

WESTERN NEBRASKA IS SOLID.

McKinley and Dietrich Assured of Big Vote in the Section.
W. C. Elder, who is relied upon as a political authority in western Nebraska, was in conference yesterday with the republican state central committee. Mr. Elder has served as clerk of the district court of Lincoln county since 1889, despite the fact that he is a stalwart republican in the midst of fusionists. As chairman of the county committee at North Platte he has made a canvass of the county and western Nebraska. "If the eastern part of the state will do as well as the western," Mr. Elder says, "McKinley has the electoral vote of Nebraska today."
"Bryan carried Lincoln county four years ago by 285, and while we can't count on

DROP THE BOND PROPOSITION

Opposition of Leading Taxpayers Gives the Project Its Quietus.
OLD COURT HOUSE WILL HAVE TO SERVE
Commissioners Object to Putting New Wings on the Old Building and Will Take No Further Action.

There will be no proposition submitted at the coming election for the voting of bonds for either a new court house or the enlargement or improvement of the present structure. All projects in that direction have been declared off by the county commissioners owing to the opposition manifested by leading taxpayers. In order to secure time to carry out the steps required by law for the submission of the proposition at the coming election it would have been necessary for the commissioners to issue their proclamation yesterday.

Political Notes.

The republican city committee is preparing for the school board primaries to be held on October 16. Five regular vacancies and two unexpired terms of one year each are to be filled. The committee met yesterday to listen to protests on delegations. No keen rivalry has been shown in the ward, although each will be represented by a delegation. So far as known no double election will continue in the primaries. The appointment of judges and clerks occurred yesterday.

OMAHA ENTIRELY IGNORED

Offices of Transcontinental Passenger Association Will Go Either to Denver or Kansas City.
Plans for the organization of a transcontinental passenger association, which have been in progress for the past month, are now perfected, and the new organization will become operative October 15. The several obstacles which at the beginning seemed likely to operate against the formation of the association were satisfactorily dealt with, and local passenger men who are interested in the new organization express confidence in the complete working success of the association.

Neither the place of headquarters nor the chairman for the new association has been selected. With the exception of these two important matters, however, everything is arranged, even to the places of the quarterly meetings. For some inexplicable reason Omaha, the gateway to the territory covered by the new association and the place of headquarters of one of the most important lines in the association, has been entirely overlooked in every particular.

Speaking of this matter yesterday, a well informed railroad man stated: "I believe that if Omaha had taken some active measures in the matter of getting the headquarters here, the combined influence of the commercial and railroad interests would have accomplished the desired end. I am of the opinion that it is too late now to take any action in this matter, although as yet the place for the headquarters has not been decided upon. Either Kansas City or Denver will probably be selected. The headquarters of this transcontinental association will be of considerable importance, since the new association will be most influential and a large force of employees will be engaged in the conduct of the affairs of the office."
"Efforts of the representatives of the lines centering in Omaha to have this city chosen at least as the place for one of the quarterly meetings were unavailing. These sessions will be held in California, Utah or Colorado, Kansas City and St. Louis. With the growing influence of Omaha as a railroad metropolis, it seems to me about time that this city is reaching out after some of the benefits to be derived because of this

PEEL EFFECT OF PROSPERITY.

Shop and Train Men on Union Pacific
The Union Pacific shops in this city 1,055 men are at present employed and all of them are getting in full time. Activity in shop work was greater during the month of September than at any time in ten years. In that period twenty-five engines were rebuilt and sent out on the road for use in the freight and passenger service. There are still more big freight engines in the shops which are undergoing general overhauling and repair action.

Because of the largely increased business on the road at present the engine equipment of the Union Pacific is being put to the test as never before. Freight and passenger engines are averaging 250 and 260 miles a day, while an average of 100 miles is regarded as a first rate one. The men who are operating the engines are all getting in overtime and their monthly pay checks are telling arguments in favor of the existence of prosperity. Passenger engines are averaging 235 miles per day.

STILL AFTER JACKSONIAN BOSS

Electrical Workers' Union Wants His Position Clearly Understood by Union Labor.
That the local labor people have not forgotten the bad treatment accorded them by the democratic managers at the late Jacksonian picnic at South Omaha, and that they propose to right their grievance in one way is shown by the report of the affair given in the last issue of the official paper, the Electrical Worker, published in New York. The communication is over the name of George E. Russell, press secretary of the Omaha union No. 22, as follows:
"Our last regular meeting it was regularly moved and seconded that Ed P. Smith be put on record as being antagonistic to organized labor, which was carried. The reason for this motion I simply state. Ed P. Smith, local organizer who had full charge of the Jacksonian day celebration, which was held in South Omaha a few weeks ago, made the park in which Bryan, Stevenson and other prominent democrats spoke to be wired by a rank scab outfit. Considering this to be an injury to our union, we sent a committee to see Ed P. Smith and to get a large Rock Croker bluff and told our committee he

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Ordinances Passed Providing for Submission of Proposition to Authorize Issuance of Bonds.
At a special meeting held yesterday the city council passed ordinances which provide for the submission to the voters at the November election a proposition to issue $75,000 worth of paving bonds and $25,000 worth of sewer bonds. An ordinance was also passed for the construction of 600 feet of sewer to begin at Boulevard street, near Twentieth street, and connect with the Riverview sewer.

Although it was the intention of the council to authorize the comptroller to issue certificates of indebtedness to the men who have been working on the street cleaning gangs for the last two weeks, the matter was overlooked and these laborers will not be paid until after the regular meeting Tuesday night.
