Sievens on the official ballot as the candicate of the populist party for congressman in their district, made no appearance at the time set for the hearing of their case today, and as a result the protest was dismissed. The objections urged in the protest were similar to those contained in the petition of Chairman Edmissen in his proceedings against the candidates on the state him had accepted a pertion of an ord party

The hearing was set for 2 o'clock this aftwere notified to be present at that time. J A. Boyce of Kearney and L. V. Guye of Omaha, representing the populist party and the interests of the Fifth district congressional candidate, were at the secretary of state's office before the time designated, and there they waited until after 3 o'clock for en opportunity to defend their side of the case. Secretary of State Porter, the judge of the court, did not arrive until 3 o'clock, just one hear sater than the time he had set for the hearing. "As soon as the campaign opened I began the work of organizing in different counties. I have found a remarkably large element of dissatisfied populists. I had just entered the room. I had seen some armed men in the hall, and they said there was trouble in the legislature. Later in the day I saw him in Caleb Powers' room with a gun, sitting by the window. The window was raised a little and the curtain pulled down. I asked him what he was doing with that gun. He said: "There is trouble up there," pointing to the legislative building, "I don't intend to start any trouble, but if it starts I will be prepared for it."

He pulled back a long loard standing against the wall disclosing some guns and said to me: "They say Powers is a brave man, but when there are signs of trouble he hides his guns."

After that Powers himself came in and Youtsey again said he would not start allything, but was prepared for trouble. I teld him he ought not to think of shouting out of that window and Youtsey said: "That's right! It would never do."

I left Powers and Youtsey in there when I came out. Saw Youtsey arain Monday morning before Goebel was shot. He was out in the main hall, near the west door of the executive building. Caleb Powers was present and Youtsey asked me if we had any chance to win the contest. When I teld him the attorneys were hopeful he seemed satisfied and walked toward his office. I was in my office next to the governor's when the shot was fired. Some one said a man was shot. I looked out and taw a man lying on the pavement with Coionel Jack Chinn near him.

When I went in to Powers' private office the day Youtsey was in there the door was locked and I knocked to get in. About ten minutes after the shooting I saw Youtsey in my office, which is the reception room to the governor's office. I did not hear him saw anything and did not see him have arms.

Miss Ida Murray writes from 2537 Polk street, Minneapolis, Minn., as follows: Every fall and winter of late years had a severe cough and cold which physicians have been unable to cure. This last winter at the advice of a friend I decided to try Peruna. Both my friend and her family had used Peruna with good results. "I was more than pleased with what the medicine did for me, and keep it aiways in the house. I also had chronic catarrh of the head, which made the slightest cold so much werse. I am completely cured of my catarrh after four months' faithful use of Peruna, and my general health is greatly improved. I always speak a good word for Peruna. IDA MURRAY.

Wherever there is a mucous membrane there catarrh may exist.

The only reason that catarrh is more frenent in the passages of the nose and throat is because these passages are more exposed to cold than the other portions of the mucous membrane. But one is Hable to have catarrh of the lungs, or kidneys, or stomach, or liver, or bowels, and especially the
