F. D. Gamewell, president of the University of Pekin, is a passenger on the steamship America Maru, arriving here today from the Orient, enroute to San Francisco. It was he who had charge of the fortifications during the recent siege at Pekin. President Gamewell is emphatic in his opposition to the Russian policy of withdrawing from China. He says that such a policy would be suicidal for the powers and would be accepted by most Chinese as proof that most of the foreigners had been driven out. The Chinese, says Gamewell, would think that those who did go to Pekin only went there to pay tribute to the imperial government.

TRUSTS DISCUSSED IN MASTERLY MANNER | east.

From Experiences Common to All the Speaker Shows the Demogagic Nature of the Popocratic Cry Against Combinations.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 .- St. Louis' vast exposition collseum was crowded tonight in at the autumn dinner of the Illinois Manuhonor of Governor Roosevelt, who spoke a little more than an hour. The governor was tired, baving riden in a parade given in the afternoon, Later he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the St Louis club. He was escorted from the Planters' hotel in the evening by Mayor Ziegenheim, National Committeeman Kerens and other prominent republicans of Missouri, a mounted regiment of rough riders and several thousand citizens in carriages or on foot. The route of the night parade was illuminated with flambeaux and colored fire.

Arriving at the coliseum the governor was greeted with tumultuous applause. He was introduced by the mayor of the city and was cheered enthusiastically throughout his speech, at the conclusion of which he was escorted to the Union station, where he took his special train for Chicago, whence, temorrow morning, he will start on his Indiana tour. The governor's address was devoted in part to trusts. On that subject he said in part:

that subject he said in part:

The last paramount issue that seems to have been developed on the other side is the issue of trusts. I am going to ask your attention to that By trusts, of course, is now meant the great aggregates of corporate wealth which, although not technically trusts, are such as we commonly understand the word in speaking one to another. It is idle to say that all these great corporations do evil. If you knew them well and understood the circumstances under which they exist you would never in the world go back to some of the conditions that preceded the present system of consolidation. Take, for instance, the great railway lines in my own state of New York. At one time in order to get from New York to Buffalo you had to change cars five times and get on five different lines. It was four times as uncomfortable and three times as costly to travel and ship freight then as now. A measure of great positive benefit came from the consolidation. The whole development of our highly specialized and highly complex modern industrial civilization has tended to produce these great aggregates of corporate wealth. In their development there has been good and trial civilization has tended to produce these great aggregates of corporate wealth. In their development there has been good and there has also been evil. The man who denies the evil is just as foolish as he who thinks that it is all evil. There have been evils and there are now evils; they have got to be cut out, and they are going to be cut out, not by oratory, but by commonsense and resolution, incidentally one of the first things to do is to make up your minds that while getting rid of the cancer you wish to avoid killing the patient.

Problem is Complex. The very fact that the problem is com-

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 9.—Mr. Bryan concluded the last speech of the day here tonight at a few minutes before 11 o'clock. He had begun at Quincy at 6 o'clock and had made sixteen addresses during the day, or more than one speech for each hour of the day occupied. The places at which he spoke were: Quincy, Camp Point, Golden, Carthage, Macomb. Abington, Galesburg, Yates City. Einwood, Chillicothe, Peoria. Sparland, Bureau, La Saile and Joliet. At Peoria he spoke twice. The audiences were generally large, but those at Peoria, Quincy and Joliet were specially so.

The people of La Saile and surrounding country met Mr. Bryan at the railroad station tonight. He reached this town at so clock and was escorted to a stand in the center of the city by a marching flambeau club and by innumerable citizens on foot. The stands were filled with people and the way was lighted by red fire and skyrockets. Cheers greeted Mr. Bryan at every turn. He, as usual, gave his first attention to the trusts and declared that they had no conscience. The trusts were, he said, practically all their wealth from the public, such were the street railway companies and one decuater realway companies and one demanging the streets.

We took hold of that problem in no vindence were individual, either with a rich man or a pour man—applause—the spirit of doing lustee and exstering fastice in return. BRYAN IS GIVEN A POINTER Acting Secretary Melklejohn Calls

Down Bryan for Making an Untrue Statement. WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 .- Acting Secretary Meiklejohn of the War department has sent the following letter to Hon. W. J. Bryan, who spoke at Peorla today:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6—Dear Sir:
In the press reports of your speech yesterday at Tipton, Ind., in which you referred to the overthrow or human slavery in the United States resulting from the success of the armies of the union, you are also reported as saying in that connection:

We fought then for the adoption of a constitutional amendment that provided that no man could own a slave, and yet, before the Philippine war is ended, we have the Sulu treaty, which recognizes slavery.

Permit me to invite your attention to the following extract from the letter of the secretary of war to Major General E. S.
Otts, commanding the United States forces in the Philippines, under date of October 27, 1898.

The president instructs me to advise you Bryan, who spoke at Peorla today:

The president instructs me to advise you that the agreement signed August 29, 1858, between Brigadier General John C. Hates, representing the United States, of the one park, the suitan of Jolo, the dato Rajah Muda, the dato Attik, the dato Calbi and the dato Joakamain, of the other part, is confirmed and approved, subject to the action of congress, provided for in that clause of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain which provides, the civil rights and the present status of the native inhabitants of the territory hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by congress, and with the understanding and reservation, which should be distinctly communicated to the sultan of Jolo, that this agreement is not to be deemed in any way to authorize or give the consent of the United States to the existence of slavery in the Sulu archipelago, a thing which is made impossible by the thirteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

It is probably unnecessary to call your attention to the fact that in the absence of the approval of the president, it is impossible for us to "have the Sulu treaty" or any other treaty. Very respectfully, G. D. MEJKLEJOHN.

PETTIGREW AFTER HANNA Consumer Gets the Benefit.

The law of consolidation of capital and division of labor holds as good in the field of distribution as in that of production. It is inevitable and it is profitable. The department stores and the money order stores sell for 10 per cent, instead of 30 per cent profit, and the consumer thus saves 20 per cent. The profit obtained by the distributor of staples on the way from the farmer to the consumer is less than one-quarter what it was thirty years ago. The farmer secures a wider market, the consumer gets staples just so much more cheaply and the enterprising middleman avails of improved banking and transportation facilities to do a larger business. This is why he has adopted as his motto, "Quick sales and The president instructs me to advise you banking and transportation facilities to do a larger business. This is why he has adopted as his motto. "Quick sales and small profits."

The real benefits of "capitalistic production," as compared with production on a small scale, are twofold. The first and greatest benefit of industrial combinations goes to the whole body of the community as consumers, through reduction in prices. The next benefit, and that next most largely distributed, goes to the workers through increase of wages, and thus it happens that the workingman gains simultaneously in two ways. He gets more money for his work and more goods for his money for his work and more goods for his money.

PETTIGREW AFTER HANNA

South Dakota Candidate Issues Challenge to the Republican National Committeeman

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 9.-Senator Pettigrew today issued the following challenge to Senator Hanna:

Having reviewed the position of our great consolidated corporations as the result of an economic evolution I feel that something should be said with regard to their capitalization. In general there has been much greater conservatism in the capitalization of industrials than there was in the original capitalization of railreads. Our railreads were built principally for the amount of the bond issues and the stock represented the capitalized hopes of the projectors. The issues of industrial bonds have heen considerably below the actual value of the tangible assets and industrial stock issues have generally been based on actual earning capacity. Still it is undoubted that there has been more than one instance of marked overcapitalization of industrials, and no proper legislative measure to remedy this wrong or prevent its recurrence should be neglected. lenge to Senator Hanna:

Hon. M. A. Hanna, National Committee-man, Chicago: Dear Sir-I am advised by the newspapers that you are coming to South Dakota for the purpose, as expressed by you, of preventing my re-election to the United States senate. I presume that you desire my defeat for personal reasons. If, however, I am in error on that point, you must be prompted to your course because of my attack upon the trusts, my criticisms of the methods of armor plate contracts advocated by you and my opposition to your policy (therefore the administration's policy) of dealing with the people of Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines. On these questions and the other issues of the campaign I shall be glad to meet you in joint debate in the state of South Dakota or elsewhere. By that means, misstatements may be corrected and the public may be informed as to the facis and my constituents will be enabled to come to a just conclusion. You should not object to a joint discussion. ure to remedy this wrong or prevent its re-currence should be neglected.
Fortunately, the evil caused by careless investing and unwise capitalization tends to correct itself by natural laws. Investors, naturally timid, confused by the few in-flated industrials which were put out simultaneously with the sound ones are afraid to buy and the organizers, unable to sell their securities, now realize that sound capitalization is the best policy. facturers' association at the Grand Pacific hotel. Charles A. Plamondon, president of the association, introduced Mr. Flint, whose remarks evoked frequent applause. A large part of Mr. Flint's remarks were devoted to trusts, in the course of which he said:

Through co-operation and combination every interest is benefited, but labor most of all. As wage-earners become more intelligent, as they become overseers of machinery, they better understand these conditions. They have the intelligence to recognize that their greatest comfort and happiness is in furthering the industry of which they are a part. Today one of the great advantages that the United States has over Europe is that its laborers are more intelligent, are healthier and happiner. The European wage-earner, instead of welcoming labor-saving machinery as our workingmen in the United States have done, has tried persistently to retard its general use, and the result has been that while wages have been lower in Europe the American workman has received more because he has produced more, and this is the great reason why, notwithstanding our trade with foreign markets.
