The convention, after it was permanently that nothing of a definite nature was suggested that would lead to a solution of what is to the miners a knotty problem. From the remarks of the miners it was gathered that the 10 per cent proposition, as it now stands, has little chance of being accepted. The delegates, it was learned, seemed to be almost manimous that the operators aboutd first make concessions in the other grievances before the Kate Scharn had come to her death by increase is accepted by the mine workers. Some of the delegates , think that the whole subject should be as hinted by President Mitchell in his remarks just before the convention went into secret session. Mr. Mitchell is very popular among the miners, as was shown by the enthusiasm displayed over his opening address: President Mitchell spoke as follows.

Mitchell Outlines Purpose. Gentlemen: In opening this convention desire to briefly cutline the purpose which prompted us to call you here, to point out, if I can, the course you should pursue in determining the questions which so vitally affect not only yourselves and the cast constituency you represent, but also the millions of people in the cast care. cratic party. When this strike was declared we ratifit would not end unless a majority of delegates representing the arthractic miners agreed to its termination. We repeately amounced that we would not undertake to decide the future happiness or misery, the weal or wose of the 80.00 persons dependent upon the ambractic coal infustry for a livelihood. We believe that the men who mine coal, that the boys who work in the collieries, that the boys who work in the breakers, should all be consulted before the efficers of your union declare the strike at an end. Learning that the operators have posted notices at their mines offering an advance of 10 per cent on the wages formerly paid, we deemed it our duty to call a convention and permit the miners to pass judgment on the question of its acceptance or rejection.

In considering the acopasition of the operators I want the delegates attending this convention to be calm and dispassionate, to consider the question in all its phases, to measure carefully the chances of success and the possibilities of defeat should the atrike be continued. You must not overestimate your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and, on the other hand, you should take every precaution to protect your atrength, and who have
