THE COERCION CHARGE

Four years ago Mr. Bryan and his party managers charged that working men were being intimidated and coerced by employers. They are repeating this charge now.

It is the same old tactics, the same effort that was made four years ago to intimidate workmen against the employers of labor.

It is presumed that no one will deny to an employer the right of every American citizen to express his political views in the presence of his employees.

It is possible that some will be influenced by this charge of coercion and intimidation, which those who make it do not attempt to support by a scrap of evidence.

Whatever criticism may be passed on the form of the official ballot the action of Secretary of State Porter in omitting the names of the candidates for president and vice president, although they are included in the statutory schedule.

We believe further that Secretary Porter is fully justified in his course because so far as he is concerned officially he has no notice of any presidential nominations.

The feature of The Bee Sunday will be a series of photographs illustrating Governor Roosevelt's tour through Bryan's state.

While popocrats are talking about ex-presidents they are reminded there is one living at Princeton, N. J. A word from him advising his friends to vote for Bryan would be appreciated by that gentleman's managers.

It is believed in Lincoln that one E. Rosewater offered to become a populist and turn his paper over to the support of that party two years ago if the populist would accept him as a senatorial candidate.

It is absolutely untrue that I have ever offered to become a populist or democrat or that I have ever offered to turn The Bee over to the democrats or populists on any terms.

I brand as absolutely false every statement industriously circulated by political enemies that I ever made either written or verbal pledge to recant any part of my republicanism for fusion support for the United States senatorship or any other office.

Omaha for the first time secures the presidency of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. As a recognition of the women of Nebraska's metropolis this is a gratifying compliment.

The democrats profess to be disappointed because ex-President Harrison did not say enough for them in his public statement. He said enough, however, to advise every patriotic citizen to support the republican ticket.

The receipts of sheep at the South Omaha stock yards for the past five days have been a little over 54,000 and these have all been sold at a good profit.

Even in Hawaii, which seemed so anxious for annexation, it appears we now have government without the consent of the governed. No other interpretation can be placed on the announced intention of the independent party to nominate as delegate in congress Robert W. Wilcox.

GERMANS FOR MCKINLEY

The New York Staats-Zeitung, the leading German newspaper in the United States, last Monday announced its support of the republican candidates for president and vice president in the following editorial:

"The campaign has entered upon its last month and the situation has become tolerably clear. It does not appear likely that events will occur which can materially change the present aspect of the campaign."

"Our estimate of the dangers connected with President McKinley's colonial policy has undergone no change. We are not only convinced that the Philippine islands will never repay in material advantage the sacrifices made for their possession, but we are also satisfied beyond all doubt that a continuation of the policy of conquest must hopelessly corrupt our public life."

"In receiving the Polish parliamentary election in Galicia the emperor impressively manifested his president that the dissolution of the Reichsrath and the coming elections were the last constitutional means which would be employed by his government."

"Up to the 10th of September 29,000,000 admission tickets to the exposition at Paris had been used and it is thought to be extremely unlikely that the remaining 36,000,000 tickets will be utilized."

"The prevalence of child labor in France which, in spite of the many attacks made upon it on moral and sociological grounds, is still increasing."

"There are half a dozen distinct models in Fall and Winter Overcoats this season—perfect examples of which you will find here, and in such an assortment of fabrics as must meet the requirements of every individual taste."

Will buy a thoroughly good and fashionable garment—such a coat as it is a joy to slip into.

The Chicago Tribune: "What I wish you'd keep your mind away from my garbage box! I don't care for the garbage. It's well as to let it go."

Philadelphia Press: "Do the American girls really affect men's clothes to any great extent? Inquired the English tourist."

Washington Star: "It is perfectly true, said Mr. W. H. Washington, wady friend."

Philadelphia Press: "Don't you find that Mr. Astor's poems," said the young poet."

Detroit Free Press: "I know a man who would just give the world for a glimpse of the girl in the gray."

Detroit Journal: "A sail!" shouted the lookout. "The wind is blowing from the north."

Up to the 10th of September 29,000,000 admission tickets to the exposition at Paris had been used and it is thought to be extremely unlikely that the remaining 36,000,000 tickets will be utilized.
