Appeals as an American.

My fellow Americans, for I intend tonight to appeal to you not as republicans, but Americans, as men who believe that the civil liberties of every citizen are sacred.

Few things have ever pleased me more than this day's address of the American people, which followed the party to the capitol house, where the governor was dining as the guest of the state executive committee.

There are many things at stake in this campaign, and it is of the utmost importance that we should preserve the right of every citizen to be heard in his own defense.

There is a ghost of the ordinary patent thing about it. Here's an example. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a good cure for a cough that comes from a cold.

It is a straight medicine with sixty years of cures back of it. There isn't a ghost of the ordinary patent thing about it.

DIED.

BRANTNER.—Thomas Henry, aged 62, at his home, 1107 Broadway street, on Saturday, October 13, 1906.

Oh, yes; you see Nicoll's prices all around town; but there's a decided difference in the meaning when Nicoll's name is there to back them up.

The price alone has no significance. It's necessary to compare the quality of the material—the trimmings—the workmanship—the style—the fitting.

You'd hardly think it! But the fact is, that there is a good deal more on the inside—than on the outside of a coat.

It is customary before ordering garments to feel of the cloth in a knowing way—in order to judge of its quality. That's all right! Some cloths are better in texture than others—in finish—in wearing quality and durability of dyes.

But the cost of that cloth—however good—is less than the cost of labor and linings. It is in what is called the tailoring—that the real quality of a garment lies; the sewing of the seams; the stays; the pocket points; the shaping; the finishing.

These are the points that add cost, and give quality to properly made garments—and they are the particulars which the average buyer knows the least.

If you understood all these matters as well as it is our business to know them—you would appreciate more fully why garments made by Nicoll The Tailor are far superior to the ordinary made to order garments.

Trousers, $5, $6, $7, $8, $9. Suits, $20, $25, $30, $35. All our garments made by the best skilled tailors of Omaha.
