

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily (with Sunday) One Year, $6.00

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss: I, George H. Tschuck, secretary of the Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn

For the month of September, 1900, was as follows: Total... 27,210. Net total sales... 26,250. Net daily average... 26,250

Subscribed in presence and sworn to before me this 30th day of September, A. D. 1900. M. B. HUNGATE, Notary Public.

Bryan is a good deal better at asking questions than he is at answering them. Nebraska is raising a crop of campaign weather—no exalted in quality even by its crop of yellow corn ears.

How fortunate the football season extends over the election, otherwise the chrysanthemum-haired collegian might at any time not have the field to himself.

The shah of Persia threatens to flit his subjects with a book embracing the narrative of his travels. In this does not justify revolt and insurrection though will.

Mr. Bryan's Omaha organ warns the Bryanites not to take it for granted that Bryan will carry Nebraska. This is just what the republicans have been telling them all the time.

The British Parliamentary elections are nearly over. Great Britain has more elections to choose a new Parliament than we to select a new congress, yet we seem to consume more time in the process.

PROPOSAL OF THE MINERS.

If the anthracite coal operators are disposed to be fair and reasonable in dealing with the miners the strike should be at an end and work resumed within the next few days.

In this action the miners have shown a reasonable and conciliatory spirit which is most commendable and which places them in a position that cannot fail to command general public respect and sympathy.

Great strides have been made during the past few years toward building up Omaha industrially and commercially and extending the territory tributary to its business interests.

While Omaha's railroad facilities have been vastly improved by the entrance of new roads and the development of old ones, it is sure to move further forward as a transportation center as the gaps in the lines converging here are filled.

The internal lines of the development of Omaha are fairly well mapped out. The erection of an auditorium would enable us to compete with other cities for great national gatherings and to entertain properly the various state organizations holding periodic sessions here.

Omaha has been adding a number of wholesale establishments to its jobbing interests and more are on the way. In the line of manufacturing institutions the most pressing need is for a sugar factory, cereal mills and factories to work up still further the by-products of the great meat packing industries at South Omaha.

While Omaha cannot expect to accomplish all these things in a day or a year, it has something definite to work for, and with a helping hand all around is sure to carry out its program in the near future and accomplish much more besides.

Mr. Bryan is not discussing free silver, though he continues to declare, when pressed for an expression, that he and his party stand where they did four years ago.

The financial and business interests of the country, the prosperous farmers and contented wage-earners, do not concern in this view. It is not in accord with the democratic national platform and the declarations of the democratic presidential candidate.

DO THEY WANT A SCAPEGOAT?

Norfolk Journal: Will Governor Poynter be kind enough to tell his audience tomorrow whether he rides on a pass or his railroad fare is paid out of the assessments scattered from the employees of the Norfolk News.

North Platte Tribune: The state fusion committee has dispatched a man to Chicago to raise a $50,000-dollar campaign fund in order to make a more vigorous fight to save Nebraska to Bryan.

Chicago Tribune: The state fusion committee has dispatched a man to Chicago to raise a $50,000-dollar campaign fund in order to make a more vigorous fight to save Nebraska to Bryan.

Visible Effect of Bryanism. Ex-President Harrison repeats that Bryan's election "would throw government and business affairs into confusion."

No Doubt of Success. Springfield (Mass.) Republican and: Betting on the election in Wall street has moved back a peg in favor of McKinley—the odds of 2 1/2 to 1 of a few days ago rising now to 3 to 1 of a few takers at the smaller end.

Views of a War Veteran. Paul Hooper Press: General Bryan, the gallant war veteran, who has for many years been the foremost leader of the democratic party in Wisconsin, made a speech Thursday at Milwaukee in which he sounded a trumpet blast of warning to patriotic democrats against the demagogue and the demagogue leadership of W. J. Bryan.

Flapdoyle for Goals. The ads about corruption, about corruption funds and about false counts is made by those who are silent against riots, anarchy, assaults on speakers, reputation and the scheme to break down courts of law, by those who favor clipt coin and Filipino money, who are in favor of state central cooperative schemes of their own—or their own despair.

Routing Class Hatreds. There is a certain tone about the recent speeches of Mr. Bryan that do not brook confidence in the success of his party. An abatement of moderation in a campaign leader is not a hopeful omen for his cause.

Another Fake Exploded. One of the popercate fakes which has been spread broadcast over the country is to the effect that the soldiers in the Philippines have been driven insane by the hundreds, with the intimation that if kept there much longer they would all have to be returned to their friends and relatives in this country bereft of reason.

Amazing Increase in Shipments Abroad in Four Years. The growth within the last four years in our shipments of manufactures to foreign countries is amazing. This is especially true in regard to American machinery.

Waning of Bryanism

Philadelphia Press (ind. rep.): With the passing of Bryan will pass Bryanism, an event which will be accomplished on the 6th of November next and which will be officially recorded in the returns of the election of that day.

Philadelphia Press (ind. rep.): With the passing of Bryan will pass Bryanism, an event which will be accomplished on the 6th of November next and which will be officially recorded in the returns of the election of that day.

Perhaps the most pathetic and melancholy spectacle developed in the whole campaign is that of the demagogic organs hysterically approving territorial expansion.

Grand Island Independent: Phillip Anderson, manager of the German press committee of the democratic state central committee, has nearly demonstrated the smallness of his caliber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Thrown Out of Court

Washington Post (ind.): Perhaps the most pathetic and melancholy spectacle developed in the whole campaign is that of the demagogic organs hysterically approving territorial expansion.

Grand Island Independent: Phillip Anderson, manager of the German press committee of the democratic state central committee, has nearly demonstrated the smallness of his caliber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

Stuart Ledger: If there is a single citizen of Stuart who doubts that propriety, with a great big P, has located upon our local principles, let him get up early in the morning and look for the long string of farm wagons loaded with lumber.

INTEREST IS THE JOINT DEBATE.

Grand Island Independent: There are many here who desired to hear the Rosewater-Hitchock debate and they do not thank the little giant for telling the World-Herald that Hill county did not want the debate.

Stanton Picket: Editor Hitchock may not realize as much now, but before his series of joint debates with Editor Rosewater closes he will learn that he is up against the real thing.

Springfield Monitor: A joint discussion on the all-absorbing political question is being arranged between Editors Rosewater and Hitchock of Omaha's leading dailies.

Stanton Picket: Editor Hitchock may not realize as much now, but before his series of joint debates with Editor Rosewater closes he will learn that he is up against the real thing.

Springfield Monitor: A joint discussion on the all-absorbing political question is being arranged between Editors Rosewater and Hitchock of Omaha's leading dailies.

Stanton Picket: Editor Hitchock may not realize as much now, but before his series of joint debates with Editor Rosewater closes he will learn that he is up against the real thing.

Springfield Monitor: A joint discussion on the all-absorbing political question is being arranged between Editors Rosewater and Hitchock of Omaha's leading dailies.

Stanton Picket: Editor Hitchock may not realize as much now, but before his series of joint debates with Editor Rosewater closes he will learn that he is up against the real thing.

Springfield Monitor: A joint discussion on the all-absorbing political question is being arranged between Editors Rosewater and Hitchock of Omaha's leading dailies.

Stanton Picket: Editor Hitchock may not realize as much now, but before his series of joint debates with Editor Rosewater closes he will learn that he is up against the real thing.

POTENCY OF THE PAUL.

Washington Star: You may slug of the handkerchief haughtily or the demagogue's brainer that douts or the street.

Two tramps on the banks of the Sette: "How can we raise the wind?" "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain there? Why don't you come and take me out?"

A Partisan's Lament: A countryman who was drinking in a saloon, shrugged his shoulders and was about to drive off in a hack.

Two tramps on the banks of the Sette: "How can we raise the wind?" "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain there? Why don't you come and take me out?"

A Partisan's Lament: A countryman who was drinking in a saloon, shrugged his shoulders and was about to drive off in a hack.

Two tramps on the banks of the Sette: "How can we raise the wind?" "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain there? Why don't you come and take me out?"

A Partisan's Lament: A countryman who was drinking in a saloon, shrugged his shoulders and was about to drive off in a hack.

Two tramps on the banks of the Sette: "How can we raise the wind?" "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain there? Why don't you come and take me out?"

A Partisan's Lament: A countryman who was drinking in a saloon, shrugged his shoulders and was about to drive off in a hack.

Two tramps on the banks of the Sette: "How can we raise the wind?" "Well," he asked, "how long are you going to remain there? Why don't you come and take me out?"