New York Dry Goods.

New York Der Goods. NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The market for dry goods has ruled dull in all departments today so far as demand goes, but there has not beet any ensier tone noticeable. In brown sheatings and drills prices remain firm and are in favor of boyers in a num-ber of instances in bleached and coarse colored cottoms. Print cloths gulet, no change in prints or ginghams. Woolen goods' division very gulet throughout. 11 heifers.

cleared of cow stuff at a reasonably early hour. Yard traders succeeded in cleaning up their supply of cattle in good shape last week and as a result they were all looking for more today. The market started out active and stronger. It could safely be quoted strong to a dime higher and in some cases sales were made that looked lie higher. The greatest advance was of course on the choice grades, but even the medium and commoner kinds moved quite treely. Stock cows and helfers also sold at good, strong prices. There was the usual good demand for western steers and those that were offered brought good, atrong prices, particularly if they were good. Cows were active at just about steady prices, while stock calves were in good demand and strong to a dime higher, and some of the choicest bunches may have sold lie higher. Book free, PEAL MEDICINE Co., Cleveland, Ohio. SHEEP. This week started out with a good liberal run of sheep, 14.734 hoad being reported on sale, as against 19.567 head a week ago today. Favorable reports were received from other points and as a result Sold by Kuhn & Co., lith and Douglas, and J. A. Fuller & Co., 18th and Douglas. $5.00 A MONTH. received from other points and as a result the market opened up active and just about steady. The demand was good for both sheep and lambs of good quality, though there were not any very choice lambs offered. Sheep sold as high as $1.90. The stuation can best be described today as a good, steady, active market all around. Feeders were in good supply again today, but the demand continues equally good, so that prices hold practically unchanged.
