Done to Evade Money.

Mr. Rosewater said this ranting about imperialism is to enable those using it to run away from the money question. Bryan had declared after his defeat that the silver question would never be settled until it was settled right, but he is not talking about it now in the east as a panacle for all national ills. Mr. Rosewater then sought in vain to lead his opponent into a discussion of the money question. Mr. Rosewater denied that the bill gave the banks control, as the government can issue coin certificates. "I am not going over there to prance around him and shake my fist at him," said Mr. Rosewater "I simply want him to answer my questions. The money question is the one important question, as a sound financial system is essential to prosperity."

Audience Turns Out to Hear Rankin of Pittsburg. LYONS, Neb., Oct. 22.-(Special.)-No one could, after witnessing such a demonstration as given here Saturday night in honor of McKinley and Roosevelt, doubt for one moment but that this portion of Nebraska was for continued prosperity and happy homes. Hon. R. C. Rankin of Pittsburg, Pa., was greeted with one of the largest audiences that ever gathered here for a political rally. The speaking took place within a large tent erected for the occasion and which proved to be two-thirds too small to hold the people there to hear him. The way the speaker handled the tesues was forcible and very convincing. The parade arranged by the Rough Riders club of this city, was never before equaled either in way of display or number. The procession formed was a line of torchlights, which practically included all the buriness streets of the city in one continuous line. The procession

CAPETOWN, Oct. 22 .- The Witwatersrand gold miners, requiring rolling stock for coal, placed an order for fifteen heavy locomotives with British manufacturers last August Two tenders for more than 200 tracks were received from the largest British and American factories, the American tender being far more favorable in point of price and quickness of delivery.

The mining industry, being most anxious to favor the British, called for fresh tenders from British manufacturers giving them a further opportunity, even at the expense of valuable time. includes

EXPELLED FROM PARIS TRACK American and English Cyclists Are Forbidden Entrance at the Pare Des Pringes.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Sunday's stormy incidents at the Parc des Princes, when McFarland, the American cyclist, was obliged to abandon the race with Jacquelin owing to the menacing attitude of the crowd, have been followed up by extraordinary action on the part of M. Desgrange, manager of the track, the colony of American cyclists being forbidden to enter the grounds except to withdraw machines and other personal property. Yesterday Cooper and McFarland went to the track to train and found that the gatekeeper had received orders not to allow them to enter. While they were arguing the point with him an Englishman named Chase arrived, to find that he, as well as the other English racing men, were included with the Americans among the expelled.

M. Desgrange, in the course of an interview, declared he had no personal resentment toward McFarland, his American comparitots or friends, but he desired to point out that Sunday's incidents had cost him dear, as he had been compelled for return the gate money, to bear the cost of advertising and to pay the wages of the staff, a total of several thousand francs.

"I desired to make an example or a series of examples for a principle, he said," as I consider that all racing men ought to a certain point defend the interests of the organizers of the races. Consequently even if McFarland's first reason for abstaining from racing was justifiable, namely, the sodded state of the ground, his duty on seeing the turn things were taking was to jump on his machine in order to satisfy the public and prevent a riot. This he did not do: so much the worse for me, but so much the worse, also, for him and all those who encouraged him."

In response to McFarland's challenge.

McFarland, on hearing this, said that Jacquelin agrees to race next Sunday afternoon, but declines to stand anything and will not race unless the cost of his training is paid by the challenger.

McFarland, on hearing this, said that Jacquelin was doubtless joking and he ridiculed the idea that he should pay 300 francs to the t match.

"I am willing to risk from 500 to 1,500 francs on my chances, but he is not willing to support his by engaging trainers ing to support his by engaging trainers even."

McFarland concluded by repeating that his challenge would stand open until tonight. In default of an opportunity to use the track, the race will be run on the Municipal track.

Writing as to the action of M. Desgrange, which has aroused the indignation of all racing men, Le Veloe says:

"His action is absolutely unjustifiable. Nothing could be an adequate motive for such an expulsion. What makes the case so serious is the fact that it applies to foreign racing men, who give an element of international interest, without which the sport cannot exist. Is this the way to encourage them or their compatriots to return? What if similar treatment were inflicted upon Jacquelin abroad?"

Le Veloe adds that M. Desgrange has decided to close the Parc des Princes until 1901.

When the rest became sick we began to take the Dr. Kay's Renovator and took it three times a day all through and escape. Praise the Lord! May the Lord bless you in all things and spare you many days to help in building up the Redeemer's kingdom on earth. We think your Dr. Kay's Renovator a God-send."

Thousands of people have fevers which might easily be prevented by a few doses

taken at the proper time This remedy is entirely harmless and you can take no chances by tryingit, but on the contrary, you will prevent fevers and other sickness by taking it in time. Take a few doess when your appetite ih poor or if your food distresses you or you have headache, tired feeling, poor digestion, sideache or backache or when you are nervous. A few doses taken promptly for any of the every day ills will at once revive your appetite and prevent a long run of sickness. No not fail to keep it constantly on hand and your doctors' bills will be very small in the future.

Don't take any substitute that anybody tells you is just as good, for it positively has no equal. If you can't get it at druggists send the price direct to Dr. B. J. Kay Medical Co., Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and it will be sent prepaid by return mail-also ask for free advice, free sample and free book.
