MISSOURIANS DEFEAT OMAHA

Brawn of Tarkio Players Surpasses High School Science.

PLUCKY OMAHA LADS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Succeed in Holding Their Heavier Opponents Down to Single Touchdown—Secrist and Lehmer Suffer Painful Injuries.

The Omaha High school foot ball team was defeated by Tarkio College, one of the strongest teams in the middle west, Monday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. The heavy rains made the Ames avenue park look like an aquarium. The ground was soft and a veritable lake of water two to three inches deep covered the last end. Tarkio made all her gains by line bucks, in which by reason of their superior weight and the slippery condition of the field, the college boys made long advances. The High school lads on the other hand played a plucky game against the brawn of their antagonists and showed up in as good form as they did last Friday, when they defeated Dunlap by 5 to 0.

Tarkio won the toss and chose the west goal, thus placing Omaha in the lake to defend their goal. This proved a great disadvantage to them as the opposing giants could more easily slide them back for good gains. The college boys played one of the cleanest games ever witnessed on the local grounds with the exception of Murchie, who slugged occasionally.

Those worthy of individual mention for Tarkio were Nicoll and Graham; for Omaha, Tracy, Fairbrother, Griffith and especially Standeven, whose wonderful tackling gained much applause.

Tracy kicked off to Tarkio's twenty-yard line. By furious line bucking the college boys slid the ball across the slippery ground to Omaha's twenty-five-yard line, where the High school made a gallant stand and by means of Standeven's excellent tackling gained the ball on downs. Tracy made a sensational forty-yard, right-end run, Fairbrother gained ten yards by double pass around left end and Standeven lost five yards by slipping with the ball. Tracy punted for twenty yards. Tarkio gained twenty-five yards by line bucks and an end run. Nicollthen found an opening in the line and with a clear field before him gained thirty yards. Tracy tackled him, but missed and fell into the puddle. Engelhardt had better success and landed his man. Line bucks for twenty yards to a touchdown and goal kicked gave Tarkio their first and only score.

Tracy kicked off to Tarkio, who advanced the ball ten yards. Line bucks netted thirty yards. A college man was laid out in the middle of the puddle. Tarkio fumbled but recovered and bucked the line for forty yards to Omaha's ten-yard line. Secrist laid out completely. Omaha's ball on offside play. Time called on High school's fifteen-yard line. Score, 6 to 0.

Tarkio kicked off to Fairbrother, who failed to advance the pigskin. End runs by Tracy and Fairbrother netted five yards. Lehmer fainted dead away. Tracy punted for twenty yards. Murchie atempted to catch the ball, but fumbled. Fairbrother, after a sensational run, fell on the oval. The umpire claimed the ball for Tarkio, but referee objected. Tarkio refused to play unless the ball was given to them, to which the High school failed to agree. Game called off with ball in center of field. Score, 6 to 0 in favor of Tarkio.

Medics Defeat Crete.

CRETE, Neb., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The foot ball eleven of the Lincoln Medical college met the Crete High school team at Crete October 20. The game was played at the Crete Athletic park before a large number of spectators. Although the Crete High school lost the game by a score of 5 to 0 in favor of the Lincoln team, yet in some respects the game was almost as good as a victory for Crete. The Crete High school team only average 128 pounds, the eleven being formed of boys between the ages of 15 and 18, while the Lincoln team averaged 163 pounds and was made up of fully grown men.

At no time during the game were the Medics able to make over ten yards and very seldom made a five-yard gain.

Tie Game Played.

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Table Rock and Humboldt foot ball teams had a sharp contest on the home gridiron Saturday afternoon and the result was a draw, neither side scoring. Billings, one of the Table Rock players, was knocked insensible in the last half and for a time it was feared he was seriously injured. Grinstead of the home team was also badly hurt. The High school team also played at Pawnee City Saturday afternoon with a similar organization and this game resulted like the one above, without a score for either side.

Hot Game at Deadwood.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—A game of foot ball was played Saturday in this city between elevens from the Spearfish Normal and the Deadwood High school. The score stood 7 to 0 in favor of the Deadwood team. During the game Hugh Moulton of the Deadwood team had a leg broken and was otherwise severely injured. George Parker also had a limb injured. The game was the finest one ever played in the Black Hills.

PRINCIPALS READY FOR FRAY

Bout Between Smith and Gardner Will Be Witnessed by Considerable Number of Outside Guests.

Oscar Gardner, the pugilist, who is to meet Haich Smith at Washington hall Wednesday night, arrived in the city from the east yesterday and, accompanied by his wife and manager, is stopping at the Millard. Gardner's return to Omaha at this time is his first visit in many years and he expresses himself as more than glad to get back to his old stamping grounds, for it was here that he began his pugilistic career.

Jimmy Bardell, official referee at Tattersalls, who is to referee the fight Wednesday night, is also in the city. He is accompanied by a dozen Chicago sporting men, who have come out to witness the inauguration of sport in Omaha once more. There will be large delegations from all the surrounding cities, Manager Farrish having already made reservations for parties from Lincoln, Des Moines, St. Joseph and Sioux City.

FIRST DAY AT NEW TRACK

Charentus Surprises Talent by Winning Empire City Handicap at Long Odds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A big crowd turned out for the opening day's racing of the inaugural meeting of the Empire City Jockey club at Yonkers today. The track was lightning fast, a new world's record for a mile and a quarter over a circular track of 2:04 being hung up by Charentus in the Empire City handicap. This race was the feature of the day. Seven horses faced the starter, with Imp the favorite at 5 to 5 and Decanter second choice at 7 to 2. They were off on the first break to a good start and Imp and Potente made the running head and head for a mile, when Imp drew away and showed the way around the far turn and into the stretch by an open length. Potente dropped back between and Decanter and Charentus challenged. The latter gradually crept up to even terms with the mare at the last furlong pole and a hard drive to the wire followed, Charentus winning by a short head, Pink Coat raced through in the stretch and took show money a length behind Imp.

ROOSEVELT IN HIS OWN STATE

New Yorkers Welcome the Governor with Vast Assemblages.

BRYANITE HOODLUMS ROASTED TO A TURN

Popocratic Shouters at Newburg After Attempting to Break Up Meeting Sneak Off Like Cowardly Curs.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Governor Roosevelt finished the first day of his state campaign at Kingston today after traveling eighty-nine miles and making eight speeches, the longest being at Newburg and Kingston. At Newburg he talked to a vast assemblage, having to speak in two places. Spectators interrupted the speaker with questions, in every instance receiving a reply. At West Nyack a man close to the car cried and reiterated, "Hurrah for Bryan!" and Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"Why don't you hurrah for Altgeld and Aguinaldo?"

Another called: "What about the ice trust?" and he answered: "This election will be decided by the patriots and men of sense in this country, who outnumber the jonker shouters of your type. The ice trust will be attended to in a proper legal way."

A man in the crowd at Newburg said in a low tone of voice: "Why did you call democrats cowards and dishonest?" Roosevelt heard him and flung back quickly this characteristic reply: "It's a lie. I never said such a thing. It is democrats, good democrats, who swell our majority."

Sizzling Rejoinders by Roosevelt.

Toward the end of his remarks at Newburg the governor was interrupted a number of times by some shouts of "What's the matter with Bryan?" "Down with trusts!"

Governor Roosevelt remarked: "That gentleman has all the symptoms of a Bryanite," which sally was greeted with laughter and applause. Then walking over to one side of the platform and speaking directly toward the point from which the shouts arose the governor said:

"You look like one of those men who work exclusively with their mouths. What do you mean to do with the cotton bale trust of Mr. Jones or the ice trust of Mr. Croker?" (cries of "What's the matter with Bryan?" "He's all right!")

"That is an argument of wind!" (Great applause.)

"You are afraid to hear the truth. You interrupt this meeting because you are a hoodlum and nothing else. You represent the class that is naturally against us. You represent those people who not only object to prosperity, but don't get any of it because you won't work. (Applause.) Now go back to your fellow hoboes and learn after this (more yelling and the man evidently turned to depart) that you have not a particle of patriotism in you. I am glad you are going away. I think you have learned enough not to monkey with the buzzsaw. (Long continued applause.)

"Now, gentlemen, in the temporary absence of the local police I have driven off that disturber."

At Newburg the governor was entertained at Mr. Odell's house.

As the governor stepped forward after being introduced he was presented with a dinner pail filled with farm produce of various kinds. The governor said:

"This is what Mr. Bryan calls an assorted argument," and noticing that it was wrapped around with an American flag he continued: "Now, gentlemen, I want to call your attention to one fact—they have presented me with a full dinner pail and the American flag." (Applause.) He then proceeded to say:

I come here to appeal to you, no matter what may have been your political affiliations in the past, to appeal to you as Americans, as honest men, as good citizens, to support William McKinley. (Applause.)

I appeal to every man who is sensitive as to the good name of the state and nation to support us when we stand against Bryanism and against that local form of Bryanism—Crokerism. (Applause.) I appeal to both republicans and democrats, mind you, because the principles of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Croker have nothing in common with democracy, as democracy was understood in the days of Jefferson and Andrew Jackson. Jefferson laid it down as a rule that the art of good government was the art of being honest. How would Tammany Hall feel if that principle was read and appealed to its organization? Tammany Hall, which has reduced the government of New York City to a byword and a hissing, is grasping for the government of New York state and I appeal to every democrat whose loyalty to Jefferson and Jackson is a loyalty of the heart and, not of words, I appeal to every democrat north of the Harlem to see to it that his party is not prostituted as it has been prostituted south of the Harlem.

HOODLUM CROWD AT NIGHT

Bryan Admirers Attempt to Silence Roosevelt and Are Summarily Squelched.

The city began its reception to Governor Roosevelt by sending 700 persons on a special train to Newburg to meet Governor Roosevelt's party. There was a great crowd at the depot. The interest was so great that three meetings at different places were held. Each was packed at 8 o'clock. The three halls failed to hold the people and an outdoor meeting was made necessary.

Governor Roosevelt in his speech at the Academy devoted himself to the same issues as those he spoke on in Newburg and Haverstraw. He took up some of Mr. Bryan's statements in the state with more specificness, particularly the one in which Mr. Bryan said if elected to the office he would crush out every private monopoly. He said: "Why, that would mean crushing out every business and doing away with a man's revenue on a patent. Mr. Bryan could not do such a thing and he is dishonest when he says he would."

Relating to the trust, he said:

No one with common sense desires the destruction of capital. Every reasonable man believes that overgrown corporations should be subjected to rigid supervision. Mr. Bryan's declared remedy for the destruction of the industries concerned would bring down in the common ruin employer and employe. Mr. Bryan favors the destruction of the sugar refining and the sugar beet and the cane sugar growing industries of the United States by the introduction of free foreign sugar into this country. It would probably harm the corporation he desires to destroy. It would also destroy every man who raises sugar beets or sugar cane or works in a sugar refinery.

A man in the audience cried, "Three cheers for Bryan!" but instead of the usual attack the governor smiled and said: "Why?" and the man subsided. Later someone asked, "What about the canals?"

"I did not catch that," said the governor.

"It's only a kid," said another man.

"Well, I have six of those," said the governor amidst a roar of laughter, "and they are not a cause of contention."

Outside of the Young Men's Christian association a stand had been erected, around which was a large concourse of people and the governor spoke a few words there before proceeding to the opera house, where he was booked for his third speech. As the governor climbed through a window and appeared on the temporary platform he was greeted with a mingling of cheers and hisses and hurrahs for Bryan and hurrahs for Roosevelt. The governor stated that he hoped good would be done even to those upon whom the light had not yet shone. This was greeted with renewed cries of "Hurrah for Bryan!" "Three cheers for Bryan!"

The governor had gone on without noticing the interruptions, but it continuing he finally said:

There are some whom we cannot reach. Any man who thinks noise is a substitute for thought cannot be appealed to. (Great applause mingled with shouts of "Hurrah for Bryan.") And naturally feels like going the other way. (Great applause.) I appeal to every man to be a brave and honest man. When men will not listen to arguments you can guarantee that they represent a pretty poor set. (Great applause.) When men are afraid to hear the truth they are certain not to be good citizens. (Applause.) I appeal to every decent citizen to vote against the party that encourages that kind of rowdyism. Rebuke rowdyism of that stamp. They are giving you an admirable object lesson in Bryanism. I will tell you, gentlemen, another thing. They had better shout now, for they won't shout after election. They have added to my amusement tonight. (Laughter and applause.)

A voice: "I feel sorry for you, Teddy."

"Do right, gentlemen, with an element in your midst who objects to decent government—"

A voice: "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan."

Suppose you give a cheer for Croker or Aguinaldo. Naturally, gentlemen, they object to a meeting being held. Any man, republican or democrat, who will come to a meeting and listen respectfully is entitled to respectful treatment and any such man is the man who is insulted and outraged by the kind of attack. Nothing that you could say would be as strong an argument for our party as such conduct as that tonight. (Applause.) The people who will do that sort of thing are unfit to be entrusted with any kind of government. (Applause.) They are a disgrace to their fellow townsmen and if they were capable of feeling they are a disgrace to themselves. (Applause.)

The governor closed by stating that he had stayed longer than he had intended, as he found the noisy gentlemen so interesting.

HANNA TO NEGRO VOTERS

Campaign Manager Addresses Great Crowd at Chicago on Issues at Stake.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A crowd of 3,000 negro voters listened to an address tonight by Senator M. A. Hanna at the First regiment armory. The senator was very hoarse, as a result of his campaigning in the west, but nevertheless he succeeded in making himself heard. He spoke briefly and his remarks were at all times greeted with applause. He said:

There never was a time when those whose citizenship came with the birthday of the republican party had greater cause to rejoice. The negro troops are always in line and ready for action. As long as the republican party is true to the principles which attracted to it the negro population of the United States the negro vote will never be divided.

All the collateral issues injected into this campaign by the Bryanites have been for the sole purpose of bewildering and leading public opinion astray as to what was the real issue. When it comes down to what we are most interested in it amounts to just on issue and one short sentence tells it "Let well enough alone." No man who loves his country, no man who is proud of his citizenship, no man who cares for his own material interests can have more than one choice upon that question. Today we are in the midst of the greatest era of prosperity that this country ever knew, but it is nothing more than the natural condition of a nation having, as we have, the greatest natural resources of any, the greatest people of any, full of industry, ingenuity and progress. It is for the people to decide whether these conditions shall continue.

TALKS IN DRENCHING RAIN

Stevenson Ladies Out Usual Popocratic Hash at Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 22.—Adlai E. Stevenson arrived here from Chicago at 1:30 p. m. and an hour later addressed an open air meeting in Campau square. A drizzling rain began to fall a few minutes before he appeared on the platform, which soon drove to shelter all except a few hundred persons, who were within immediate hearing of his voice. Mr. Stevenson took the ground that President McKinley would not have exceeded bounds of international diplomacy by intervening in behalf of the Boers any more than Cleveland did in the stand he took in behalf of Venezuela and expressed the opinion that the effect upon England would have been the same and that there would have been no South African war.

Mr. Stevenson went to Muskegon for an evening's meeting and returned to take the midnight train for Petoskey. He will spend three days in Michigan.

Gives Up Senatorial Ambition.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 22.—Colonel Alfred Moore Waddell, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Marion Butler, today announced his withdrawal from the race. The contest is now between Democratic State Chairman Simons and General Julian S. Carr of Durham. Colonel Waddell's withdrawal practically insures a choice of the people in the first primary.

JUDGE GORDON'S TRIAL OPENS

Defense Offered is Lack of Jurisdiction and Want of Sufficiency in the Charges.

Judge Dickinson is sitting in Judge Baker's court to hear the impeachment trial against Police Judge Gordon, and Judge Estelle occupies the bench in Judge Dickinson's court. The Gordon impeachment case opened yesterday in the criminal court room. The defense is represented by C. C. Wright and A. W. Jefferis. The entire forenoon was spent in the argument of a demurrer to the charges and specifications, in which both the jurisdiction of the court and the sufficiency of the charges to constitute a cause of action are denied. The argument during the morning hours related to the sufficiency of the charges, Attorney Wright contending that the charges could not be stronger than the specifications that sustained them, and that the latter failed to set up any specific allegations of fraud or corruption. They comprise general charges of corruption and encouragement of criminality, and point out specific acts that might be shown to be errors of judgment, but there is no specific act of corruption shown.

In the afternoon Attorney Jefferis presented a theory of his own in denial of the jurisdiction of the court. It is to the effect that the district court is not the tribunal to try the police judge on charges of impeachment, which should be done by the legislature, he being under the constitution of the state a state officer.

Mr. Connell, city attorney, spoke but a short time and emphasized the fact that although the police judge is elected in the fall rather than in the spring when other city officers are named, he is clearly a municipal officer and is paid out of the city funds. He maintained that it is absurd to contend that a police judge is a state officer and is answerable only to the legislature. Judge Dickinson took the matter under advisement until Wednesday morning.

STIRRING UP CLASS FEELING

Mr. Bryan Devotes a Day to Arraying Man Against Man in Politics.

MAKES AN ESPECIAL APPEAL TO NEGROES

Lays Himself Out to Arouse Race Prejudice and Makes All Manner of Promises to the White Coal Miners.

HINTON, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The line of Chesapeake & Ohio railroad traversing the picturesque valleys of the Big Kanawha and New rivers was the scene of Mr. Bryan's campaign today. Speeches were made at Huntington, Hurricane, St. Albans, Charleston, Brownston, East Bank, Montgomery, Swell, Thurmond and Hinton. The size of the audience varied, but all of them were large in proportion to the population of the towns and of the surrounding country. The notable feature of the day was Bryan's repeated reference to the rate question. His line of travel was further south than he had gone before and further than he will go and there was quite a number of colored people scattered through the crowds at all the stopping places. Mr. Bryan appealed to them to do justice by the Filipinos as they would have justice done by themselves. The first point at which he touched upon this question was at St. Albans. There he said:

In the Philippine islands they are going on the theory that the brown people there have no right to a voice in their government and when a republican tells a black man in this country that he ought to vote the republican ticket I want the black man to ask him this question: "If a brown man in the Philippines has no right to a voice in his government, what about the black man?" The colored man has bestowed presidencies on the republican party and received janitorships in return. I want the colored men before they vote the republican ticket to know that the policy of the republican party is to send a few white men to the Philippines and hold those white men in authority over 99 per cent of brown men, and this is to be done by a standing army. I want the Filipino to have his own flag and his own government and to work out his own destiny and I want this nation to stand by him and keep his hands off. "Let the republic live."

Declaration of Independence.

At Charleston he said:

Forty years ago the republicans said that a black man should not sell for $1,000, but they will now buy brown men by the job lot for $2.50 apiece. They said a generation ago that the Declaration of Independence applied to a black man. Now they say it does not apply to a brown man. It cost us hundreds of thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of money to take out of the Declaration of Independence the exception clause that excluded the black man. Now, shall we wage a war of conquest to write in the Declaration of Independence another exception clause excluding the brown man?

Mr. Bryan also referred to the race question in other speeches.

In his speech at Brownstown Mr. Bryan referred to the campaign of 1896 and said he had not been dismayed at the result of the election of that year because he believed the democrats were working on right principles and the republicans on wrong principles and that if this was the case the problem would work out right.

At Eastbank Mr. Bryan said: "I am glad that behind me I have those who demand equal rights and do not ask special privileges if I am elected. I am glad that I have not behind me the trust magnates, for if I am elected I do not want them to hang about the White House and tell me how they elected me and therefore claim that they own me. I have no desire to help you to get your hands into other people's pockets. If I can keep other people's hands out of your pockets I will do all you want me to do for the laboring man."

Denies Existence of Prosperity.

At Montgomery Mr. Bryan declared that "the boasted prosperity of the republican party was confined to a small section of the country."

Mr. Bryan spoke to a congregation composed largely of coal miners at the little mountain town of Sewell. He told the people there that the democratic party stood for the arbitration of labor disputes and for a representative of labor in the cabinet. When some one asked him what he would do for the old soldiers if elected, he replied that he would appoint a commissioner of pensions who would be more satisfactory than the present one.

After the train started to move in leaving Sewell a man, apparently very much in earnest, demanded to know about Mr. Bryan's attitude toward the ratification of the Paris treaty. Mr. Bryan had the train stopped and made a full explanation of his action and position in that matter. When this explanation had been concluded the same man asked about the expenditure of $20,000,000 in procuring the Philippine islands. To this inquiry Mr. Bryan answered:

"If you had read an article that I wrote about a month before the treaty was signed you would have learned that we could get it back from the Filipinos in return for liberty."

"Friend of the Workingman."

The meeting at Thurmond was in a gorge in the mountains and the stand from which Mr. Bryan spoke was perched on a cliff. He was introduced by General St. Clair as "peculiarly the candidate of the workingman." His audience was composed largely of coal miners and in closing Mr. Bryan asked them to remember that their votes were their own. He warned them against allowing themselves to be intimidated or their votes purchased.

The meeting at Hinton was the last of the day and when it was concluded Mr. Bryan left for Washington enroute for Maryland, to which state he will devote tomorrow. Mr. Bryan made a general speech at this point. When some one asked him about the necessity for a large army in this country he said that if the democratic plans for the settlement of disputes by arbitration, for doing away with the blacklist and for the abolishment of government by injunction could be put into execution there would be no necessity for a large army. The crowd was not only large, but was demonstrative. There were a number of shouts for McKinley at the beginning of the meeting.
