The free scholarship contest has started in earnest. Only seven names appear on the list today, but a large number of oth-ers have entered the race and it promises to be exciting until the finish, December 3. The offer to give away ten free scholar-ships in the famous International Corre-spondence schools of Scranton, Pa., the largest school in the world, employing nearly 250 teachers and instructors, with students in all parts of the world, has never been equalled in Omaha. The ten lucky contestants will be given an oppor-tunity to get a college effucation at home without cost. Text books, drawing out-fits, electrical apparatus, all furnished free with each course. Save the coupons, fet scholce. Following is the list to date: Emma Rood, care Telephone Exchange. 212 F. W. Bartling, Nebraska City, Neb., 184 B. E. Mueller, Fisher and Lowrie, Pax-B. E. Announcements of the Theaters.

A rare treat is in store for the crowds of women and children who attend the Syrup of Figs family matinee at the Orpheum today. Individually or collectively the acts on the bill make a splendid matinee offering and the usual full house is expected.

A bargain matinee performance will be Bromo Quinine given at Boyd's this afternoon by "The Schnefer's Great Northwest" company. The "Great Northwest" is a melodrama full of thrilling climaxes and startling denounments. - A prairie fire scene, a blizzard, a duel and a thrilling swing from a windmill are strong situations shown. From a scenic standpoint the piece is elaborate. Tonight closes the engagement. Tomorrow night Clay Clement opens in "The New Do minion" for an engagement that will terminute with the week.
