Funeral of William E. Clarke. The funeral services of William E. Clarke, who died Monday morning, were held at the home of his father, Hou-Henry T. Clarke, in this city Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and was attended by a large number of Omaha, Lincoln and Sarpy county friends. The services, conducted by Rev. Dr. Mackay of All Saints church and Rev. Dr. Reilly of St. Matthias church, were complete and impressive Only the immediate members of the family attended the interment at Forest Lawn. The palibearers were: Messrs. Fred White and J. E. Houtze of Omaha and Lou Marshall, William Morrison, Robert Joyce, Cy

Smith and Matt Baldwin of Lincoln. Mr. Clarke was born in Believue, Neb. November 18, 1867. For the greater part of his business career he was identified with the H. T. Clarke Drug company in Lincoln and Omaha as a large stockholder and of-Subsequently he acquired a large ranch and feeding farm in Butler county, where he lived until the last two years. He returned to his home this summer after traveling in search of health for a year and a half in Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and California. He was a quiet, earnest young man who made firm friendships and who stood high in the regards of all his associates. His friends were legion.

$25,000 STOCK OF UNDERWEAR GUERNSEY LOSES HIS HOUSE

One Carted It Away Bodily Without Obtaining His Permission to Do So.

C. H. Guernsey, whose home is at 2214 Lake street, Council Bluffs, called at the police station vesterday and wanted a man AT BOSTON STORE, OMAHA arrested for the grand larceny of a house. He owned a little three-roomed cottage out at Twenty-eighth and Fort streets, property which had been without a tenant for several months. Yesterday he went out to look at it and was surprised to find the lot

The cellar was there and so was the well. but the house was gone.

In the yard, extending in a northwesterly direction, were broad, deep tracks similar to these made by the wheels of a house mover's trucks. He followed these a quarter of a mile and found that they led up to a large woodpile in the back yard of Daniel Stout. The wood in this pile was cut to stove lengths. It was also made up largely of old pine, dressed and painted, would be a bargain at $10.00, today's price full of nail holes, covered with dried only $4.98. plastering and bearing marks of the carcenter's saw and plane.

Stout denies, however, that he chopped up Mr. Guernsey's castle. He says the stitching around bottom, 6-inch facing, wood in that pile was bought of the Chicago Wrecking company and that it came from the razed buildings on the exposition grounds. He remembers seeing the Guernsey mansion come racking down over the hillside some ten days ago, but avers that passed his premises and disappeared in the distance. It was drawn by four horses.
