DECENT FOR ONE DAY AT LEAST

Democracy of New York Allows Roosevelt serted that it was done at a time when it to Speak Unmolested.

Fourth Day of Governor's Campaign in Empire State Results in Immense Crowds Especially at Syracuse and Auburn.

SYRACUSE, No. Y., Oct. 25 .- The closing speeches of an arduous day in the Roosevelt campaign were made at Auburn and Syracuse, after jumps through widely divergent counties. Altogether it was a favorable day, for although in Auburn and Syracuse there were several interruptions, the questions and answers were rather in a good natured form and there was no friction which indicated a desire on the part of either questioner or answerer to enter into a personal controversy.

At Syracuse thousands of people thronged the streets. The Auditorium, where the Auburn. speech making was held, and the square where the outside meeting took place were both much too small to accommodate veit. In Auburn three meetings had to be held to accommodate the people. At this terruptions of the day occurred. The governor had started at the first meeting on the time it was light enough for anybody to an exposition of the trust question. During his remarks a man in the upper gallery said: "Hurrah for Bryan!"

"Why?" retorted the governor, squaring himself toward the place from whence the ery came and pausing for a reply, which was not made. "He does not know," said the governor, smiling. "It means just about that grade of intelligence."

Inbles Tuened on Bryan.

The governor said, referring to the question of expansion: "In this city Mr. Bryan actually dared to appeal to the memory of Beward. i wonder, well, I don't wonder at Mr. Bryan, but under any other conditions I would wonder at any other man making that appeal and forgetting one of the greatest services Mr. Seward rendered this country took Alaska and expanded without the consent of the governed there-" "How about Metcalf?" came an interruption.

'Metcalf," said the governor in a puzgled tone, and then remembering that Mr. Metcalf was president of the D. M. Osborne machine shops and had threatened to shut down if Bryan was elected, he said: "Metcalf is all right. If Mr. Bryan was half as right he would be fortunate."

"How about the canals?" came from the gallery before the governor could proceed. by the speaker to Mr. Bryan, to the effect "I will answer you once for all," said the governor: "do you mean in this state?" Yes;" came the reply back.

"I want, in the first place," continued Mr. Roosevelt, "to express my thanks to the members of the Syracuse police department for the courtesy and efficiency they have shown. I want to thank them, and therefore the democratic municipal authorities, for the care they have taken to see that there should be no disorder, no improper conduct. Now, I have to go in and speak in the hall and I only want to say that I am immensely impressed by this wonderful outpouring.'

The governor's party and the police then formed themselves into what a foot ball player would call a flying wedge and succeeded in reaching the hall.

More Cracks for Ice Trust.

The governor talked for an hour, touching most of the issues involved, but dwellmostly on the same lines as he has spoken before on these issues. In speaking of the trust question he said in part:

Now, there is a trust here in New York—the ice trust. I have no question but that the great bulk of the people who have gone into the lee trust went in as investors, just as they would in any other corporation whose shares were floated on the market.
What I want to call attention to and to emphasize is the uttter insincerity, the base hypocrisy of men like Mr. Croker, who denounce trusts in general in far more sween. hypocrisy of men like Mr. Croker, who de-nounce trusts in general in far more sweep-ing terms than 1 because I intend to make my words good by deeds when the time comes who dehoused trusts as an unmitt-gated evil and then become the most prom-inent stockholders in a trust that has caused more indignation than any other in this state.

I cannot tell you—nobody can tell you—whether the courts will decide that that trust is an illegal monopoly and can be dissolved under the statutes. I cannot say anything about that any more than, sitting as I do in my judicial capacity. I could say without any evidence before me whether any official was guilty or innocent because of his connection with that trust. In each case the decision will be so by the courts; it will be so in my case; and whether a man is a democrat or a republican will not is a democrat or a republican will no weigh that (snapping his fingers) with me

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25 .- Governor Roosevelt's first stop today was at Camden, Oneida county, the home of Attorney General Davies. The day began with a heavy fog over the country and Mr. Roosevelt made his first speech very brief, fearing to injure his voice.

At Watertown the governor took up the questions of militarism, alluding to the fact that Sackett's Harbor, a few miles distant, was a great army post and saying that, if acting under Mr. Bryan's theory, it was

He said that he understood that at the ongressman from this district the post had lately been enlarged and, to his mind, that country when under his guidance this was sufficient evidence; that instead of being scared at Mr. Bryan's bugaboo of a menacing standing army, the people were glad to see the posts increased.

> Defends the Army. He also called attention to the fact that Colonel Liscum, who was killed in China, and his gallant regiment of men, the Ninth, were from this vicinity and asserted that certainly no man who had any respect for the flag or any love for its valorous defenders would agree with statements attributed that the officers and men of the army were looters, ravishers and murderers. The governor took up the question of the pros-

"Not much, we won't," smilingly said the governor. Bryan's Lame Pretense.

Yesterday Mr. Bryan at last was goaded into making a pretense of answering a question as to whether, if elected, he would pay pensioners and other national creditors in gold or in silver. I use the word pretense advisedly, for the answer is an evasion pure and simple, an evasion, moreover, so palpable and so weak that it is astounding that any candidate for the highest office in the gift of the nation should have been willing to resort to it. He said: "I want the republicans who want that question answered to first find what the law requires and then I will have them to know that if elected president I will enforce that law just the same as I will enforce the law against trusts and put striped clothes on hig thieves as well as on little thieves. But if you ask me to construe a republican law I will reply that I shall not construe a law until it becomes my duty to enforce it."

This, of course, amounts merely to saying that Mr. Bryan will not state what he will do until after election. lest that statement should impair his chance of election. The whole point at issue is how the law shall be construed. We contend that it is to be construed that the nation shall pay its obligations in gold. In other words, we are for the gold standard, and exactly as I championed it in Colorado. Mr. Bryan's position was the same as theirs and this position had at least the merit of being entitled to the respect that can be wrong-mits him to pay the debt of the nation in silver. Bryan said:

The republican party says everything is right, that the farmer is happy, that the laborer has a full dinner pall and that no-body ought to complain of political conditions. Our reply is, all right. Let every man who is satisfied with his condition, who believes he is enjoying his fair share of the carth's blessings and the government's protection, who thinks that things are all right vote the republican ticket. I am perfectly content to draw the line and let those who think that there is no necessity for better things vote the republican ticket if I can have the votes of those who believe things can be made better by better laws.

Speaking of republican appeals to the laboring classes Mr. Bryan said it was an insult to the laboring man to assume that he needed nothing more than a full dinuer pail and Mr. Bryan said he believed the laboring man fully understood this situation. His position was that the laboring man could not be considered well to do as long as he was unable to send his children to school and had to keep them in the factories to help to make a living. "Under the present conditions," he said, "the laborer is receiving and retaining every year less and less of the wealth he creates, but the men who speculate in that wealth are accumulating fortunes that are a menace to the independence of the citizen."

Mr. Bryan said:

Mr. Bryan said:

I am almost afraid to suggest the remedy down here, for if we succeed in squeezing the water out of the New Jersey corporations you will have a tidal wave greater than that at Galveston. You will have a flood for a while, but you will have honest corporations afterward.

Why should corporations organized in New Jersey be permitted to prey on the whole country? Why should a corporation organized in this state be permitted to enter into interstate commerce until it first shows that it is going out to do a legitimate business and not geing out as a highwayman? I believe if you will provide, first, that a corporation shall have the water squeezed out and, second, that it shall show that it is not trying to monopolize any branch of business and then provide for a revocation of the license if the conditions are violated. I believe you could destroy every private monopoly engaged in interstate commerce and prevent the creation of new ones.

Members of Presbyterian Synod Missouri Refuse to Denounce Army Canteen System.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 25 .- A resolution

A MISERABLE MAN.

Two Years and Six Months

Sleep seems to be in many cases a matter of habit, just as eating and drinking are habits. The Arab whose desert life leads to abstemiousuese, declines the offer of a draught of water, saying, "No thank you, I drank yesterday." He drinks only when thirsty, and like his own camels, he can go long and far without water. It's much the same with sleep. When is that catarrh in its commonest or simplest form is a menace not merely to health but to life. Catarrh of the lungs is but a step removed from con-sumption. Catarrhal affections should refore never be neglected. They are as dangerous as they are offensive. "For twelve years I was a sufferer from catarrh and was treated by one of the best physicians in the State of North Carolina, who said the trouble had reached my lungs," writes Mr. J. M. Patton, of Clotho, Transylvania Co., N. C. "I grew worse every day until I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines. say, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Dis-

When his ansecles relaxed sufficiently to release the ball, it fell into the bowl, and the noise wakened the sleeper who resumed his work.

But it is one thing to give up sleep and another thing altogether to be unable to sleep. Those who suffer from asthma, bronchitis and other diseases of the organs of respiration are only too familiar with this enforced wakefulness. They would give almost anything for a night's unbroken rest. THE SECRET OF SLEEP for them lies in the cure of the diseases which banish slumber. That this cure is possible is abundantly proven by those who have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of bronchitis, obstinate and deep-scated coughs, lung "trouble" and other diseases of the organs of respiration. "I can this day say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best and only remedy I have ever found for what the doctors call asthma," writes Mr. F. G. Rodemeyer, of 45 Hayden Street, Port Wayne, Ind. "I have suffered from hay-fever (and I get the asthma with it), every year in August and September for the last fifteen years, and could not sleep one night during that time, until this year, I have no lost one night's sleep, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; and best of all I did not get the asthma the hay-fever, and I only used two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

The cures accomplished by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" are as numerous as they are wonderful great triumphs of this medicine have een won in the cure of chronic diseases of many years standing. When every other medicine had failed to do more than give tempory relief, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made a perfect and permanent cure.

covery with one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cured me, and to-day I am well and hearty, and I will say further that my former physician, Dr. W. M. Lyday, recommends Dr. Pierce's medicine to me and to others. I am sure your medicines will cure any case catarrh that exists. I recommend them to all."

By purifying the blood and increas-ing the activity of the blood-making glands "Golden Medical Discovery strengthens every organ of the body. Accepting the fact that the blood is the life, it follows that the healthfulness of the physical life will depend upon the healthfulness of the blood, and that a deficient supply of blood must result in a deficiency of physical strength. "Golden Medical Discovery" gives health and strength by increasing the quantity and improving the quality of the blood. The evidence of this lies in the marked gain in weight experienced by those who have become emaciated by those who have become emaciated by wasting disease, and who have been cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery." It is not a gain of flabby fat, but a gain of sound flesh and firm muscle, and with this gain of flesh and muscle comes a gain of strength, which seeks a new outlet for itself in active exercise. The frequent testimony, "It has made a new man of me," thoroughly expresses the real rejuvenation which comes to those cured by the use of

"Golden Medical Discovery."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." No so-called "just as good" medicine can compare with the "Discovery" when its record of cures is considered.
