ENGINEERING SCHOOL

The Northwestern School of Engineering.

Day and Night Class. The name indicates its purpose. The Northwestern School of Engineering has been established to meet the rapidly increasing demand for men especially trained in the science of Electricity. It is a workshop for practice in everything pertaining to electricity. The system of instruction is in the highest degree PRACTICAL. Nothing in theory that can be illustrated is allowed to pass without practical demonstration.

It is the aim of this school to impart such knowledge thoroughly and under conditions best suited to assure the future progress and prosperity of students. Under this system of instruction the recipient finds SUCCESS a question of personal application only.

Electrical engineers are always in demand. No other profession today offers the opportunities to young men as that of Electrical Engineering. It is to meet this demand that this school was established.

This school is under the direction of men of long practical experience in the electrical profession, thus insuring the thoroughness of the course of instruction. The school is being equipped with a laboratory provided with all modern appliances, and a machine shop of ample capacity, in addition to which will be a plant for lighting plants where students will be instructed in the operation and care of electrical and steam apparatus.

The course of instruction includes Elementary Electricity and Magnetism, Elementary Algebra and Geometry, Elementary Physics and Mechanics.

Advanced Electrical Engineering, Steam Engineering and Mechanical Drawing, Design and Construction of Electrical and Steam Machinery of all descriptions.

The installation of electrical apparatus for all purposes, including wiring for all systems and services.

The operation and care of Electrical Machinery, Organization and Management of Electrical Industries.

Diplomas will be awarded students passing the required examination. For particulars and terms, call on or address:

Parade Worth Looking At. Have you ever noticed Mr. P. C. Healy's everyday parade of fine landaus for funeral service? Well, it's worth the notice. When you consider eight pair of fine looking, well matched black horses, dressed up in the finest kind of silver-trimmed English coach harness, with all the latest ideas in workmanship, and carriages which can't be beat for comfort, as well as the finest in construction and style, every one equipped with heavy rubber tires, you can only conclude that Mr. Healy has given all these details his personal attention and takes pride in keeping everything up to the standard for his patrons. He has just purchased another pair of fine black horses and ordered a new set of English coach hand-made harness costing $250 from the well known Drummond Carriage company of this city, who have already supplied him with other harness referred to above. Nothing succeeds like success, and that is the name Mr. Healy goes by.

HAYDEN'S Greatest Clothing Values ON RECORD.

One man's loss is another man's gain. Manufacturers have suffered unusually this season.

The weather—the weather the cause—nothing else. We made the most stupendous purchase in our history. Nearly 17,000 garments at a price—of course the price tempted the purchase—a daring purchase. But we feel we've got something so out of the ordinary in clothing bargains, that the quantity will not last long enough to supply the increased demands this sale will create.

Monday, November 19, we place on sale in our great clothing department, men's and boys' finest suits and overcoats, for less than manufacturers' cost.

Men's kersey overcoats, in blue and black—they are not $4.50 overcoats, but regular $9.00 garments, at $4.50.

- Men's $12.00 oxford vicuna suits, at $6.75. Men's $10.00 worsted suits, at $5.00. Men's $18.00 H. S. and M. suits, for $10.00. Men's $15.00 vicuna overcoats, at $7.50. Men's $4.50 Fine Trousers, for $2.50. Men's $15.00 pure worsted suits, for $7.50. Men's $25.00 finest overcoats, for $15.00.

In this great purchase we have about 1,600 men's stout and slims suits and overcoats, in the very finest fabrics, on sale at $7.50 and $10.00. Worth double.

Smokers' Delight.

A large majority of smokers smoke too much and many of them are injured more or less thereby. Here is a pointer to all such that is doubt right and worth having: Before smoking take a dose of that great cold and catarrh remedy—GEM CATHARTIC POWDER—and get the most enjoyable smoke you ever had. Immediately after smoking take another dose and destroy all the ill-effects of the nicotine instantly, sweetening the breath at the same time. When you do this you can smoke all you desire without injury. Another appreciable tip is that this magic powder instantly cures from and hides the indulgence in too much alcoholic stimulation. Many men know and do this to their evaluating advantage in both health and peace. A bottle of Gem Cathartic Powder is conveniently carried in the vest pocket and is very pleasant to take. Give it a trial. One size only—50c at druggists—but buy it at our store for 25c.
