MAYOR HAS NOT AUTHORITY

Hands Tied by Ordinance and Circumstances Against Increasing Police.

HIS ANSWER TO ALDERMAN BOYER'S PLEA Will Not Sign Sixth Street Paving Ordinance Until Courts Have Decided Legal Points That Are Now Pending.

In written communications to the city council last night Mayor Jennings gave reasons for not appointing a mounted policeman to the western portion of the city and for not signing the South Sixth street paving contract...

The number of deputy marshals was fixed by resolution of the city council in April, 1898, at three, but as the city population increased and the appropriation for the maintenance of the police and marshal's department was reduced in 1899 it was deemed better to reduce the number of deputy marshals to one, only in case of emergency...

After referring to the fact that it has not been the policy of the department to police the outlying districts of the city, for want of funds, except by special policemen serving without expense to the city, the mayor concludes as follows: From the above I think your honorable body will see that even with the concurrence of the council in the report of the committee...

Concerning the Paving Ordinance. The communication regarding his refusal to sign the Sixth street paving contract gave five reasons why he thought it best not to comply with the instructions of the council, as follows:

First—The Omaha & Council Bluffs Suburban Railway company, owning the two street railway tracks on Sixth street, does not intend to use Sixth street in the use of the street. Some months ago it began to remove its tracks, but was enjoined by the city and taxpayer from removing the same. At the present time it is still pending in the court.

Second—When the contract for the paving of Sixth street was let by the city council, the Omaha & Council Bluffs Suburban Railway company served written notice on the city council that it would not be bound by the terms of the contract for the reason that it did not intend to use said street for railway purposes and would remove its tracks as soon as it would be permitted to do so by the court.

Third—If the Omaha & Council Bluffs Suburban Railway company should have the right to remove its tracks after the pavement had been put down and assessed it might be possible that the railway company would not be required to repave the street, and in that event the city would be at an extra expense in repaving the street between the tracks twice.

Fourth—If the paving should be put down and the portion thereof should be assessed in the outside thereof should be assessed in the street, the city would be at an extra expense in repaving the street between the tracks twice.

ought to enter into any contract for the paving of said street until the question before the court are finally determined. The communications were ordered received and placed on file after Mayor Jennings had explained that he had no intention to veto the Sixth street paving contract, but only desired that the matter be delayed until the pending litigation in which the motor company is involved be out of the way.

CITY AND CAR SERVICE.

City Solicitor Wadsworth submitted his opinion as to the right of the city to compel the motor company to furnish the service demanded by residents in the south part of town living along the Manawa line. His opinion was to the effect that there is no question but that the city has a right to demand of a street car company that it run trains frequently enough to accommodate the general traveling public and with certain limitations the council would have authority to require the motor company to increase the number of trains on the part of the line asked for in the petition filed with the council in connection with the traffic would be insufficient to remunerate the motor company the courts would likely, he held, rule such a demand on the part of the city unreasonable. No action was taken on the petition and the opinion of the city solicitor was ordered placed on file.

He suspects in the Toils. James Clark, Charles Adams and Joe Kane, suspected of being members of a gang of sneak thieves, were arrested last evening by currying comb store on South Main street. Kane was found with a pair of shoes, the property of L. W. Snyder, a clerk in the First National bank, while Adams pawned an overcoat belonging to a man named Plunkett, which had been stolen from S. A. Pierce's shoe store on Broadway.

SIoux CITY, Nov. 19.—(Special Telegram)—A package containing $5,000 in money, which was supposed to come by American express from Sheldon, Ia., to Sioux City, was missing from the express car on Monday morning. The package was in a bag in a safe which was delivered at Sioux City. Two hours after the safe was received here it was discovered the money was gone. It is not known whether the money had been taken from the express car while it was en route, or whether it had been taken from the safe here.

Regulation for Minors. Colonel Hoggeland addressed the council on behalf of two ordinances which he submitted for passage. One ordinance is to prevent the incarceration of boys and girls under 18 years of age who are charged with crimes, and the other is to require the chief of police to apprehend all tramping or vagrant boys and girls who might be found loafing about railway depots or yards, places of amusement and elsewhere. Both proposed ordinances were referred to the city solicitor.

LINEMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH. Oats Brandage Killed While at Work Springing Trolley Wire.

Oats Brandage, a lineman in the employ of the motor company, living at 1437 Avenue C, died at an early hour yesterday morning at the Woman's Christian association hospital from injuries caused Sunday afternoon by a fall from the ladder car while stringing trolley wire on South Main street.

The linemen were stringing the trolley wire over the second track which the company has laid on South Main street and Brandage and Foreman E. D. Carr were standing on the top of the wire when the accident occurred. The joint gave way and the wire parted, causing the two men to lose their balance and precipitating them to the ground. Brandage is thought to have struck his head against the end of the wire when he fell, and he was unconscious and never regained consciousness before he died. Dr. Green, the attending physician at the hospital, gave it as his opinion that the base of the skull was fractured, although there were no external signs of any injury. Brandage fell on his hands and feet and escaped with a few bruises.

Coroner Freyber held an inquest yesterday afternoon at Lunkey's undertaking rooms, when the jury brought in a verdict to the effect that Brandage was killed by falling from a worktower on the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company's tracks. Brandage had been in the employ of the motor company for a number of years and was regarded as a first-class workman. He leaves a wife and one child.

WEAVER STAKES OUT A JOB

State Chairman Wants to Be Made United States Attorney.

WILL TRY TO PRY MILES OFF THE PLACE

Conference at the Capitol Yesterday to Arrange for Presenting the Claims of the Aspirant to the Patronage Cause.

DES MOINES, Nov. 19.—(Special Telegram)—H. M. Weaver, chairman of the republican state central committee, is a candidate for the office of United States attorney for the Southern Iowa district. Louis Miles of Wayne county has held the office through two administrations. He received the appointment from ex-President Harrison and then in 1887 from President McKinley. There is a feeling that the Eighth circuit district has been getting more than its share and Weaver said to have strong backing not only in the First district, but through all southern Iowa. Weaver was at the state house today, accompanied by ex-Senator Carpenter and H. G. McMillan of Cedar Rapids, attorney for the northern district. It is known that the consideration of Mr. Weaver's candidacy was the purpose of the meeting. The office pays $4,500 annually and is regarded as a big political plum. A caucus consisting of Senators Allison and Dolliver and the congressmen of the southern districts will determine who shall be recommended.

Howard Tedford of Mount Airy, state binder-elect, came to Des Moines today and closed negotiations with Lafayette Young for the purchase of his bindery plant. Mr. Tedford was undecided for some time whether to buy a plant or contract for the work. He has bought the plant of the present binder outright.

The Board of Control has received a communication from Benton county saying it will be impossible for the authorities to comply with the new regulations of the board requiring fire escapes on the county institutions where insane are kept. It is contended that the building is so constructed as to make this impossible, but the board holds that either it will be removed or insane patients will be leaving from the institution. The board found when it made an inspection before issuing the regulations that the Benton county institution was more poorly provided with means of escaping from the building than any other in the state. The authorities of Benton county also protest against the rule requiring a weekly visit of a physician, which they say is unnecessary.

GOOD ROADS THEIR THEME

Association Proposes to Labor with Congress and State Legislatures.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The convention of the Interstate Good Roads association opened today in Central Music hall, with delegates from over thirty states present. The purpose of the meeting is to effect a national organization and to bring influence to bear upon congress to secure an appropriation for the improvement of highways commensurate with the needs of the country. Committees will be appointed to work with the thirty-eight state legislatures, and also to carry the matter direct to congress.

The convention was opened by a short speech by W. H. Moore, president of the association, introducing the temporary chairman, after addresses of welcome and responses, Martin Dodge, director of the office of road inquiry, Department of Agriculture, delivered a lengthy address on the subject of good roads. At the conclusion of his address the report of Miss Harber, secretary of the Interstate Good Roads association, was read.

Charles Frantz of the National Business Men's league was chosen chairman of the convention. About 150 delegates were present when the convention was called to order. Permanent organization was effected and the various standing committees of the association appointed. It is stated by the leaders of the good roads movement that it is now practically assured that congress will make a large appropriation for the improvement of the highways of the country and one of the main objects of the convention will be to decide on the sum to be asked from congress and the designation of the main points of expenditure.

GAVE THEM A LITTLE SCARE Young Chicago Speculator Has Chicago Board A-Guessing on Corn for a While.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—November corn was quoted at a figure nearly 4 cents higher than Saturday's close soon after the opening of the Board of Trade today. It sold for a few minutes at 4 1/2 cents, a straight advance of 3/4 cent. George H. Phillips, a young speculator who came into prominence about six months ago, is said to have bought between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 bushels for this month's delivery and there are only about 1,100,000 of all grades in Chicago elevators. Fears of a bad season made an active market for a time. Later the price dropped back, however, to a point nearly level with Saturday's close. Phillips is said to have bought the bulk of his corn at between 35 and 37 cents.
