STORMY WEATHER HAS INFLUENCE

Dats and Provisions Both Dull, But Steady-Good Cash Demand for Products Assists in Sustaining Speculative Futures.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 .- Corn was again the Mg market on the Board of Trade today. It was more apparent than ever that Norember corn was covered and that option was bid up 3%c, closing that much higher. December closed %c higher. Wheat was belped a little by the corn strength, local buying causing an advance of the at the close. Oats closed a shade lower and provisions unchanged to 7%c higher.

Though opening fractionally lower wheat lid not show any particular weakness durng the first few minutes' trading, in spite of the improved weather conditions, firm ables sustaining prices. There was, however, an almost entire absence of buying rders. Local traders were not in the marset and outside support, if any was in-sended, was prevented by the demoralized cended, was prevented by the demoralized sondition of the telegraphic service, due to the storm. This fact was at once taken advantage of by the bears who raided the market vigorously and hammered the price of December down 1½c before support was given. December opened 1½c lower at 70½c, 50½c, but at that point covering by shorts was started, the demand continuing until the price had advanced to fluc. That buying apparently cleared up the short interest, as prices again sagged, with sellers in a large majority, but toward the close the strength of corn and reaewed local buying again sent prices upward the close the strength of corn and renewed local buying again sent prices upward and the best price of the day was reached shortly before the close, December louching 71½c. The close was firm at 71½f 1½c. Northwest receipts were 463 cars, against 291 last week and 634 a year ago.
Chicago receipts were 101 cars, 1 of conract grade. Total primary receipts were 178,000 bu. An excellent cash inquiry was reported, both from domestic millers and wastern exporters.

18,000 bu. An excellent cash inquiry was reported, both from domestic millers and eastern exporters.

The corn pit was full all day. Prices were irm at the opening, notwithstanding the layorable weather, which gave rise to hopes of a freer country movement. The crowd syldently thought well of the prospects and became free sellers of both May and Detember. In the meantime November, which showed an opening advance of ic, had detlined to 41½c, ½c above yesterday's price. From that point it advanced ½c at a time under bidding by scared shorts until 45c and been reached. December also turned appeared, shorts being driven in by buying by the interests controlling the November leal and during the latter part of the sestion the market showed great strength. November closed at 45c, an advance of 3½c. December ranged from 3½c to 35½c and closed ¾c higher at 35%c. Receipts were 38 ars, only 14 of which were contract grade. Oats were extremely dull all day, with rading mostly in the way of changing from December to May at a slight widening of the spread. The market was fairly steady, helped by the corn strength, but closed at a slight recession. Receipts were light, 35 hars. December ranged from 21½c to 21½0 25c. Provisions were dull but steady. There was a good cash demand for products of all kinds and this and the strength of wheat and corn sustained speculative futures. At the close January pork was 7½c higher at 18.3%, and January ribs a shade higher at 18.3%, and January ribs a shade higher at 18.5%.

6.324. Estimated receipts Thursday: Wheat, 185 rars; corn. 350 cars; oats, 115 cars; hogs, 18,000 head. The leading futures ranged as follows: Articles. | Open. | High. | Low. | Close. | Yes'y.

Cotton Market.

Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—COTTON—The market today made a lower start, following disappointing cables, but the loss was soon recovered and a marked net gain scored on a return of bull confidence, a reaction abroad and substantial evidence that the public was again a buyer. The late market was weak under realizing. While operations were on a somewhat smaller scale there was a large trade recorded, with January and March the chief options dealt in. The market started steady, with prices down 2g5 points, following the disappointing advices from Liverpool. Local bulls bought on the decline, a wave of profit-taking carried prices 10g 12 points lower in the first hour, but sentiment changed at this point and the market again exhibited pronounced strength, while prices advanced with the close above yesterday. Late cables indicated nervousness among the foreign shorts, the advices received from the south told of higher spot markets on urgent demand from exporters and American spinners, but added that holders were offering little cotton even at the higher prices. Decreased crop estimates had considerable weight in strengthening bull sentiment and a severe storm was said to be doing general damage in the central belt. Throughout the day profit-taking was a prominent feature and during the last hour the offerings were heavy. As a result prices declined with a rush. At the close the market was weak and irregular, with prices 3g9 points lower. Spot closed firm: middling uplands, 10½c; middling gulf, 10½c; sales, 73 bales. Wool Market.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say of the wool trade tomorrow: The developments of the last week or ten days have not been of the kind calculated to impart much snap or activity to the wool market. The failures of W. L. Strong & Co., the Scott woolen mills and Fred Hartley have naturally resulted in creating a certain amount of depression and a luil in business and yet there has been a fair trade in progress, the sales of last week aggregating nearly 3,500,000 lbs. There is no general weakness in the market and the sales which have been made this week, so far as can be learned, have been made at substantially the same prices as were current a week ago. Holders of wool are generally firm; this is especially true of holders in the country. In fact the latter are firmer, if anything, regarding the failures as local in effect. Dry goods has been somewhat better and the outlook is good for a heavyweight season. The sales of the week in Boston amount to 2,295,000 lbs. domestic and $27,000 lbs., against a total of 5,586,000 for the previous week and a total of 13,473,000 for the corresponding week last year. The sales since January I amount to 127,15,300 lbs., against 314,067,576 for the corresponding time last year.

they paid yesterday. The same as the steer market, the situation could best be described by calling it weak to a dime lower, and in some cases it was worse than that. It was rather an uneven market, as some claimed they got about steady prices while others had to take considerably less than steady prices.

some claimed they got about steady prices while others had to take considerably less than steady prices.

The feeder market was in fairly good shape today Buyers wanted a few good cattle and paid just about steady prices for them. A bunch of yearling grade Polled Angus cattle brought $4.60 and a bunch of yearling Whitefaces sold for $4.40. The less desirable grades were, of course, not in as good demand and they were slow sale and prices weak. Stock cows and heifers, if good, brought close to steady prices and the best stock bulls also sold about the same, but if they were at all common they were lower.

The few western grass beef cattle offered on the market met with ready sale at good steady prices. Western grass cows were weak to a dime lower, and, the same as is noted above, good feeders were about steady and others dull and weak. Representative sales:

Coffee Market. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—COFFEE—Spot, Rio, steady; invoice, 74cc; mild, steady; Cordova, 94cc; 134c. Futures opened steady, 10 points lower and ruled generally weak under liquidation and bear selling, prompted by weak European cables, heavy Brazilian receipts, apathy in the spot market, an absence of speculative support and the insence of speculative support and the in-creasing crop estimates. Closed barely steady at 15@20 points net lower. Total sales. 28,750 bags, including: December. 6.30@6.35c; January, 6.40c; March, 6.50@6.55c; May, 6.50@6.65c; July, 6.70@6.55c; August, 6.80c; September, 6.70@6.89c.

New York Dry Goods. New York Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—DRY GOODS—The market shows considerably more doing in four-yard brown sheetings, but no change in character of demand for heavier brown cottons. Bleached cottons are firm throughout, demand moderate, but stocks limited. In coarse colored cottons business is fair at firm prices. Print cloths are very firm at full prices. Woolen and worsted dress goods and men's wear fabrics are slow and prices irregular.

A curious robbst steady prices. Sheep sold as high as $4.00 bery of this sort occurred between Madrid and lambs went up to $5.15 for one bunch of very fancy stuff. They were better than anything that has been on the market in some time, and, considering quality, it was just about steady with yesterday. The top in Chicago today was reported as being $5.29, so that this market is well in line. Feeders were also in good demand and sold readily at steady prices. The supply of feeders continues quite liberal at this point, but the demand is also in good shape, so that the market remains active and about steady. Quotations: Choice fed wethers, $4.000 and a sum of $1,000 in notes. At Bordeaux she was horrified to find her satchel missing, and, thinking she must have dropped it, she telegraphed to the station masters at the places passed on the journey asking them to look out for the missing property. Her purse contained spring lambs, $4.9005.15; fair to good ewes, $2.0003.75; choice spring lambs, $4.9005.15; fair to good spring lambs, $4.9005.15; fair to good ewes, $2.0003.75; feeder lamos, $2.00; feeder wethers, $3.5003.75; feeder lamos, $3.00; feeder wethers, $3.0003.75; fe money. It was then that the whole mystery of the loss was explained. The woman had as traveling companions part of the way a young Russian and his ostensible wife, both excellent liguists, agreeable in manner, and, according to their own showing, belonging to the Muscovite nobility. The young woman was particularly attentive to the owner of the jewels, and with good reason, as the man, her confederate, was meanwhile angling for the satchel. The sharpers suddenly disappeared at Bordeaux, although they said they were bound for the Paris exhibition. There is little hope the victim of their arfulness will ever recover her property unless the persons who warned her husband shall throw out further information to enable the French police to track the thieves. It is said that every rich woman in London who is conspicuous for the magnificence of her jewels is known and watched by thieves who travel between England and Paris and it is only when guarded by trusted servants that such mis-
