South Omaha News .

Yesterday J. J. Maher appeared at the kept busy holding shooting-irons at the sheriff's office in Omaha in response to a suggestion that the authorities had a warrant for him and upon the document being read by Deputy Sheriff Flynn he went before County Judge Vinconhaler and pleaded not guilty to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. His case was se for hearing after bonds in the sum of $700 had been arranged for.

Two warrants are now in possession of the sheriff for the arrest of Mayor Kelly, in other cities. It is suspected that at but a deputy said last night that when the mayor returns he will be requested to hanging over them. After the struggle to call at the office of the sheriff on Monday make the capture Chief Mitchell does not morning to hear the warrants read. The intend to let go of his birds unless they mayor has spent the last few days at Ord, where he has been a witness in a cattle case in which he is interested.

These arrests, it is understood, are only one step in the fight now being made on the administration. Some time ago Mayor | yesterday afternoon. Rev. Irving P. John-Kelly closed the Sherman-Jorgenson gambling house on Twenty-fourth street and, it is asserted, allowed other houses to run. Sherman did not say much at the time, but large number of friends from Omaha and when Jorgenson returned from Europe he South Omaha, attended the services. The attempted to assert what he claimed as his interment was at the Old Bailey cemerights under the supposed protective treaty tery. and was, if reports are true, turned down by the chief executive.

When, a little later, the Berlin-Healy-Maher trust was allowed to open gambling rooms at Twenty-fifth and N streets it was given out that there was to be only one protected gambling house in the city, but Jorgenson thought differently. Through his efforts, so it is related, all gambling was stopped. Mayor Kelly, however, did not take kindly to the talk Jorgenson put up and consequently ordered his saloon closed on Sundays. This order was not complied with and the result was that Jorgenson was arrested. He was found guilty in police court and appealed the case. The Sunday following found Jorgenson with the side door open, the same as some other saloons in the city. Again he was arrested and closed. Then the fight started in earnest. Jorgenson swears that he will fight to the filled.

It is predicted that when Mayor Kelley returns tonight he will order the strict enforcement of the Slocumb law, which means the closing of all saloons at midnight and now heavy wires carry the current keeping closed all day Sunday.

Police Elated Over Capture. Members of the police force are greatly elated over the capture of the three tough characters at the Dellone hotel yesterday morning. It was a nervy proposition for the police to jump into a room occupied by three men who were known to be desperate characters and armed with weapons of the latest pattern. Chief Mitchell, Captain Allie, Newman and Elsfelder, however proved themselves equal to the occasion and without any parley broke down the doors and entered the room before the crooks could reach their weapons, which lay on a bureau near the head of the bed.
