CLEARING AWAY OF CORRUPT PRACTICES

Purity in Politics Begins to Be Apparent and the Preacher is Greatly Rejoiced That This is True.

A number of the churches of the city observed Thanksgiving day with a union service yesterday morning at the First Christian church, the attendance at which taxed the capacity of the building. The service was a particularly interesting one. The collection will be turned over to the Woman's Christian association for a fund now being raised for the establishment of a "creche," where the poor women who have to go out to work can leave their babies and have them cared for during the day. To Rev. J. W. Wilson, pastor of the First Congregational church, was delegated the duty of preaching the union service sermon. He took as his text Acts xxviii, 15: "He thanked God and took courage," saying in part:

"This year of our Lord, like all preceding years, has brought its own peculiar joys. The nation, the state, the community, it was played by both sides and only two churches, families and individuals have all received abundant blessings and many good gifts that have never been duplicated. For their places filled by substitutes. In the these a whole nation stops to express its first half Council Bluffs kicked off to Tabor. gratitude. "Since our last Thanksgiving day our national house of representatives by a deisive vote has excluded a known polygamist from its membership and determined that polygamy shall not receive official recognition by our nation. Like the lepers of old, these moral lepers of our day must cry out afar off. The disease of political corruption likewise has received a perceptible check during the year. Certain men of unsavory reputation have falled to bribe their way into the highest legislative chambers of the nation and other political bosnes are likely to be hurled from their selfmade thrones of power. In several of our cities the people have declared that political trickery and election robbery are not to three-yard line, but lost it just as it looked pointed over the discovery that the voters be tolerated and that high offices are too sacred to be filled by men who are highhanded blackmatters in league with political handed blackmaniers in league with confessed and the soldiers stood victors by a score of the count had been ordered, but the final burglars and sneakthieves and confessed it to the collegians' duckegg. > GRAHAM AVENUE SEWER MATTER. Council Will Meet in Special Session to Consider It.

> The city council will meet in adjourned session this afternoon to act upon the assessment of the Graham avenue sewer when it is said property owners on the avenue will contest the right of the city to assess against them part of the cost of he sewer on South First street and Madison avenue.

At the meeting of the city council last Monday night Alderman Lougee stated that number of the property owners had objected to the assessment and he called for the city solicitor's opinion on the matter, the same to be submitted at today's meeting. City Solicitor Wadsworth, when asked yesterday, said he had received no notice that his opinion was required in the matter. He had, he said, given one on a former occasion, in which he held that the property owners on Graham avenue were legally bound to bear their pro rate cost of the lower section of the sewer system. The original contract for the sewer was awarded three years ago, but only the portion on South First street was put in, as the property owners on Graham avenue asked that the portion on their street be postponed until such time as the street would be repayed. The entire cost of the sewer was averaged up and Graham avenue property owners at that time agreed if the work on their street was postponed they would willingly pay the amount, as it would have been if the work had been done all at one time. In order to carry off the sewerage from the upper part of the system the pipe on First street had to be larger than on Graham avenue and the cost of that part of the sewer was correspondingly greater. Under these circumstances City Solicitor Wadsworth holds that there is no question but that the property owners on Graham avenue are liable for the cost, not only of their portion of the sewer, but their pro rata share of the additional cost of the sewer on the lower meeting today.

The council will meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and first inspect the work before taking any action on the assessment. Smallpox Matters.

Vote for Deba. The returns from the state will surprise many by the fact that the social democrat, or Debs, vote exceeded the vote for the populist, or Barker, ticket. Debs received 1,648 votes in Iowa, nearly half being in Scott county, where he got 540 votes. Wharton Barker got only 613 votes in the state, the largest number in any one county being sixty-nine in Madison. Joseph Malloney, the socialist labor candidate, go 259 votes in the state, receiving forty-seven in Clinton county and forty-three in Scott and the rest scattered about the state. Leonard, the United Christian candidate, got 707 votes, the largest vote being thirteen in Polk county. The Woolley vote amounted to 9,302, a considerable gain over the 3,544 votes cast for both prohibition candidates four years ago. The prohibitionists are strongest in Polk county, which cast 460 votes for Woolley. The total Iowa vote is but little larger than four years ago. Then it was 521,547 and this year it was 530,007. Four years ago McKinley got 289,293 and this year 307,818. Four years ago Bryan got 223,714 and this year 209,465. The McKinley plurality of 65,552 of four years ago was raised to 98,353, and the clear majority of 57,039 has been turned into a majority over all of 86,099 this year.

Extra Session Probable. The impression is growing that an extra session of the Iowa state legislature will be needed to straighten out the tangle into which the voters of the state have got their servants by adoption of the amendment for biennial elections. Senator Titus, the author of the amendment, regards it possible that the legislature will have to take action to remedy some of the defects. The matter of the selection of jurymen for the district courts next year is causing trouble. It is pointed out that the amendment leaves the courts without the usual list of veniremen and something will have to be done before they can proceed with criminal causes or any jury trials. While the state offidedicated the new school building yesterday cials affected by the mistake in the amendwith a short program. A proposition to borrow $75,000 with which to erect a new court house for Crawford county in Denison failed at the recent election and the failure is causing some ill-feeling and bad-tempered talk. The movement to secure a larger number of free public libraries in cities of Iowa is progressing finely. The latest cities to get in line are Ottumwa and Dubuque. Both these cities have offers of $50,000 from Andrew Carnegie to help them along and both are preparing to take advantage of the generosity of the iron king. Ottumwa voted for a free public library at a special election held in September. On Monday of this week Dubuque also voted for a free public library. People Who Will Learn Only by a Perilous Personal Experience.

As a rule experience is profitable only to the individual who obtains it. When the aged man tries to save youth from mistakes such as he made, the youth smiles to himself: "The idea of that old fossil thinking that an upto-date young man is going to make mistakes." It is a peculiar trait of human nature that each man thinks he is a little smarter than the others, and that he will sucree where others failed. "Oh, yes," says Smith, "I know that poor Jones got capsized in the rapids, but Jones never was a good hand at the paddle. It's a pity people like Jones will take such chances." And he smilingly launches his canoe to follow Jones alike in his feat and in his failure. THE EXTREME OF FOLLY.

The most foolhardy man who ever risked his life, or the most infatuated gambler who ever risked his fortune, is a sage compared with the man who attempts to get the best of Nature. The foolhardy man may succeed. The gambler may win. But the man who takes chances with Nature is bound to lose. If the obituaries of tens of thousands who are cut down annually in life's prime were truly written death would not be attributed to this or that form of disease, but to an attempt to

The weak spot in the modern man is his stomach. It is in disease of the stomach that many of the maladies begin which carry off the busy meu of the day. The seed of disease once planted in the stomach grows and spreads like some climbing parasite about a tree. It throws out a tendril about the heart and presently another which grips the lungs, and others again which take hold of kidneys and liver. Then suddenly the man is smitten by heart disease or lung disease; or suc-cumbs to some malady of kidneys or liver. The real seat of disease is the stomach. And one of the reasons why the diseases of the other organs often fall of a cure is that the treatment ignores the stomach, and attempts to treat directly the other organs, whose diseases are only symptoms of disease of the stomach and other organs of
