A continuation and enlargement of the policy that has made the most pronounced success in current literature. The keynote of McClure's Magazine is human interest; the record of human activities and achievements, whether put into the form of fiction, historical sketches, biographical articles or descriptions of inventions of travel and exploration. McClure's Magazine contains whatever is vital, wholesome and stimulating in the life and literary product of our time.

RUDYARD KIPLING'S "KIM."

A GREAT NOVEL OF LIFE IN INDIA.

IN THE DECEMBER NUMBER will be found the opening chapter of "Kim," one of the greatest novels that has appeared in this generation. In this wondrous story of adventure, comparable to Robinson Crusoe, whose chief characters are an Irish ragamuffin of the streets and an ancient lama of Thibet, the reader is given pictures of people and places and a mighty insight into human life, its problems, its philosophy, its failures, its hopes and traged es. Mr. Kipling has used India for his setting with marvellous effect. And the keynote of the story is the disaffections. We see the priests and beggars, horse traders and fakirs, dancing girls and detectives pass over the stage in rapid succession. Besides being a novel of surpassing interest, it is a literary illumination of a marvellous people, of a mysterious religious philosophy of a land more varied than anywhere in the world.

Next to the Grour d. Entertaining Studies of Farm Life and Country Customs

by MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS.

MORE DOLLY DIALOGUES.

By ANTHONY HOPE.

MRS. WILLIAMS grew up on a farm in Tennessee.

IT is some years since we all lost sight of that dainty, flirtatious, elusive "Dolly," whose conversations insects and knows them as she knows her me ther tongue. With Mr. Carter set the English-speaking world agog These articles bring one close to Mother Earth. She with delight. Now the delectable Dolly appears again secret service of India—the institution that knowledge of detail that con a only from that keeps the British informed of local Birds, the Hounds, the Horses, the Hogs, the Trees, the Hope supplies us with conversations more delightful Crops, the Soil and the tillers with infinite charm. | than ever. Illustrated by Howard Chandler Christy.

"WITHIN THE GATES."

By ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS.

MRS. PHELPS-WARD, author of "The Gates Ajar," gives in dramatic form her matured beliefs as to the great problems of Life, Death and the Resurrection. The drama carries the characters from this world to the next, and the action involves the problem of Redemption. It is certain to attract world-wide attention.

STIRRING ARTICLES ON HISTORICAL SUBJECTS—FOUR GREAT FEATURES.

McClure's Magazine has for years presented new light on American History. For the coming year we have some especially good features. DRAMATIC EPISODES IN AMERICAN HISTORY.

By IDA M. TARBELL. who, as the author of the "Life of Lincoln," "Life of Na-poteon," etc., has entered the front rank among American historians, will write a series of articles about well-known events, presented in a new dress. The Trial of AARON

BURR, the JACKSON-CALHOUN imbroglio and the Signing of THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE are among "COLONIAL FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS."

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY.

DE SOTO, FRONTENAC and PEPPERELL are among his subjects for the near future. UNPUBLISHED CHAPTERS.

but he writes of them with inimitable charm. These are not only absolutely correct, but they hold an intellectual mirror up to nature whereby we may know them from their own standpoint so far as this is possible.

These will include two articles from the papers left by People of the Woods. of the Forest by W. D. HULBERT.

THESE are descriptions of animal life by one who has lived long in the woods and has been the playfellow of some and the keen ob-server of others. Mr. Hulbert not only knows his friends - II, Stephen R. Malkory, Secretary of the Confederate Navy. They graphically tell of the FALL OF RICHMOND, the FLIGHT OF THE CABINET and THE CAPTURS OF JEP-FERSON DAVIS.

> DISBANDING OF THE ARMIES. By IDA M. TAR. PLL.

Two articles prepared after great research, dealing with the return of the Union and Confe erate soldiers to their homes. Hitherto inaccessible official records make these articles of unusual value.

Stories of Wall Street.

World, by

EDWIN LEFEVRE

Illustrating Remarkable Incidents of the Finan

Studies of life among the Criminal Classes made during a long tour of the larger cities, expressly for McCiure's Magazine, THIS author, so well known for his stories of criminals and tramp-dom, has made searching, original investigations among the criminals of many cities, studying their relations to the public and particularly to the ruling powers. These articles are not fiction, but sociological stories of the highest value. They set forth conditions as they are. The criminals tell of their acts, their views of lite and how they could suppress crime if they had police control, White.

IN THE WORLD OF GRAFT.

WHILE these are fiction, they are based on actual or typical events of "The Street." They throw a flood of light on the way financial transactions are carried on. They invoive pathos, humor romance and tragedy. They are written from actual knowledge.

THE NEWEST SCIENCE. THE very latest discoveries in science, the newest improvements and UNSOLVED PROBLEMS IN CHEMISTRY. By Professor Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University.

THE REICHSANSTALT—Germany's Laboratory of Applied Science. How the highest scientific standards are attained. THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA. From material furnished by Sir John Murray.

the most important application in novel ways, all that represents the progress of the world in this great branch of human en-dea or will be found in our pages. Some forthcoming articles:

THE NEW NIAGARA, by kollin Lynde Hartt.

Great Character Sketches. COUNT LEO TOLSTOY, by ANDREW D.

WHITE, LL. D., Ambassador to Germany. RICHARD CROKER, by William Allen

P OFESSOR HAECKEL, the German Darwin, by Ray Stannard Baker.

JOHN WILKES BOOTH, by Clara Morris.

An Encyclopedia of Business.

READERS of our magazine know that our advertising pages are an index of business progress and prosperity. They are prepared with all the skill and artistic excellence which great commercial enterprises can employ. They show better than anything else can just what is being done for mankind to make life happier in its outward circumstances. They appeal as strongly and profitably to the reader in their way as the text does to the intellectual life. They are certainly our great importance and replete with artistic attractions or great importance and replete with artistic attractions

TEN CENTS A COPY

STAGE MEMORIES.

OF living American actresses, none has achieved fame and success equal to Clara Morris. Her rise was full of hardships and against obstacles almost insurmountable. How this frail, friendless girl fought her way from the lowest round to the highest rank in her profession is one of the most remarkable records in dramatic history. Miss Morris writes as well as she acts. She tells the story of her trials and triumphs with dramatic power. Her reminiscences of the great men and women of her profession will be found of extraordinary in-

will tell of John Wilkes Booth, Lawrence Barrett.

terest. She

THESE have been heretofore announced as the "JIMMY" Stories, because by this pet name this unconventional monarch was known to his people, among whom he often trave led and revelled in disguse. Some of thise adventures are told with characteristic humor by Mr. Barr.

Tales of a Merry Monarch.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS.

HAMLIN GARLAND.

JACK LONDON.

Tales of Life in the South

Tales of Life Among the Indiana

We shall have the choicest short stories ever offered the American public. A few of the contributors will be: SARAH ORNE JEWETT.

FRANK SPEARMAN. NORMAN DUNCAN. JOSEPHINE DODGE DASKAM. WILLIAM M RAINE. Romantic Stories of Bygone Days in England FREDERIC REMINGTON.

A Dog Story Illustrated by the Author EDITH WYATT.

$1.00 A YEAR S. S. McCLURE CO., 155 East 25th St., New York City.

Long List of Volumes Published Especially for the Holiday Trade.

DECIDEDLY IN THE LEAD

Something to Please All Kinds of People of Widely Varying Tastes -Latest Works of the Best Known Writers.

The last few days have brought to hand mas gifts, in fact so many that it is no would seem as if any person, even the mest particular, might find something to selves famous by their researches. Price, please them. For example, there is a new $2.50. edition of "David Harum," which is already an American classic. It is remarkable that within so short a time a book sh. uid take so deep and permanent a hold upon the affection of a whole people. To this recent comment upon a book which has proved its enduring quality there has been added another-that few books are so well adapted to sympathetic illustration. In response to the many inquiries which have shown a general desire for an illustrated edition of "David Harum" the Appletons have fortunately been able to arrange with the distinguished artist, Mr. B. West Clinedinst, N. A., who has been peculiarly interested in the book and accepted the commission with an enthusiasm and perfect appreciation which have produced the happiest and most sympathetic results. In addition to some seventy fullpage and text drawings by Mr. Clinedinat, which place before us in an inimitable fashion the progress of the famous horsetrader and the other features of the book, there are several marginal drawings by Mr. Farrand. The entire book has been revised by Mr. Forbes Heermans, who has furnished a new biography of the author. and it has been reset throughout. The new type and binding, as well as the numercus illustrations, make this new issue "David Harum" practically an edition de luxe. D. Appleton & Co., New York. Price, $2.00.

Among the most recent publications o Harper & Bros. is a strong story of contemporary political and social life in London entitled "Lord Linlithgow," by Morley Roberts. It will be remembered that Mr Roberts is the author of "The Colossus." published last year, in which Cecil Rhodes to his race. Miss Constance Goddard Du was quite cleverly portrayed. The present Bois, who has made some study of the subwork shows the author in an entirely new light. Price, $1.50. A story from the same publishers of up- ficult it is to give value to an Indian's eduto-date people that will be enjoyed by many cation and how impossible it is for him to is "The Slaves of Society: A Comedy in make his training useful to his tribe. She Covers," by The Man Who Heard Some- takes an Indian of the noblest type, eduthing. A millionaire, a beautiful music hall cates him, and then sends him back to his singer, a daughter of a marchioness and a tribe only to find that he can do nothing to "situation" are woven into an amusing story clevate it. He is at once the victim of of society life in England. Price, $1.25.

ful of the younger writers. Among the subjects touched upon are: "Children," "Education," "Swains and Damsels," "Husbands and Wives," "Riches," "Energy and

Its C ns querces," "Some New York T. p s," etc. Price, $1.50. "The Story of Nineteenth Century Science" is a voluminous work by Henry Smith Williams, also published by the Harpers. As its name implies, this volume touches upon all the important branches of science, explaining their most complex developments in a manner which, while being thorough, is within the comprehension of the layman. It not only brings one up to date in all the many new books well calculated for Christ- science, natural phenomena, but it gives us subject. For another, he has a style that easy matter to decide where to begin. It to experiment, and adds most interering mountain air in both stories. They both sketches of the men who have made them-

> Still another valuable work from the same publishing house is "Literary Friends and American Authorship," by William Dean Fleming H. Reveil Howells. Emerson, Lowell, Hawthorne, Price per volume, $1.25. Julia Ward Howe, Bayard Taylor, Cells Thaxter, Stedman, Holmes were all friends | Few writers have increased their repu-of Mr. Howells and he writes of each as tation so much recently as Joseph Conrad.

out It. At this season of the year no list of books are in colors and very good. Price, $1.50. "Vesty of the Basins," a novel by Sarah Johnson. and illustrations, as well as the entertaining character of the story, render this volume especially desirable as a gift book.

Probably there has never been a time when the interest in the Indian has been greater than now, and incumerable theories are affoat about the best method of compassing his education and enlightenment. These theories take very little account of the real Indian, his character and training and traditions. They expect to change him in a day and keep him changed, and every educated Indian is believed to be an evangelist ject, sees the man in a different light, and in "A Soul in Bronze" she shows how dif-

The new editions of "The Sky Pilo: and "Black Rock," Ralph Connor's woncerful tales of the Rocky mountains, have just been issued. They are illustrated, handsomely and in novel fashion, by Louis Rhead. The success of Connor's books has aleat for a college or university course, but been phenomenal and they have reached the it furnishes a satisfactory substitute. The 100,000 mark. It seems strange that the religious stories of the Canadian clergyman should outsell many of the works of popular novelists, but such is the case. What arrests one in both the stories is a certain wild freshuess. Every page is full of touches. Ralph Conner has something of marvels of electricity, medical and physical his own. He has, for one thing, a new an inkling as to how the savants were led fits it. There is much of the open air and tend to inculcate a fine conception of Christianity and to teach true manliness. One is always the better for their company. "Black Rock and "Sky Pilot" are completely unconventional, so breezy, so ro-Acquaintances: A Personal Retrospect of bust, and yet so profoundly religious. company, Chicago.

no other living person could. His work is whose latest book, "Lord Jim," has just not only entertaining, but is of such value been published in this country. This strong that it would hardly seem that any Amer- writer about the sea is of Polish ancestry ican library could be entirely complete with- and was born and passed his boyhood in Poland. His grandfather fought under Napoleon and his father played a leading part s complete without a certain proportion of in the Polish uprising of 1863. Left an juveniles, and among the latest from Har- orphan at the age of 13, young Conrad found per's is an attractive volume for little his way to Paris, drifted to Marseilles, people by Gertrude Smith, entitled "The thence into a merchant house, and after-Poggie and Reggie Stories." It is the story ward to a sailor's life. As a merchant of twin boys and is gotten up in a way to seaman he has gone through all the grades entertain small people. The illustrations up to that of full captain of English marines. He has served in every corner of the seven seas, but chiefly in the Pacific and on P. McLean-Greene, has been brought out in the Borneo coast, and for a time commanded a beautiful edition by the Harpers. It is a steamer on the Congo. So good a judge illustrated by Otto H. Bacher and Clifton as Captain James M. Forsyth of the navy The attractive binding, printing has lately pronounced him the ablest and most compelling of living writers about the sea. Those who read "Lord Jim," which has in it the very heart and meaning of sailor life, will not quarrel with this verdict. Doubleday, Page & Co., New York.

knowledge and appreciation of the master-which will be sure to win the reader's interest and impart a clear and systematic knowledge of the important foreign classics. The course is not intended to be an equivbooks will offer delightful facilities for Paul Leicester Ford has written a Christmas story having for its title, "Wanted tation of King John's character and acts a Matchmaker." It is a short story, being tive volume. It is fully illustrated by the evil same which John has borne for H. C. Christy, whose name is getting to ages was bestowed on him by the monks, rival Gibson's as an illustrator. The the sole source of our knowledge of those decorations and binding design are by Miss times, and it may well be that they were Armstrong and are in harmoffy with the biased by their acknowledged enmity to spirit of the book. It should prove one of him. A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago. Price, the most popular Christmas presents of $1.50. the season. A story from the same pen that wrote "Janice Meredith" should hardly fail to meet with public approval. Dodd, Mead & Co., New York. Price, $2.

"The Duke" is a new book by J. Storer Clousion. In this story the author of "The and in ignorance of the tragedy of his Lunatic at Large" finds a new opportunity mother's death and his own birth), his for much humorous writing. The escapades struggle for recognition as a writer, and of the adventurous Irishman, who plays the finally the tragic incidents which end his part of the duke for a brief space, are life, form the current of the book, but the varied and laughable. The true owner of the title finds the joke, to which he lends The kindly and faithful hired man, the quiet himself, more embarrassing in its immediate consequences than he could have and sisters, all are drawn with infinite foreseen, but he eventually extricates him-detail and astonishing vividness and real-but unknown. The purpose of "The Story self from his difficulties and in the end ism. Small, Maynard & Co., Boston. Price, of the Soidier," by General George A. Forfinds a' wife to share his honors with him. $1.50. These who enjoyed "The Lunatic at Large" will be pleased with this latest effort of the author. Longmans, Green & Co., New Kings" Ada Cambridge gained at once a noissances, establishing posts, guarding York. Price, $1.25.

A new novel from the pen of the author of no little importance and its appearance novelist. The title of this latest work time trying to master the dead languages now issued for the first time without a bridge's novels. D. Appleton & Co., New previous publication in serial form. This movel is mainly concerned with the fortunes of Alexander Quisante, a man of foreign extraction, whose brilliant abilities make way for studies more important in girl of high birth who, against the wishes writers of such volumes are distinctly parthis day and age of the world. While giving of all her friends, becomes his wife. His tisen and their opinions are warped to a up the study of the languages themselves, character and hers, their history, the degree that renders their work practically literature. Prof. William Cleaver Wilkin- faced, how he met it, and the ultimate purposes. A work that does not in any readers, covering that portion of the Greek social and political life in England and some to so consider, is "A History of Pocollege course, to which he has also added Frederick A. Stokes Co., New York. Price. $1.50.

not only of the first order of excellence as illustrating Mrs. Wiggin's books, but they possess high qualities of art which will strongly commend them to many persons who are much moved by ordinary illustrated books. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., New York. "Uncanenized; a Romance of English home study and reading, while they are Monarchism," is by Margaret H. Potter. It sure to be of practical helpfulness when is a story of English monastic life in the used as supplementary helps in connection thirteenti century during the momentous with the regular text books. Funk & reign of King John. The leading character, Wagnalls Company, New York! Price, per Anthony Fitz-Hubert, is a brilliant young courtier, son of the Archbishop of Canterbury, who turns monk to insure the safety of his father's soul. The interprediffers widely from the traditional view, little more than a novelette in length, but but it is one which investigation is now has been brought out in a very attrac- beginning to present with confidence, for > "Quicksand," by Hervey White, author "Quicksand," by Hervey White, author of "Differences," is not merely the story of an individual, but of the life history of a family. The growth and education of a boy (reared by his grandparents as their sor other characters are no less interesting father, the energetic mother, the brother place in the affection of American readers which she has maintained. Her new novel shows the constant human interest, which of "The Prisoner of Zenda" is an event characterizes the work of this sympathetic for 100 years. To this work General Forand charming writer. There is an enterwill be hailed with undisguised pleasure taining plot and the backgrounds of the by tracing the origin of the regular colby the many admirers of the distinguished varying scenes of action are sketched most vividly. "Path and Goal" may be safely of Anthony Hope is "Quisante" and it is commended as one of the best of Ada Cam- his training and the manner in which he York. Price, $1.

> Politics and War. Political campaigns, like wars, are usu-

gain him a prominent position in English ally accompanied by a flood of literature political life, and of Lady May Gaston, a of more or less value, frequently less. The imperious alternative with which he was valueless for any other than campaign issue of his choice form the chief subject | way come under this head, though the time of a story which presents many phases of of its publication and its title might lead especially in London at the present day. litical Parties in the United States," by J. P. Gordy of the Ohio State university. Prof. Gordy has written an exhaustive history of political parties since the founda-"Penelope's Experiences," by Kate Doug- tion of the government and his work is las Wiggin, is a book of two uncommonly already recognized as an authority. The he means of obtaining at their leisure and attractive volumes, both as literature and volume now at hand is the first and, with without change of residence on their part as illustrative art. The first volume in three more to follow, will constitute the second edition of his work. Since the first authors as are studied by students during a published a few years ago with "A Cathe- publication of the work the author's fur- long list of former publications five books four years' stay in the average American dral Courtship." to which several chapters ther studies have led him to make some of more than usual importance have been the pen of Laura E. Richards, the author college, but again with this difference that are now added. The second is "Penelope's changes and a good many additions, so added during the last week. Two of the of "Three Margarets" and many other the knowledge in paired by Prof. Wilkinson Progress" which has enjoyed a very wide that the work has been entirely recon- number are by James Otis, one of the best popular books for children. The afth is humorous and fascinating of books. To the recast and others entirely rewritten. Prac- 1775; or, When We Besieged Boston," is a

"A Representative Bookshop."

We started out with a definite purpose—to sell good books cheap at all times. We offer two books for one week, beginning tomorrow, and will continue for each week until we run through all the popular books.

$1.00 Buys " n the Palsoe of the King," by Marion Crawford $1.00 Buys "The Reign of Law," by James L. ne Allen. Big cut on all broks and extra special price on the Elsie, Polly Pepper, Bessle, Louisa Alcott's books, James Whitcomb Riley and Ella Wheeler Wilcox poems. Toy books from 6c up. $1.50 buys an Oxford Bible, Teachers' Edition. $1.50. A full line of Oxford Bibles, Prayers, Testaments and Hymnals. The series of Henty books we sell at 25c are equal to any 75c on the market. The books reviewed in this paper get our prices before purchasing Encyclopedia Brittanica, 30 Vols., $27.00. On our news counters we have stacks of late periodicals, including all the Xmas London periodicals. We take subscriptions and can save you money on same. Wire Card Racks and Photo Holders 10c.

1612 Farnam St.

history of their country. To all such Prof. Gordy's work can be recommended as an impartial history of political parties Henry Holt & Co., New York.

In the great task of opening the empire west of the Missouri the American regular soldier has played a part large and heroic. syth, a galiant officer who has been a part of what he writes, is to picture the Ameri-With the publication of "The Three Miss can soldier in the life of exploration, recon wagon trains, repressing outbreaks or battling with hostile Indians, which has been so large a part of the army's active work syth furnishes perspective and background dier, the popular feeling regarding him and his relation to politics and the militia, has borne the brunt of war at the outset of real war from the inception of the government. No romance can be more suggestive of heroic deeds than this story of the soldier which appears most opportunely at a time when the regular army is facing so many and so serious duties in both hemispheres. No one is better entitled to write this story than the brave officer who with his little handful of men held the sandpit in the Arickaree for days against Roman Nose and his thousands of warriors, and finally won their lives by sheer dogged pluck and herotsm. Mr. Zogbaum's knowledge of military themes and westers army life leaves nothing to be said. His illustrations are a most valuable gallery of pictures of western army life. D. Appleton & Co., New York. Price, $1.50. Recent Juveniles. Dana, Estes & Co. has gained an enviable reputation for the publication of boys' fourth volume is a dainty little book for books of a high order. In addition to their added a very generous equipment of illus- present form, must prove a most valuable "The Armed Ship America; or, When We Brock, the well known English artist. They civies. Unmistakably there is a rapidly taining story of the war of 1812. Both interpret with great felicity the situations increasing class of Americans who with books breathe a spirit of high-minded pa-

GLO BARRIE & NON Allegras the higher stan in GRAND PRIX & GOLD MEDAL for time publications at the Paris I sposition

AGENTS WANTED.

The greatest display of fine books and artistic bindings ever made was that at 'he Exposition at Paris, where there were over a thousand exhibitor from AMERICA and EUROPE. In this class there were 346 entries from the United States alone

An AMERICAN firm, GEORGE BARRIE & SON, received the GRAND PRIZE and A GOLD MEDAL (the highest award), and the credit of producing the FINEST BOOKS IN THE

During the past year this firm has had engaged in Paris a large corps of literateurs and artists on a work which the New York Times has pronounced "a new standard in the publishing and printing art." Agents are wanted for the sale of this work. For particulars, address 1313 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

from the same publishing house bears the title, "Ned the Son of Webb; What He Did," and is by William O. Stoddard, also well-known writer of boys' books. It also is a story of war and adventure. The younger children entitled "Snowwhite; or, the House in the Wood," and is from Chatterbox for 1900. The thousands of children who have been delighted and entertained by Chatterbox are the recommendation of this standard child's book that could be offered, so that it is hardly necessary to say anything further regarding it. Dana, Estes & Co., Boston

The above books are for sale by the Megeath Stationery Co., 1308 Farnam street.

Does This Remind You of Anything You Wish?

We are headquarters for Books, Stationery, School and Office Supplies. It you wish the latest popular nevel or the newest thing in labor-saving of the chapters have been known writers for boys. "Boston Boys of fice devices, this is the place to look for it.

wedding invitations, announcements, etc. If you are interested it will cost MEGEATH STATIONERY CO. 1808 FARNAM.

"Society life in England. Price, $1.25. jealousy and suspicion, and he cannot adapt
"Lucid Intervals," by E. S. Martin, is himself to his people, nor they to him. The MILLE FEFFEFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFF

We are showing the latest styles in fine papers, copper plate work and die stamping and wish especially to call your attention to the new form for

NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES another of Harper's most recent publica- author has written an entertaining romance. Herbert S. Stone & Co., Chicago. Price, literature itself, in specimen extracts illusing the publication of humorous philages and dramatic scenes which marked Penelope's progress through the literature itself, in specimen extracts illusing the publication and coophical ensays by one of the most grace- $1.25.

There is a rapidly growing disinclination on the part of students to spend valuable A few years back Greek and Latin were the all-important studies of a college course. but in most colleges Greek is no longer required and is rapidly becoming a back number. Some educators still cling to Latin, but that, like Greek, is destined to no one is willing entirely to overlook the son of the University of Chicago has brought out a work designed for English and Latin classics usually embraced in a a review of French and German classics: The work is divided into six volumes and the object of it is to furnish readers not versed in any tongue but the English with of the text. The inspiring aim of the has likewise been to furnish enlightened readers with the means for acquiring a trations from designs by Mr. Charles E accession to the library of the student of Salled from Salem," is an equally enterproportioned trustworthy and effective volume, $1.

The result is a series of bandy volumes

knowledge of approximately the same cludes "Penelope's English Experiences." author in the French and German classics literary charm of these volumes is now tically it is a new production and, in its stirring tale of revolutionary times and pieces of French and German literature, and incidents of the stories; they show an awakened sense of their citizenship in triotism and are of such a character that This object has been sought, not through that the artist has entered with rare sym- the greatest of republics, are anxious to they can be placed in the hands of any narrative and description, making books pathy into the spirit and atmosphere of the familiarize themselves with the political boy without misgivings. Another values