Miss Broderick, Mentally Unbalanced, Flees From St. John's.

HYPNOTISM UNDERMINES HER REASON

Alleged High Priest of Mysterious Cult is in Jail to Await Outcome of Search-No Cine to Missing One.

Nine months ago Miss Mary Ellen Broderick, who lived with her parents at 2520 Chicago street, was hypnotized at a spiritual scance and since then she has been of unsound mind. Thanksgiving morning that is the last her family has seen of her The matter was brought to the attention of the police and Tuesday James K. Newman, chemist, the man who is alleged to of Miss Broderick is still a mystery.

At first it was merely as a spectator, then she began to take interest in the "work." The so-called "materializations" had a wonderful fascination for her. She bought books on spiritualism, transcendentalism and other "isms" and would sit up late at night reading them. She attended every

In the course of her associations with members of the spiritualistic organization of Omaha she became acquainted with James K. Newman, its secretary.

One night last March she attended a private seance at the home of a family named Haines, near Twentieth and Burdette streets. Naturally of a modest disposition, Miss Broderick had never pushed herself forward at these gatherings, hav-ing played purely a passive part, but on this occasion there were comparatively few present and she finally, yielded to their entreaties to sit as a hypnotic subject.

Girl Yields to Influence. It is alleged that James K. Newman played the role of hypnotist and that he found the girl so susceptive that a few passes of the hand and a moment's steady gaze of his black eyes sufficed to bring on unconsciousness. The coma was followed almost immediately, however, by a spel of the wildest delirium. She sprang upon her tutor and screaming as if in agony tore at his eyes and would have done him injury had not others interfered. From that moment the young woman's

I have kept her under constant surveillance," said her father yesterday, "We made it a rule never to let her get out of our sight, her mother, brother, sister times she would become violent and smash things, but generally speaking she was calm. She would spend hours rocking in a chair and talking to herself. Her moods would vary. Sometimes she would laugh and appear happy and again she would brood, as if over some secret sorrow. At table, where she sat with the rest of the family, she would appear absent-minded. would stare vacantly into space, toy with her spoon or fork and whisper to herself. We could never make anything out of those remarks, as they were incoherent.

Thanksgiving morning she went to St. John's church with her mother and sat which instructs the my wife turned to speak to some one and when she looked again the girl was gone. "So far as I know positively she has not Palmer, at Seventeenth and Dodge streets, but the woman denies this. She says my daughter was at her house Wednesday, but she has not seen her since."

Version of the Chemist... James K. Newman, the chemist, spiritualist and hypnotist, boarded at the home of Mrs. J. Carrigan, 1811 Lake street, and has been a resident of Omaha since October, 1899. He is of German extraction. "I am a chemist," said Newman, "and sometimes I give attention to massaging and rubbing. But chemistry is my profession and I am interested in several mines in Colorado. I have made a life-study of hypnology and may have acquired some skill in its practice. As to religion I am a spiritualist.

I know nothing about the disappearance of Miss Broderick, save what I have been told, and don't see how I can be held responsible for her vagaries. I know her, certainly. She used to attend the spiritualist seances. The only experience I ever had with her was last spring, or late she lost control of herself and attacked me. I suppose she was in a trance.

"The first I knew that I was to figure in this affair was last Sunday when two detectives called out of a meeting of the Philosophical society at Labor Temple and questioned me about it. They told me I'd better produce the girl or suffer the consequences. I was never so surprised in my

A "may-cure" cough medicine won't do. If it will " perhaps do its work," it's worse than worthless. If it's positive and certain, it's worth ten times its price. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the cough medicine with a record of sixty years back of it. It's the kind that cures colds and coughs.

page being considered the best way of getting at the expense, as it cannot even be estimated how many pages there will be in the book.

In this connection City Attorney Lambert said that the last compilation of misdemeanor ordinances was in 1895. Since that time dozens of ordinances have been passed and nearly as many repealed. In some instances sections of ordinances have been repealed. Very few of these changes have been marked on the ordinance book, so that it will be almost an endless task to go over the records and make corrections. Mr. Lambert says that this work will have to be done by an attorney and that as all of his time is taken up with the cases now pending it will be necessary for the city to employ an attorney to do the work.

Probably three weeks or a month will be occupied in preparing these ordinances for publication, and then as much more time may be spent in setting up and printing the book, so that if work is comenced at once it will be February 1 before the books are ready to distribute.

National Trotting Association.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Members of the National Trotting association to the number of a score or more met at the Murray Hill hotel, where they will be in seession for several days. President P. P. Johnson of Lexington, Ky., acted as chairman. The first work of the day was the taking of testimony in the matter of disputed and contested races during the last season, cases of entering horses out of class, the matter of fines and expulsions from the association of horses and their owners and the matter of reinstatement of their horses having been under suspension for a greater or less length of time.

GRINNELL, Ia., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—The Grinnell foot ball team has broken training and the season is closed. The showing of the team for this year has been far below the Grinnell average, but on account of the paucity of material at the opening of the term little was expected, so that there is no disappointment over the result. Four men, Douglass, Fellows, Dignan and Zeigler, go out this year by graduation. Some good material is left, however, and Grinnell should show up in much better form next year. No election has yet been held, but it is generally supposed that "Tuffy" Fiske will captain the team next year. Tuffy to Captain Grinnell.

"There is not a bit of truth in the reports that the new boat will embody striking novelties. A cup challenger is starcely the kind of a boat the designer would choose for such experiments. The Shamrock II will be like some of the other boats in existence. Whatever novelties there are will be in construction described. will be in construction details.

Koch of Milwaukee Says Withdrawal of McGraw and Robinson Frosted New League Formation.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec 4.—As far as Milwaukee and other western cities are concerned, the matter of establishing a new base ball league to be known as the National association, is off. Failure of certain eastern men to co-operate in the plan of formation is given as the cause for abandoning the project. formation is given as the cause for abandoning the project.

A. H. Koch of Milwaukee, who represented this city's interest in the talked-of new league, when seen today, said:

"As far as myself and other Milwaukeenus are concerned, the formation of the base ball league to be known as the National association is off, for the coming year at least. Everything was going along nicely until McGraw and Robinson, in the east, went back on us. The western end was solld for the movement and everything looked extremely hopeful until the change came in the east, and we were deserted by McGraw and his colleague. We have withdrawn our money, which was on deposit with the Haltimore Trust company, and the deal is off."

Daly Defeats Sloan. NEW YORK. Dec. 4.—Tod Sloan and Phil Daly, jr., met today at Interstate Park. L. I., to settle the question as to which is the better wing shot. The match was at fifty birds, thirty yards boundary and a side bet of $560 was wagered on the result. The weather conditions were anything but favorable for the sport. Sloan and Daly were in good form, however, and made excellent scores under the circumstances. Daly won the match with 43 kills; Sloan had 42 to his credit.

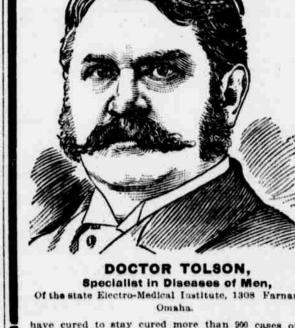

Skipper Rhodes to Sail New Defender. NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—It was announced here that W. B. Duncan, Jr., who will manage the yacht now being built to defend the America's cup, has selected Uriah Rhodes as captain of the new boat. Captain Rhodes commanded the Defender in its trial races with Columbia in 1899.

Exposition Commission Reports. Exposition Commission Reports.

PHILADELPHIA. Dec. 4.—The United States commissioners to the Paris exposition met here this morning at the Hotel Believue and completed the report which they will submit to President McKinley tomorrow. M. M. De Young, president of the commission, presided. Franklin Murphy of New Jersey was chairman of the committee which prepared the report.

After the meeting the commissioners were entertained at luncheon by William L. Elkins, the Pennsylvania representative, at his handsome country residence near this city. Later in the day the commissioners went to Washington, where they will be the guests of the president at dinner tomorrow night.

It you are a victim of varicoccie, come to our office and let me explain to you my process of curring it. You will then not wender why I twelve menths. Under my treatment the patient improves from the very beginning. All pain instantily ceases. Soreness and swelling quickly subside. The pools of stagnant blood are forced from the dilated veins, which rapidly assume their normal size, strength and soundness. All indications of the disease and weakness vanish completely and forever, and in their stead comes the pride, the power, and the pleasures of perfect health and restored manhood.

TREATMENT BY CORRESPONDENCE.

Most cases can be treated successfully at home. One personal visit is preferred, but if it is impossible or inconvenient for you to call at our office, write a full and unreserved history of your case, plainly stating your symptoms. Physicians having stubborn cases to treat are cordially invited to consult us. We make no charge for private counsel, and give to each patient a legal contract, backed by abundant capital, to hold for our promises. If you cannot call at the institute today, write.
