The suit is one brought by John R. Woods to recover damages from Figg on account of alleged malicieus prosecution, in having had him arrested for being among those who took part in the tar and feather eacarades. For religious reasons Figg refused to come into court to make a defense.
Judge Slabaugh thereupon entered a judge-motion by Figg's attorney to set aside the judgement and give leave to file an answer. The court held that Figg had been negligent and he should have attended to the suit, so he overruled the motion. In consequence the sheriff proceeded to levy against Figg's property to satisfy the judgment. Figg and his followers say they are anxious to get away from Gretna and live in a community where they will not be annoved by munity where they will not be annoyed by non-believers in their creeds. FACTS COLORED BY MALICE Judge Dickinson Denounces as False World-Herald Report Placing

Him in Improper Light. session of court Judge Dickinson branded as false the World-Herald's report of his ruling Tuesday with regard to The Bee. He had been quoted as declaring a tax title void because the evening edition of The Bee, in which the advertisement appeared, was not a newspaper in the legal sense. "The article has no foundation in truth," said Judge Dickinson. "The only sentence not absolutely false is the concession that in 1896 the county commissioners ordered the delinquent tax lists published in "The Omaha Bee.' Now that paper is known le-gally by two titles, 'The Omaha Daily Bee,' the morning edition, and 'The Omaha Evening Bee,' published in the afternoon. The term used by the commissioners did net coincide with the legal title of either of these publications and the court so held. There was not the slightest intention of declaring either paper an illegal avenue for publication. The error simply lay with the commissioners in not properly phrasing the terms of their preference. "I explained the case as it really existed to a World-Herald representative and he has wholly misrepresented the facts." A Village Blacksmith Saved His Lit-tle Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medi-cines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy, for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult.
