Announcement of His Candidacy for Second Term Brings Other Aspirants Out Into the Open.

LINCOLN, Dec. 9 .- (Special.) -By announcing his candidacy for re-election Dr. H. J. Winnett has lanuched the Lincoln mayoralty campaign and started candidates for other municipal offices at work lining up their forces for the forthcoming fight. Councilman W. A. Woodward will probably be Dr. Winnett's only opponent in the contest at the primaries. Both will enter the race with a strong following, but the present outlook indicates a contest similar to that of two years ago, when the same men were competing candidates. City Clerk Pratt will be a candidate for re-election to a second term. City Treasurer M. I. Aitken and Police Judge Comstock will probably make no attempt to succeed themselves. The former has served two terms and the latter intends to return to his law pracurer and police judge there are seven counmen to be elected, but as yet no candiin the field other than those whose first terms expire next year.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Omaha Company Operating Extensively on a New Fody of Ore.

Dr. Reinbold Tires of Shipping His Mineral to Germany for Treatment and Will Establish Reduction Works in Omaha.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Dec. 9 .- (Special.) The Reinbold company of Omaha is about to start a new enterprise in the Southern Hills. A short time ago Dr. H. H. Reinbold discovered a large body of manganese in Custer county and men were set to work opening up the ledge. It has been found to be extensive and will prove a valuable thing. The ere contains about 20 per cent manganese, 35 per cent phosphate acid, 6 per cent lithia and small quantities of iron, lime and alluminum. The company has size in the state will have a better school this plan in view: For the last two years Dr. Reinbold has been shipping spodumene to Germany from a mine near Hill City. This material contains about 3 per cent lithia, and it is for this that the ore is shipped. Dr. Reinbold discovered the value of the ore and he has now shipped to Germany several hundred tons. For some time he tried to get the German company to erect works at Omaha in which to extract the lithia values from the spodumene ore, but the plans never matured. Reinbold has now found this large vein of manganese ore, which contains about twice as much lithia as the spodumene. His company proposes to put in extensive works at Omaha for the purpose of separating the manganese, phosphoric acid and lithia, all of which are valuable products. The plant is to be in operation by spring. Two buildings have been picked out in Omaha, one of which will be converted into the works. Plenty of Prifit.

The manufacture of lithia alone will be a money-maker. The German company could afford to pay a good price for the spodumene ore besides the freight and additional cost of extraction. The manganese ore carries 50 per cent of valuable materials, which can be saved by a secret process that has been worked out by the Reinbold company. The company has very large amount of the manganese and enterprise means the shipping to Omaha of a great deal of ore. Dr. Rembold has also discovered in Custer county WINSIDE, Neb., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—Corn a good-sized ledge of arsenic, which runs about 60 per cent to the ton of rock. This mine will also be worked and the ore will a price which is about 5 cents higher than be shipped to the Omaha plant. Dr. Reinbold believes that a great many of the very rare and valuable metals and minerals will be found in the Black Hills. The mining of tin in several localities, according to this expert, is but a question of time. The finding of such rich spodumene ore is an indication of rich tin rock near by. Dr. Reinbold states that in his explorations or the different camps of the Hills that he has seen tin ledges running for considerable length that will give averages in white tin higher than that now being worked in

The Grand Junction is called the "Homestake" of the Southern hills. It is located about seven miles northwest of Custer in a particularly rich belt. The formation is practically the same as the Homestake. A shaft has been sunk 125 feet and a cross-cut at the shaft's bottom shows the main ore ledge to be over 100 feet wide. The value of the ore is about the same as the Homestake ore and many mining men consider it equal in every way to that great mine

Should He Out of Rome.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.-Archbishop Ireand prophesied that at no remote day "the Italian people and Christendom at large would give back to the papacy its wonted dignity and liberty." The discussion of what is known as the Roman question was being about the house when he should have especially significant, as the archbishop, luring the latter's recent visit to Rome. talked at length with the pope. The archbishop referred to the pope as a prisoner in the Vatican, voluntary in that no physical force prevents his leaving its precincts, and involuntary in that he could not go beyond the Vatican without impairing his dignity as pontiff and without seeming to accept the situation created for him by the entrance into Rome of the troops of the Italian government. He said:

Italian government. He said:

The Catholic church is a divinely created organism, deriving from Christ its mission and all the rights which are needed that it may live and work. Its life and mission are expressed in its supreme chief, the successor of Peter, and to him belong in a pre-eminent manner all the rights inherent in the church and whose possession is needed for fulfillment of its mission and work willed by Christ. Hence the pontiff's right to independence and, as a consequence, to temporal sovereignty.

If the pope is a civil subject of an authority outside of aimself he has not the line necessary freedom. The ruler or governed the necessary freedom. If the pope is a civil substitute of the their outside of aimself he has not the the necessary freedom. The ruler or government would interfere, make laws impairing his freedom of action or strive to impose methods more serviceable to the state than the church. The pontiff's words must bear no possible suspicion that they were imposed by men who have no authority in things moral and spiritual. If the sovereign pontiff be the subject of the king of Italy what guarantee is there for other peoples and other rulers that whether, through fear or favor. Italian influences have not penetrated into the Vatican and that Italian interests are not to be served. The peril of national jeal-susles would be the greater were the foreign countries at the time warring with the king of Italy.

As Americans Feel.

We in Americans Feel.

We in American are willing indeed to hearken to the words of Peter, but it must be plain that they are not words of a foreign ruler whose sole purpose is the interest of a foreign nationality, not of the church. The sole effective guarantee of independence for the pontiff is temporal sovereignty, which marks out for him sufficient space on earth upon which he may work in fulfillment of his mission with a lithe independence he needs. The dependence of a bishop upon the civil ruler severs him from union with Christians in other countries, reduces his church to the confliction of a national church and disrupts the oneness of the universal church. Other churches than the Catholic do not demanicivil independence and temporal power for their chieftains because no other church than the Catholic is a world church, nor aims at being at the same time universal and one, nor fulfills the injunction of the Savior: "Teach all nations."

The government of Italy, he continued, should have remained somewhere outside

CATCHING COLD.

Easily Done and Easily Disposed of If You Know the Secret. Cold weather lowers the vitality and in that way renders the body less able to resist the effect of the outside conditions, observes the medical editor of the Cincinnati Tribune. This so makes the system liable to be stormed by microbes. Pneumonia invariably attacks people whose vitality is lowered from some cause or other-excessive exertion, excessive worry, even excessive grief, which is a very potent factor in the lowering of vitality. Sometimes a neglected cold will help to produce the disease and so will the missing of a meal while one is more or less run down through the srain of business or other excitement. In the ordinary way pneumonia by itself does not land, in a sermon preached at St. Patrick's prove fatal, except in the case of very old or very young people. The danger arises question of the independence of the pope when it is complicated by heart or kidney disease. If these organs are healthy at the time that the disease sets in the patient invariably recovers, unless he has exhausted himself at the beginning of the attack by been in bed. It has been found by experience that while the harmful microbes grow in the mouth, many others also have their habitation there whose offices are to protect the body, as it were, from these interescopic crobes," as they have been called, do not flourish to the same extent as they do in the warmer weather, so that the mouth and through the mouth the rest of the body is left without its protectors and if the indi vidual does not by care come to the rescue of his body he renders himself liable to be
