Gans put up a very poor exhibition and McGovern started rushing him at the sound of the gong and never let up until Cans was counted out. Gans hever deliv-ered an effective blow during the fight and for a man of his reputation he made a fight which will gain him no friends. George Bler, the veteran referes who presided in the ring, said after Gans had been taken to his corner: "Gans put up a very poor fight. That's all I have to say." McGovern put up a clean, fast fight from start to finish and is entitled to sai the credit of a victory. He fought hard and fast, his blows went home straight to the mark and if the fight is to be cried down at all it is on account of the miserable howing made by Gans. He was lifted and was able to walk in a feeble manner to his corner.

When Mc-Govern appeared he was greeted with great cheers, a much milder reception being given to Gans, who entered the ring just before him. There were numerous stories last night and today that the fight was fixed for Mc-Govern to win and the betting set steadily in that direction during the last twentyfour hours. Wednesday night it was one to two that McGovern would stay the limit.

Just prior to the fight it was even money that Gans would be knocked out. After the fight, which was under strict Queensbery rules, there were many vigorous expressions of dissatisfaction among the crowd, it being asserted by many that
