OOM PAUL'S SPIRITS ARE STILL BUOYANT

Jeniousy of Republics Given as German Emperor's Reason for Refusal to See South African President.

LONDON, Dec. 21.-William T. Stead has just returned from The Hague, where he had a long conference with Mr. Kruger and ascertained at first hand the views of Mr. Kruger and his counselors as to the present situation and future prospects. Mr. Stend has written the following for the Associated Press:

"First of all, nothing is decided about his visit to America at present. President Kruger has not abandoned all hope of securing the support of the governments of the civilized world in his demand for arbitration. Until the last government refuses absolutely to say a word in support of the principles which they solemnly laid down at The Hague conference Mr. Kruger will not partake in popular demonstrations It is recognized that if he cared to do so he could shake the continent. The popular enthusiasm for him is unparalleled since Garibaldi's visit to London, but until his diplomatic mission is exhausted an appeal to the people cannot even be taken into consideration. Mr. Kruger is emphatic in disclaiming and desire to involve other nations in war in behalf of the Boers. What he asks is that the governments, which at The Hague declared their intention to use their efforts to secure amicable settlement of disputes by means of mediatick and arbitration, should make a united effort to bring the verdict of the civilized world to bear on Great Britain.

Kruger Calls Warfare Barbarous. 'The English,' Mr. Kruger said, are waging this war in South Africa like savages. They are burning homes, destroying dams, cutting trees, devastating fields and creating famine. They are unable to capture Dewet, but they are making prisoners of women and children, who are not treated with ordinary decency. Hundreds of women have been confined in prison Kraal, near Port Elizabeth, with only one chair, and several of them are expecting to become

They have plenty of ammunition and replenish their store continually from the British convoys. They have taken enough Lee-Metford ritles to arm all the burghers now in the field. I cannot put their position better than in the words of one of Mr. Kruzer's counselors, 'England is our accuser. England is the sole witness seniout us England is the index England is the executioner and England hopes to profit by our death. We appealed for arbitration before the war. ### world. Old Man's Spirits Unshaken.

"I found Mr. Kruger hale. His bearing is not so good as it was. His mind moves somewhat slowly, but every now and then the old fire flasoes from his eyes and you hear the deep, resonant voice which has so often rallied the burghers in battle. "Oueen Wilhelming is kindness itself. She has displayed pluck in remarkable contrast to the timidity of many of her official advisers. "I found the old man's spirits unshaken by his reversez. He disclaimed any desire to humilimic England and declared the Boors wanted only their rights.

"It may interest Americans to know that Mr. Kruger's appeal to the civilized world would be received everywhere with unanimous enthusiasm were it not for the jealousy of the dynasties of Hapsburg and Hobenzollern against the president of a republic. If he were a king the courts central European monarchs dread the popular enthusiasm excited by the heroic figure of the president pleading for justice. "This feeling, it is well to note, is no

Miss Maud Munshaw, daughter of B. K. Munshaw, who lives 100 feet away, dehave to fight that man in hell tomorrow at her father's house about ten days ago and had asked if the little cottage with the steps outside was for rent. She had ana shop at Sheeley station. Then the other man who had frequented the place was much younger, of light complexion, ### of some brown material. Saw the Party Arrive.

About 8:36 o'clock on the night of Tuesday, December 18, a light buggy drawn by a team of horses had driven up to the house and stopped, continued Miss Munshaw. It was so dark she couldn't make out whether there were two or three men in it, and, as the vehicle had stopped so that it was between her and the sairway, she had no
