men. The suit is that of Mrs. Lapole for $15,000 against P. J. Cunningham, George Potter, James McNamara, Daniel Murphy, James Stevenson, George W. Taylor, G. B. Rolinctte and others. The plaintiff is a woman 50 years of old, who lived alone in the country with her daughter, a young girl. Omong her acquaintances was one to call the neighbors, who came and ran caped injury. He picked himself up and Fred Daly, who last May held up and robbed John W. Cunningham as the latter was returning to his farm home from Win-
