WANTED-MALE HELF.

THE VAN SANT SCHOOL OF SHORT-HAND.

717. 718 and 719 New York Life Building. The only school in Omaha devoted exclusively to the teaching shorthand and type-writing. Its specialty is the fitting of young men and women for the duties of business life, and sending them into the business work the first day.

It has an abundance of new, or nearly now typewriters of all the leading standard makes. Students make their own choice as to what machine they will use. Each student is allowed the use of a machine at least three hours a day if he wishes.

Typewriting is taught exclusively by the touch method.

THE VAN SANT SYSTEM OF TOUCH TYPEWRITING.

This system of touch typewriting 's deservedly popular, at home as well as abroad. It has been adopted by the Omaha High school, the South Omaha High school, Relievus college, and by all the commercial colleges of Omaha except one. It is used in the Fremont Normal school, the Lincoln Business college. Brown's Business college, Sloux City, and by all the commercial colleges of Des Moines, Ia. except one. It is used in many of the leading commercial and high schools throughout the country. Within the past ment it has been adopted by the public schools of Brooklyn. N. Y.

Over a thousand sets have been sold within the past ment it has been adopted by the public schools of Brooklyn. N. Y.

Over a thousand sets have been sold within the past week.

The copyright is not for sale.

A STATEMENT.

In regard to the faisehood which appeared in the advertisement of the Omaha Commercial college two weeks ago. I will say that at the National Convention of Commercial college to the owner of the public schools of the Device of the public schools for the advertisement, but had and a word to say in his own defense, He, however, for the advertisement, but had not a word to say in his own defense. He, however, subsequently sent me the following letter:

"Mr. A. C. Van Sant, New York Life Pullding, Omaha, Neb.—Dear Sir; I send you a marked copy of the Detroit Journal, thinking perhaps you had not had the pleasure of reading the report of your typewriting exhibition. Of course, this explains why my operators were not permitted to mose yours in an official manner, and fully justifies us in publishing the test conducted by Mr. Scully. With best wishes, I remain, Yours truly.

"F. W. MOSHER."

The letter is on its face an admission of the fraud. For reasons best known to himself Mr. Mosher did not exhibit the work of his students before the convention. The students from my school and a student from the Barnes Commercial school at St. Louis were the only ones who exhibited before the convention. In that exhibition Miss Blurvall, a student of the past year, made a record on new matter of 108 words a minute, and Miss Reichardt wrote 102 words on the same matter. In a room adioining the convention hall Miss Blurvall and Miss Reichardt wrote many times over 109 words a minute on new matter absolutely without errors, and a large smount of this work was distributed to the members of the convention. In one case Miss Blurvall wrote 122 words a minute, while Miss Reichardt reached a speed of 110 words a minute on new matter, without errors. The following from the January number of the Tynewriter and Phonographic World will give an idea of how the work of my students impressed others at the convention:

"One of the interesting and attractive of the National Shorthand Teach."

tion:
"One of the interesting and attractive features of the National Shorthand Teachers' association was the fine exhibitions of touch typewriting by two students of Mr. A. C. Van Sant, author of the Van Sant system of touch typewriting and proprietor of the Van Sant School of Shorthand. Omaha, Neb., gave exhibitions of touch typewriting at speeds varying from 90 to 122 words per minute. He dictated a greeting to the editor of the Typewriter and Phonographic World, in which the ladies wrote respectively, for and 167 words in a minute, of beautiful and artistic typewriting."

OF ALL the elements in man's nature that ge to the making up of his life, chivlest is that ambition that demands success, No matter in what phase of life it may be, human character seeks success. The motto of the business world is "Success." It is the hue and cry of speculation, of investment, of enterprise, of brain or of brawn. In order to reach the climax of success every person should be thoroughly adapted to his vocation. Rank failures are invariably the result when a person is unqualified for that which he undertakes. "Know you are right; then go alead." The only way that such knowledge can be obtained is through the art of PALMISTRY. Every person's paim is an index to his life and when the lines are properly interpreted the course to be pursued in the future is pointed out. MME. GYLMER, the celebrated palmist, who has been 4 years in Oppaha, has no peers as a "life reader." See her. Parlors of Palmistry, 1905 Dodge, S. side P. O. S-196 20
