In addition to the mineral feature of the bill, which is considered one of most vital importance to many interests, is the entrance wedge which the committee by a test vote decided to report to the senate, an appropriation of $100,000 for an examination and report upon the Gila dam at the San Carlos Indian reservation, Arizona. New England, a portion of the south and probably the middle east, may be expected to oppose this measure, while the west, south and north will probably line up in its favor. and the fight will be interesting, in view of Secretary Hitchcock's report, just promulgated, favoring a comprehensive system of

Some members of the senate committee on Indian affairs in considering the Gila dam question laid stress upon the disposition on the part of some parties to effect the carrying out of a large irrigation plan by playing upon the sympathies of the people for the Indians. It was allowed that the Indians could be moved off the reservation for less money than it would cost to carry out the proposed irrigation plan, but that there was no place to which they could be moved; that irrigation of a large area of land which was made possible by steer ing the flood waters of the river would make valuable much land now worthless and enable hundreds of families to make livings thereon. The committee expressed a desire to carry out the work contemplated, but seemed especially concerned in having it begun in the right way. It was recognized in the general talk around the table that the benefits accruing would not simply affect the Indians in this immediate victity, but that vast areas of land at a Manila as follows;

al, far removed therefrom, which in certain seasons of the year severely suffer from floods in Arizona, would be saved from disastrous results and sudden inundations, because the storage of these waters for irrigation purposes would prevent such It was frankly admitted that while the Indians on the San Carlos reservation would be primarily benefited it would be a far greater thing to benefit the vast areas of waste now arid through this means ren and uncultivated.

Senator Pettigrew occupied the time of the committee at considerable length in insisting upon an amendment sending the Sisseton and Wahpeton matter to the court of claims, which was finally agreed upon after a compromise amendment had been offered by Senator Thurston. Senator Pettigrew stated that he had labored ten years to bring about this legislation and he be-Heyed it was absolutely right and just that the court should decide upon certain findings of fact which are stipulated in the amendment offered by the chairman. MORE TROUBLE IS FEARED Officials Apprehensive of an Outbreat the Shotwell-White Feudal Fight.

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., Jan. 19 .- Over 100 vituesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jary next Monday, when it expected that the Shotwell and White factions who were engaged in the troubles at Corbin this week will be indicted. After the arrest last night at Corbin of Paris Shotwell, Willis Cochran, John Bryant and Clay Kincaid, the last two negroes, and all belonging to the Shotwell faction, it has een quiet here today. The jailer heard voices during the night, and he thinks they were the voices of friends of the Shotwells who had come over from Corbin to lynch White, but they found the jail strongly guarded and especially prepared to resist a mob. Each faction is still accusing the other of preparing for vengeance and there are some who apprehend collision when court convenes next Menday. Although the roops have been withdrawn, the chief has a large force of deputies and it is generally believed that he will maintain peace. Meantime most of the disturbing elements have been transferred from Corbin to the jail in this city.

SAVED A LIFE

I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays, I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's treatment for some time, and when her periods would come on, her sufferings were something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own

Mr. Cross' daughter realized what Wine of Cardui had done for her when she said "It has saved my life". Menstrual irregularities never continue long without involving falling of the womb, leucorrhæa, or some other dangerous malady which endangers life and happiness.

WINE OF CARDUI

is an emmenagogue which lays the foundation for a woman's health by regulating the menstrual flow. Its beneficial result is felt almost immediately as the sharp, shooting, dragging and bearing-down pains disappear directly. Then the organs are strengthened and a final cure is the result. Do you not want such a cure as that? Nine out of every ten are struggling through life with some burden brought about by female troubles. You may be one of them. Throw the burden off! Many women besides Miss Cross have taken Wine of Cardui for relief and are well and happy to-day just as she is. Try Wine of Cardui. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles. Do not accept a substitute.
