Share Feeling of Western Grand Army Members in Denver's Defeat.

LOSS OF REVENUE WILL BE CONSIDERABLE

Low Rates Agreed Upon Would Have Produced Much Profit Because of Large Number of People Handled-Rates to Cleveland.

Local passenger officials are much disappointed in the failure of Denver to secure the next annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. This disappointment is accompanied by some spirited feeling, too, because of the peculiar tactics en ployed by the executive committee of the Grand Army. At the time the matter of location of the encampment was first taken up the claims of Denver were viewed with seeming favor, and the impression was given that the only condition precedent to its designation as the place for the assembly would be the securing of satisfactory
