Too Long Enough to Know.

An old woman who has lived in New York City and Brooklyn ninety-three years was interviewed on New Year's day and had little to say, except that "I don't know that the world is any better, but there's more of it." When she first crossed the river to Brooklyn the custom was to go to a certain street and shout for a boat.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Rich Strike of Gold Ore in Clara Bell Mine, Custer County.

OMAHA CAPITAL HAS DEAL FOR BONANZA

Des Moines People to Work Red Cliff, Gold Fish and Forest Queen—Marble and Granite People Meet Next Month.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—A very rich strike of gold ore has just been made in the Clara Bell mine, two miles east of Orevila, in Custer county. The mine has been producing a fair grade of ore for several months, but for the past four days the ore has been very rich. Your correspondent visited the mine this week and verified all of the rumors as to the richness. The ore comes from a vertical, which is opened by a shaft about 150 feet deep. It is a quartz ore, the vein being about twenty feet thick. The mine is a half mile from a two-stamp Tremain mill, where the ore is treated. This little mill is pounding out a fortune for the owner of the mill, a Frenchman, named Frank Hebert. Owing to a scarcity of water, the mill is run only a few hours a day, yet it yields all the way from $500 to $2,000 a month. The writer casually examined the pile of ore at the mill which had just been brought in from the mine for treatment.

Lying on top was one of the richest specimens of free gold ever found in the Black Hills. The owner then sorted over several wheelbarrow loads of the ore and he was rewarded by finding a half dozen very rich specimens. The writer joined in the exciting search for nuggets and two handsome specimens were found. The best specimen from the mine is a chunk of rock as large as a small cocoanut, which is at least one-half gold. Another specimen, somewhat larger, had wires of gold from one end to the other, with knots and warts of the yellow metal sticking out on all sides.

How extensive this rich streak of gold is, is not known, but for four days there has been no let-up. The ore has been averaging $20 per ton gold for some time. The vein is becoming much wider and at the present depth another vein has commenced to appear. The ore carries never less than $5 a ton gold, and from that up into the thousands.

It is stated that Omaha capitalists have a deal well on for the purchase of this bonanza mine, and that a number of railway officials figure prominently in the matter. The deal calls for all of the ground owned by the Hebert Bros., which includes several placer mines, the Clara Bell mine and some tin properties, in the same camp.

No Equal in Southern Hills.

The Clara Bell mine is simply a continuation of the St. Elmo mine, which was worked several years ago up to the division line between the St. Elmo and Hebert ground. There the St. Elmo company had to quit mining and the little Frenchman was given a mine which has no equal in the southern Black Hills. A shaft was sunk 100 feet, at which depth the rich ledge of ore was encountered and it has become richer with every foot. The St. Elmo company had an opportunity to buy the Hebert ground at one time for a very small figure, but failed to do it. On the St. Elmo ground the ore body was nearly flat, but now it has become quite perpendicular. The Clara Bell mine is by far the richest gold property in the southern Black Hills.

Articles of incorporation will soon be filed for the Red Cloud, Gold Fish and Forest Queen Mining company, by C. H. Crabtree of Des Moines, and associates. The companies will be operated in conjunction with the Gladiator company of Des Moines, which purchased recently the Murry group of mining claims, in Deadwood Gulch, three miles west of Deadwood. The Murry property has been developed considerably by the new company and numbers of rich shoots of ore have been encountered. The Red Cloud mine at one time was a shipper of very high grade ore. It is a short distance west of the Gladiator company. A deep shaft is to be put down on the rich vertical of ore.

The Gold Fish company will develop farther the Salmon mine near Custer. This mine is one of the richest specimen rock mines in the southern Hills. The mineralized belt is over 300 feet wide, being but a series of quartz verticals which carry good values in gold ore. A shaft will be sunk immediately 200 feet on the pay shoot. A short distance north of Keystone is a property known as the Forest Queen. It will be developed by a company to be organized this week. The property is on the Keystone belt one mile northwest from the Holy Terror mine. These four properties will be developed by officers of the Gladiator company.

Marble to Supply the West.

The annual meeting of the Marble and Granite Manufacturers' association of South Dakota will be at Yankton on February 6. The membership of the association is large and a big attendance is expected. The Black Hills Porcelain Clay and Marble company expects to be represented. The company will soon have a complete sawing plant installed, it being the purpose to furnish marble in all sizes for the western trade. The company's ledge of marble, which is five miles northwest of Custer, has been thoroughly opened up. The first shipment of marble will be made in thirty days. There is no other marble quarry nearer than the southern states or Vermont. The Black Hills company is calculating to supply all the western states.

It is stated that a rich ledge of copper ore has been encountered on the Eagle Copper mine, northwest of Keystone. It is owned by Michigan people. A shaft is being sunk on the ledge.

The Shawmut Mining company of Boston reports the finding of a rich shoot of ore at the Esmeralda mine in Blacktail gulch. The mine has over 2,000 feet of old workings made by former owners, who cleared up several fortunes. The ore is a cement formation, carrying free gold with heavy concentrates. The new shoot was found above all of the old workings. It is twenty feet thick and carries an average of $12 a ton gold. The company has an unlimited amount of the ore blocked out. The ore is first run through an amalgamating mill, where all of the free gold is saved. The tailings are then cyanided, which saves practically all of the gold. The company will add two more Huntington mills to the plant before March 1, which will give the plant 100 tons daily capacity. The company has been receiving dividends for some time. There are a half dozen producing mines in this cement belt, the method of extracting the gold being the same as at the Esmeralda mine.

Good Strike in Copper.

The Black Hills Copper company of Benton Harbor, Mich., has struck some good ore in a deep incline shaft five miles west of Rochford in Pennington county. The shaft is 400 feet deep, following down a strong ledge of ore carrying $12 per ton gold, eleven ounces silver and some values in copper. It is expected that the ore will become much richer when the water level is reached. There is a series of ore veins passing through Copper Reef mountain, where the company's shaft is being sunk.
