Americans Send Flowers.

The hospital ship Maine has sent a beautiful shield, the design being the American colors in violets, geraniums, and white flowers, surmounted by an eagle in violets, the whole being (welve feet high. The American society in London has sent a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Almost every public body in the United Kingdom, from the highest to the lowest, will be represented by tributes.

The death of the queen has caused an unprecedented demand for flowers. Some the London florists have had so many orders as to be obliged to decline to fill any more. The country has been scoured for orchids and other expensive blossoms. Prices have risen tremendously.

The show windows of florists in Regent street and other fashionable thoroughfares are always surrounded by crowds admiring the wreaths exhibited.
