such bills, but on reflection thought the bills, which might come to light from some other source, had best be offered by a mem-ber acquainted with the motives of the author, and that this explanation might prevent members of the legislature from being misled as to the objects and purposes of the framers of bills of this character.

Committee to Investigate.

The reading of this document stirred considerable excitement, which, however, was not manifested except in a motion to appoint a committee of five to investigate into the operations of the holdup lobbyists. The two lobbyists, Druesdow and Barter, branded in Thomssen's statement, happened into the house just as the document was concluded by the reading clerk, and on learning what had happened beat a hasty retreat.

It has been notorious ever since the session opened that several gangs of holdup prombters were at work in conjunction with members of the house and senate injecting questionable measures into the bill file. The co-operation of the legislators may be inno cent or by connivance, but the evidence is indisputable in the bills before the various committees It is said the cigarette bill, Hinshaw, a republican. Totals: which passed the house by some sort of a allp a couple of weeks ago, although a copy of an Iowa law, is one of this bunch, while Crounse Currie Hainer Harlan the others have not yet made so much progress. Speaker Sears asserts his committee will go into the matter thoroughly and put a stop, if such a thing is possible, to this permicious practice.

Thompson, Meiklejohn, Beisner-Meiklejohn, Hinsnaw, Broderick-Hinshaw, Meiklejohn, Brown of Furnas-D. E. Thompson, deiklejohn lating to the method of drawing juries goes on the statute bock, and as it has an emergency clause it becomes of immediate effect. To all intents and purposes, and probably so far as the legislators who passed it know, the act is simply curative, correcting the wording so as to make I apply to Lancaster county under the new census, which had reduced its population below the limit of 70,000. The really important part of the measure, however, is that it works a complete change in the system of drawing grand juries, not only in Lancaster, but in Douglas county as well, by putting them on the same footing with the petit juries. Hitherto grand juries have been practi cally selected in Douglas county by the county commissioners, who have made up the lists by inserting names of their personal or political friends from their respect ive districts. It was almost impossible to secure a grand jury that was not in sub stance in some way packed with men put on to protect la breakers instead of to hunt them out for an indictment and the reluctance of district court judges to order a grand jury has arisen from the fact that they were too apt to degenerate into a farce. The new law does away with all participation of the county commissioners in drawing grand juries. It provides that the drawing shall take place in the office of the county clerk, under supervision of the clerk of the district court from the same list of names as has been made up for petit juries and the selection had out of a wheel containing the slips, leaving everything to the chance of the lot. The grand juries are to be certified up as usual and the customary qualifications and disqualifications enforced, but the opportunity to pack the jury is taken away as effectively as possible under a general law of the kind.
