CLUB MEETINGS FILL UP THE TIME

Omaha People Are Careful to Pay Becoming Attention to the Lenten Season-Review of the Week.

Society was in sackcloth and ashes last week. It was doing penance for the frivolities preceding Lenten season and there was little going on among the swell set. Reading and card clubs met, but there were no large functions. The gentle March weather tempted a few golfers to try the deserted links and maids and matrons who did not care for outdoor exercise have been bowling. Half a dozen new bowling clubs have been ofganized by women. The next few weeks promine to bring forth many interesting con-
