TAYLOR KILLS CIRL FIRST SHOT AT SANTA MESA Boston Woman Debates the Right of

United States to the

Outpost. -BOSTON, Feb. 22 .- To the Editor of The Bee: An extract from your estimable paper entitled "Mark Twain's Error." has come to my notice in the Boston Tran-I have no inclination to defend Mark Twain. Our great American humorist is able to take care of himself. do wish, however, to call the attention of The Bee to the facts in this Philippine matter which it has overlooked and which the great mass of American people seem to have overlooked or never to have known. You quote from Mark Twain's article in the North American Review for February: "A Filipino soldier crossing the ground where by our sentry."

"This assertion of the eminent humorist is probably accurate enough for the purpose it is intended to serve, but for the truth of history it is rather loose," add by way of comment. Is The Bee quite sure on this point? Let us examine the truth of history: The Nebraska regiment, at the time of the outbreak February 4, was stationed where it had no right to be. It was encamped beyond the limits prescribed by the protocol with Spain. In fact, this encampment at Santa Mesa was a mile in advance of the lines held by the rest of our troops. By the terms of the protocol the United States was bound to occupy only "the bay, harbor and city of Manila," pending the Miss Nollard and Taylor had been en- ratification of a treaty between the two gaged to be married, but disagreed a month powers, "which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the About two weeks ago Taylor Philippines." By the terms of the protochoked her almost into insensibility and col all jurisdiction and rights over any other portion of the Philippines was extunity. He was arrested on complaint of pressly waived until a treaty was actually

A treaty was signed in Paris December His trial was to have taken place 10, 1898, but merely a proposed treaty next Wednesday. Taylor rented a room which required the assent of the Spanish in the lodging house three days ago. The Cortes and of the senate of the United landlord says he stayed in the room during | States before there could be any treaty at the daytime and it is supposed that he had all. The senate gave its assent Febsat in the window for many hours, rifle in rusry 6, the president signed it February hand, awaiting an opportunity to pick off 16. On April 16, 1899, it was ratified the girl without striking others in the During all this time neither the president crowded street. She was in the habit of nor General Otis had any powers other

In a word, we completely disregarded the with the Nebraska Indians. Miss Nollard obligations of the protocol and the rights

If you will examine the official documents in this matter, including the correspondence of General Merritt with Aguinaldo, and later that of General Otts with him, you will find that both American generals were forced to concede that Pandacan was outside the jurisdiction of Manila and that Santa Mesa was under the jurisdiction of Pandacan, not Manila. Yet on October 25, 1898, General Otis issued an ultimatum with a threat of war, if the Filipino troops did not withdraw from They did so with an outraged Pandacan. sense of justice, and to avoid a conflict.

Two days later General Otis, in a letter to Aguinaldo, admits that Pandacan was outside Manila; that he could find no Spanish authority for regarding the town as a suburb of the city, and admitting that General Merritt did not so regard it. It was in this very region which no Filipino could regard as justly belonging to the United States that an irresponsible Filipino officer, heedless of the challenge of a Nebraska sentry, was shot on February 4 and thus the war began.

The encounter came on ground which General Otis had taken by force, not by my legal right given him It came on ground that both Merritt and Otis had acknowledged in writing to Aguinaldo to be outside American jurisdiction. These are facts to be remembered in this controversy, facts which are constantly ignored or overlooked. Mark Twain is right when he says: "A Filipino soldier, crossing the ground where no one had a right to forbid him, was that by our discharge of his duty, but the orders back of him were wrong. One more quotation from your article "For several days matters at the front had been squally." The sentence following it explains the occasion of the squalliness. "The Nebraska boys had been moved from the water front to a station at Santa Mese, which was practically an outpost." Decidedly it was an outpost, and one beyoud the jurisdiction of the United States. The Filipinos resented this pushing of the lines without authority. "All Nebraskans are proud of this regiment," you remark. Allow me to reinforce this remark. All Nebraskans ought to be very proud indeed of this regiment. No regiment during that first year did such unremitting service. No regiment encountered such hardships without respite. The writer was in that wretched country reveral months before war began and sev- is known as house roll No. 156, will come eral months afterward, and knows of a up for third reading on either Tuesday or truth that no regiment was put to harder service or more constantly. It seemed as senate will make any radical changes in if the palace had no mercy on the Nebraskans. No regiment was more sadly depleted. I think. Even its able colonel was sacrificed. All glory and honor to the Nebraska regiment! The star regiment of that first year!

But let no good Nebraskan close his eyes or his understanding to the indisputable facts-historical facts-that transpired before that first shot by a Nebraska sentry. Respectfully and sincerely,

W. Kennedy, a cripple who has been unable to walk or even lie down for the last forty-three years, doesn't like Nefew and full of trouble, and he will never come back if he can only get away. He arrived in Omaha a week ago and stopped at a lodging house, paying for one day in advance and then his funds ran out. He stayed nearly a week longer, when the hotel man decided to quit running an eleemosynary institution and appealed to the county commissioners for help. The commissioners would take no action, as Kennedy is not a resident of the state, and referred the hotel man to the Associated Charities, whose agent furnished a ticket to Columbus. He went there Friday and the Columbus authorities promptly sent him back. He was at the Union station for several hours yesterday afternoon and evening until the police were notified, and then he was taken to the city fail. Kennedy refused to tell much of himself or where he came from. "I belong in Iowa, all over, anywhere, and I want to go back there. When I do I'll make those people dance to my music. 0000 0000 000 000 000 0000 0000 The signing by the mayor and the publication of the ordinance directing the Elkhorn road to construct a viaduet across Thirty-sixth street means a great improve-ment in the northern part of the city. Material for the bridge, which will be 800 feet in length, is being ordered and it is expected that work on the structure will commence in about a week. In this connection it is reported that the Elkhorn will establish a depot at or near the viaduct and that main line trains will run through South Omaha. At the present time the main line of the Elkhorn enters Omaha from the Junction at Irvington. There is a branch line from Irvington to South Omaha used almost exclusively for no one had a right to forbid him was shot the hauling of stock cars. Rumor has it that the line from Irvington to the Webster street depot will be abandoned as a main line and that all passenger trains will run to South Omaha over the branch and then via the Union Pacific tracks to the union depot in Omaha.

With the construction of a depot at Thirty-sixth and C streets it is inferred that the Omaha motor line from Sheely will be extended to South Omaha, crossing the tracks over the proposed viaduct. An effort is being made by interested parties to secure the extension of the Park avenue line in order that another transit line to Omaha may be secured. Such a line would be largely patronized by commission men and others doing business at the stock yards.

Republicans Issue Call. The following call has been issued by the epublican city central committee: Notice is hereby given that on the 15th day of March, 1901, the republican party of South Omaha will hold its primary election between the hours of noon and 7 p m, at the following places: First Ward-Collins' music store, Twenty-

Third Ward-Evans' hall. Twenty-eighth and R streets. Fourth Ward-Corner L and Sharp streets. These primaries will be for the purpose of electing seven delegates from each of the said wards to represent the party in convention to be held at Woodman hall at 2 p. m. on March 16, 1901. At this convention there will be placed in nomination three members of the Board of Education, to be elected for a term of three years; four members of the city council, to be elected. one from each ward, for the term of two years, and for the nomination of any other officers, or modification of offices herein named, as may be required by any change in the law, to be elected at the city election on the first Tuesday in the following April, and for the purpose of transacting any other business properly coming before said conventiou

Will Urge Improvements. On Wednesdaay of this week committees from the East Side Improvement club, the South Side Improvement club of Omaha and the city council will wait upon the directors of the Omaha Street Railway company and urge the extension of the Thirteenth street

Within the last few years a great many new dwellings have been erected in the eastern portion of the city and the people naturally object to being compelled to walk to Twenty-fourth street in order to secure transportation to Omaha. The Thirteenth street line is to be extended to the west entrance of Riverview park this spring and an urgent request will be made that the line be brought south on Thirteenth to Missouri avenue and thence west to Twenty-fourth street.

A proposition is also on foot to secure means to construct a bridge across the Burlington tracks at the foot of Missou avenue in order that there may be a public road to the river.

City Treasurer's Statement. In comparison with former years January tax receipts show a remarkable increase The city treasurer's books for January have just been balanced and an increase of $12,-000 in collections is shown. A statement of January taxes, commencing with 1896, follows: 1896, $34,595.38; 1897, $25,914.84; 1898, $34,531.82; 1899, $47,268.04; 1900, $59,623.58;

1901, $71,803.21. Of the total amount collected in January $51,767.80 was paid in for regular taxes and $20,035.41 collected from other sources. City Treasurer Koutsky is naturally well pleased at the showing made, and said yesterday that he proposed keeping right on collecting taxes as fast as he possibly can.
