

FUNERAL PLANS COMPLETE

Distinguished Dead to Rest in State Saturday Afternoon.

FUNERAL SERVICES THE NEXT DAY

Public Ceremonies to Be on Impressive Scale, with Many Distinguished Citizens in Attendance.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—The arrangements for the funeral of Benjamin Harrison, ex-president of the United States, have been completed. The body will lie in state at the capitol Saturday from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening, and the funeral services will be held from the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. M. C. Haines officiating.

The funeral will be attended by many of the noted men of the United States. President McKinley and members of his cabinet will be here. Governor Yates of Illinois telegraphed that he will be here, attended by his staff. Governor Nash of Ohio with his staff will attend the funeral. Governor Durbin of Indiana sent a notice of General Harrison's death to the governors of many states and it is the belief that the majority of them will come. The members of General Harrison's cabinet have sent word that they will attend and it is the intention to have them act as honorary pallbearers.

The railroads have made arrangements for a rate of one fare for the round trip, which will have the effect of greatly increasing the crowds. Many different state and city organizations held meetings today and took action on the death of the noted statesman.

In the morning a meeting attended by Governor Durbin, state officials, representatives of the family and citizens was held in the governor's parlors and arrangements were made for the funeral. The Merchants' association of Indianapolis held a meeting this afternoon and drafted a memorial on the death of General Harrison. Arrangements have been made for a joint meeting of the state and Marion county bar associations to be held in the senate chamber at the state house tomorrow afternoon.

C. N. Kendall, superintendent of the public schools, has issued an order recommending that a part of Friday be devoted to the life and services of General Harrison and that the teachers speak of his life in connection with the history of the United States, of his services as a soldier, as a senator and as a president of the United States.

City and County Offices to Close. The city and county offices will be closed Saturday at 11 o'clock in honor of General Harrison. Mayor Tarkenton has called a special council meeting for tomorrow morning to take action on his death. The State Bar association has issued an order requesting that the circuit courts throughout the state be closed Saturday.

The body will lie in the state capitol Saturday from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. All arrangements have been completed and the body will be taken from the capitol Saturday morning, accompanied by a military escort composed of the National guard and Grand Army posts. By order of Governor Durbin, James K. Gore, adjutant general, issued orders for the mobilization of the entire National guard. Saturday there will be a military display, but the exercises Sunday will be unostentatious.

All of the members of General Harrison's cabinet have been heard from with the exception of Redfield Proctor, who is now in Cuba. Telegrams have been received from B. F. Tracy, secretary of the navy; Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury; John W. Noble, secretary of the interior; C. S. Elikins, secretary of war; John W. Foster, secretary of state, and John W. Vanamaker, postmaster general.

Former President Cleveland telegraphed that it will be impossible for him to attend. Telegrams have been received from Governor Beckham of Kentucky, Governor Nash of Ohio, Governor Dietrich of Nebraska and others.

Among the telegrams received from foreign lands are those from Wu Ting Fang, Mexican Ambassador Azpiroz, T. Degeau, commissioner from Porto Rico; Sir Richard Webster of London, who was chief counsel for Great Britain in the famous Venezuela case, and Holsten, imperial German ambassador. Telegrams were received from the department of Minnesota, Grand Army of the Republic, the faculty and president of DePaul university, the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, the Marquette club of Chicago, Burnside post No. 8, department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic; the board of trustees of Purdue university; the Young Men's Republican club of Philadelphia; Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, General J. M. Schofield, John Philip Sousa, who was leader of the Marine band while General Harrison was president; Charles C. Neel, chief justice of the court of claims; John G. Woolley, Charles Emory Smith and many other distinguished men.

Flags are at half-mast and buildings are draped in mourning. While the body lies in state tomorrow morning all the merchants in the city will drape their places in mourning and business practically will be suspended.

laborer we had known at the bar. The duties of that high office did not overtax him. He met them earnestly, laboriously. Impartial history will ascribe to his administration high and honorable rank. "General Harrison hated shame and abhorred profligates. He was serious-minded, and by the unreflecting was sometimes thought to be cold and wanting in sympathy. The truth is there have been no kinder, gentler men. Those who have sat within the charmed circle of his personal confidence know how warm and genial his heart was."

STATE CASKET IS SELECTED

Made of Red Cedar, Plain in Its Adornments—Fitting to Cover Funeral Car.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—Late this afternoon W. H. Miller, Colonel Russell Harrison, Secretary Tibbitt and Colonel Randall, who is in constant attendance at the Harrison home, visited an undertaking establishment, selected a casket and gave directions concerning the funeral arrangements.

What is known as a state casket was decided upon. It is made of red cedar and is provided with a copper lining, which makes the compartment absolutely air tight. Over the copper is a silk lining, on which the body will rest. The casket is decorated at the corners with simply hand-carved ornaments and has a heavy carved molding. The top is absolutely plain and the only ornament will be a plain oxidized plate, on which will be engraved the words, "Benjamin Harrison, 1823-1901."

The covering is of black broadcloth. Heavy oxidized handles and ornaments will be used. The casket complete will weigh nearly 200 pounds. A heavy red cedar outside box will be used with the casket. It will be deposited in an airtight vault and the casket will then be placed inside. The casket will be removed to the home tomorrow afternoon and the body will then be prepared for burial and placed in it.

The body will remain in the room where the death occurred and where it has been stored until after it has been placed in the casket, when it will be taken to the double parlors in the south side of the house. Here it will remain until Saturday morning, when it will be taken to the state house to lie in state throughout that day and until 10 o'clock at night. It will again be placed there on the return from the capitol.

Flag Over Funeral Car.

Four black horses will be used to draw the hearse, which will be draped in black. A large American flag will be thrown over the top of the funeral car, falling down about the sides. Black rosettes with long flowing streamers will be attached to the horses' bridles.

The vault at Crown Hill, where the body is to be placed, is now being constructed. General Harrison will lie at the right side of Mrs. Harrison, who is buried in the family lot, which is located in one of the loveliest spots in the cemetery, which is widely noted for its beauty. It is situated immediately at the foot of a grassy knoll that rises toward the west, and is surrounded by shade trees which in summer add greatly to the beauty. Not far away are the tombs of Oliver P. Morton, Thomas A. Hendricks and William H. English, and the graves of the unnumbered heroes who gave their lives for their country in the civil war.

Memories of a Personal Friend.

A. L. Mason, a lawyer and personal friend, in telling of his last call on General Harrison, a few days before his last illness, said today: "We conversed on a variety of subjects. I had just finished reading his article on the Beer war and rallied him by saying that when he should go abroad the next time he would not be an acceptable guest at the English court. He answered with great quickness: 'I can go to see Kruger.' He talked for a time about the Presbyterian creed. He was the chairman of the committee on revision. He took up the Cuban question. His point on this before we had placed ourselves in a position before the world when our strategy in dealing with Cuba could justly be questioned. He was emphasizing his former statement that the moral law bound the honor of nations as well as of individuals. His reference to the Philippines and Porto Rican matters expressed surprise that the supreme court of the United States had not yet handed down its decision.

Funeral Arrangements Made.

The state office met this forenoon at the state house with W. H. Miller and Daniel M. Randall, representing the Harrison family, and arranged for the funeral of General Harrison. The general plan agreed on was for the body to lie in state at the state house Saturday afternoon, the funeral services, conducted by Rev. M. L. Haines, who had been the general's pastor for years, to be held in the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Governor Durbin and Secretary Wilson were among the first to call at the Harrison home last night to extend sympathy to the family. The governor asked that the body lie in the state house for a time, so that all who wish to view the statesman may do so, and the request was granted. The body will be buried at Crown Hill in the family lot.

MANY SEND CONDOLENCES

Constant Stream of Telegrams Being Received at Harrison Home.

ONE FROM EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND

Former Members of Harrison Cabinet All Represented—Testimony of Universal Sorrow at Death of General Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 14.—No sooner was the news of the death of ex-President Harrison flashed to the world than the messages of inquiry which had been pouring in for several days changed to messages of sympathy and condolence. During the first part of last night a large number of such messages were received from every section of the country, and at an early hour this morning there was a steady line of messenger boys to the Harrison home in North Delaware street. The messages came from intimate friends and admirers of the general and from men who had been associated with him in public life at one time or another. The greater part of them were of such an intimate, personal nature that Mr. Harrison felt that their contents should not be given to the public. One of the first messages received was from ex-President Cleveland, who was twice the rival of General Harrison for the presidency, once successful and once defeated. He telegraphed as follows:

PRINCETON, N. J., March 12, 1901.—Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis: Accept my heartfelt sympathy in your affliction which millions share with you.

Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Harlan and Justice McKenna of the supreme court sent messages expressing their grief and sympathy last night. Former cabinet members also sent messages of sympathy. All the members of General Harrison's cabinet when he was president sent telegrams. Messages were received from Charles Foster, who was secretary of the treasury; John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state, the latter telegraphing from California, where he is en route to Washington; ex-Secretary of War and Senator S. B. Elkins, ex-Secretary of the Navy General Benjamin F. Tracy, ex-Secretary of the Interior John W. Noble and ex-Postmaster General John W. Vanamaker. The latter telegraphed that he would be here to attend the funeral of General Harrison and it is expected that a number of other ex-cabinet officers will be present.

Among other men of prominence from whom messages were received last night were ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan, Senor Aspiror, the Mexican minister at Washington; Murat Halstead and William McAdoo. The latter was assistant secretary of the navy under President Cleveland.

This morning the first message received was that of President McKinley. This was followed in a few minutes by a telegram from Whiteley Reid, who was the nominee for vice president on the ticket in 1892 with General Harrison. Reid telegraphed Mrs. Harrison from Millbrae, Cal., as follows:

We are profoundly shocked by this sudden and terrible bereavement and sympathize with you in the expression of sincere and deep sympathy. The first cablegram to be received by Mrs. Harrison came at 8:50 this morning. It was from First Assistant Secretary Jackson of the American embassy in Berlin. Mr. Jackson received his appointment to this position from President Harrison during his late incumbency of the White House. He is now American charge d'affaires. The message was an expression of grief and Mr. Jackson felt the loss of a personal friend.

The second cablegram came a few minutes later from Addison C. Harris of Indianapolis, United States minister to Australia.

Messages were received from John Philip Sousa, who was head of the Marine band while General Harrison was president; John G. Woolley, the prohibition candidate for president; Senator Hale of Maine, Governor Dietrich of Nebraska and scores of others.

President to Attend Funeral.

The president will leave Washington at 7:45 tonight for the Pennsylvania railroad for Canton, where he will proceed Saturday night for Indianapolis to attend the funeral of General Harrison.

Legislatures Pass Resolutions of Respect and Extend Sympathy to the Harrison Family.

LINCOLN, March 14.—The senate today adopted a resolution ordering the flag over the chamber placed at half-mast until after the funeral of General Harrison. Resolutions eulogistic of the dead ex-president were also adopted.

IN MANY OF THE STATES

Legislatures Pass Resolutions of Respect and Extend Sympathy to the Harrison Family.

LINCOLN, March 14.—The senate today adopted a resolution ordering the flag over the chamber placed at half-mast until after the funeral of General Harrison. Resolutions eulogistic of the dead ex-president were also adopted.

Resolutions of Eulogy.

ANNAPOLIS, March 14.—The house of delegates in special session today adopted resolutions eulogizing the memory of the late Benjamin Harrison and declaring that "his death has removed from the sphere of activity and usefulness a citizen of our common country whose distinguished talents as a statesman and whose unblemished private life mark him as a conspicuous product of America manhood and citizenship."

Harrison and the members of the Harrison household secured the first rest they have had for six days, last night. Mrs. Harrison had not slept four hours since last Thursday, when the general was attacked by the fatal illness, and she had been almost continually at his side during the entire time. Her mental and physical condition was such that she has been unable to take any nourishment except a very little at rare intervals.

When the end came she collapsed completely, but finally rallied, and last night and this morning she was able to get her first real rest. Mrs. Caroline F. Stroud of New York, an intimate friend of Mrs. Harrison, is with her.

E. F. Tibbitt, General Harrison's private secretary, had not had his clothes off for seven nights until last night and had been in constant attendance, either at the general's side or in looking after the affairs of the household, answering unnumbered inquiries, sending out the physicians' bulletins and receiving callers.

Watching Over Body. Clifford Arrick, Samuel D. Miller and Dr. F. O. Dorsey watched last night over the body of the ex-president. The body lies in the nursery where the end came and will not be removed until it is taken to the capitol to lie in state.

Russell B. Harrison, the general's son, who arrived late last night, spent the night with W. H. Miller. Mrs. Russell Harrison and their son arrived at noon today.

Mrs. Mary Harrison McKee, the general's daughter, and her husband, arrived at noon today from Saratoga, N. Y.

Today there were many callers at the Harrison home, and those who came to offer their sympathy to the family and to tender their sympathy in the bereavement which had come to them. Mrs. Tibbitt received these callers for Mrs. Harrison, who was unable to receive a large number of the most intimate friends of the family.

Ex-President's Last Words. The last intelligent words spoken by General Harrison were to his wife Tuesday afternoon, shortly before he lapsed into total unconsciousness. At that time Mrs. Harrison asked him if he recognized her, and he replied that he did. At noon of the same day he recognized his aunt, Mrs. New-comer, feebly greeting her as "aunt" when she came to his bedside. In the sick man's delirium, which lasted from late Sunday night until he became totally unconscious Tuesday afternoon, his mind wandered back over the great scenes of his life. Now he was the soldier charging with his column and now a statesman speaking before the convention that nominated him for president.

Messages of Sympathy. Among the many messages of condolence received by Mrs. Harrison today were these:

COLUMBIUS, O., March 14.—The nation mourns with you in the death of General Harrison. He served well his state and country and has left the rich heritage of a great and stainless name to his family and friends, who will proudly cherish it forever.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Mrs. Bliss joins me in the expression of sorrow and great sympathy for yourself and family in this hour of great bereavement.

CORNELLIUS, N. J., March 14.—Accept the sincere sympathy of Besse and myself in this hour of great sorrow and grief.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Mrs. Sewell joins me in tenderest sympathy in your great bereavement.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Our sincere sorrow and sympathy.

MELVILLE, W. V., March 14.—I deeply sympathize with you in your sad bereavement.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—You have the earnest sympathy of this family in the death of the great, wise and patriotic citizen, your husband.

GEORGETOWN, Md., March 14.—The chief justice of the United States, Sir Richard Webster, who was chief counsel for Great Britain in the famous Venezuela case, sends a cable as follows:

Accept our heartfelt sympathy.

COLUMBIUS, O., March 14.—You have the love and sympathy of Ohio in your great affliction. The people esteemed and loved General Harrison and mourn with you.

GEORGETOWN, Md., March 14.—Our deepest sympathy.

LONDON, March 14.—Our deepest sympathy.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 14.—Concurrent resolutions extending to the bereaved family and the nation sympathy in the death of former President Harrison.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The national capital is in mourning today for ex-President Harrison. Flags are at half-mast. The proclamation issued by President McKinley is as follows:

To the People of the United States: Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States from 1889 to 1893, died yesterday at 4:45 p. m. at his home in Indianapolis. In his death the country has been deprived of one of its dearest citizens. A brilliant soldier in his young manhood, he gained fame and rapid advancement by his energy and valor. As a lawyer he rose to be a leader of the bar. In the senate he at once took and retained high rank as an orator and legislator and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen, in which his memory is held by the government and the people of the United States. I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be lowered at half mast for a period of thirty days, and suitable military and naval honors, and in the