The Modern California Prune.

There is ground for the theory that the prune as a steady diet came into general favor about the time the Jokers, for the home obtained. For each beyond the memory of the first oldest inhabitant, of whom we have written on legendary knowledge, the prune was an established and honored institution. Ancient soothsayers have handed down to us the Jokers and puns about this humble fruit and each succeeding generation has heard them, laughed and handed them down to posterity. There may be cause for this; there may be prunes upon the market today as ancient and time-honored as some of the Jokers, for the prune has not always been accorded fair treatment. It has been and is still a cheap and nutritious article of diet, filling many a long-felt want at trifling cost, and the careless handling and packing in bulk has done much to bring it into disrepute. It has been bought in quantities, stored away and allowed to accumulate a musty odor, and other things, until the people have gathered together and condemned the good and had alike. But times have changed. The modern California prune is the equal of any fruit served upon the table; as dainty and delicious as any in nutrition the superior of all. The California Cured Fruit association has demonstrated anew the value of the prune as an article of diet, and is so satisfied that its light shall remain hidden beneath a bushel. This "joke" of the boarding house is to be accorded its proper place in domestic economy. Scores of practical recipes have been prepared, showing how to serve the fruit as substantial diet, delicious dessert or dainty confection. The prune trade will be revolutionized. The fruit is carefully selected, inspected and packed in small boxes. The greatest care is exercised at every stage of handling and shipping and the final result is found upon the shelves of every first-class grocer, a pure, clean, wholesome and dainty fruit, suitable for serving in an hundred tempting forms.

The California Cured Fruit association of San Jose, Cal., is spending money lavishly to introduce this fruit in its new form and issues, a book containing 100 recipes for preparing prunes in every way. These recipes were obtained in a prize contest participated in by the very best cooks and chefs of California. Together with a "Prune Primer," which will delight the children, this book will be sent free on request.

Morton's paper, the Conservative, of the 21st Inst., contained the following notice of the forthcoming "History of Nebraska":

"The well known publishing house of Jacob North & Co., Lincoln, Neb., will soon bring out the 'History of Nebraska,' of which Dr. George A. Miller and J. Sterling Morton are the supervising editors. These volumes will contain biographies of prominent citizens in each county and record as faithfully as possible the development of Nebraska from its earliest settlement down to 1901. All citizens having historical data supposed to be of value are requested to send the same to the address of Mr. Morton, care of Jay Ames Barrett, State Historical Society, Lincoln, Neb. The publication will be hurried up and all data to be used must be sent in at once."

"Will the Coming Educated Woman Marry?" is the title of the popular lecture to be given by Dr. A. C. Hirst next Tuesday night, March 26, at the First Methodist Episcopal church. This lecture has been received with highest favor by enthusiastic audiences in the eastern cities and cities on the Pacific coast. Dr. Hirst has a national reputation as an eloquent orator. He is a combination of enthusiasm, brilliancy and intellectuality.

May He Suicide or Murder.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—After searching for burglars, which he believed were in the house, Frank E. Scott, a pattern maker about 40 years old, was found dead with his throat cut in the passageway outside his home shortly after midnight. A razor lay beside the body. At first it was thought that a murder had been committed, but the police, after making an investigation, express the opinion that it is a case of suicide, surrounded, however, by peculiar circumstances.
