ENLARGES THE UNIVERSITY

John A. Creighton Gives Addition to College of His Name.

COSTS SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Plans Provide for a Large Auditorium on the Ground Floor with Stage to Accommodate Public Entertainments.

Through the generosity of John A. Creighton a new building to cost $75,000 is to be added to Creighton university. The contract for the erection of the building has been awarded to P. J. Creighton & Son. In announcing this latest acquisition President Dowling of the university said: It is of almost daily occurrence to hear that Carnegie or some other multi-millionaire has given large sums for educational institutions and libraries in various parts of the country. Omaha has not been favored with any of these donations, but it is even more gratifying to learn that its garden needs will be supplied by one of its own citizens. The building is a noble monument to generosity and charity. It will make a liberal donation for the benefit of the university. For several years he has devoted his attention chiefly to the material progress of the university. In consequence this city possesses in the John A. Creighton Memorial college one of the best equipped and up-to-date institutions of the kind in the west. The building is a noble monument to generosity and charity. TALK OF NEW RAILROAD

Projectors of Enterprise Seek Financial Co-operation of Omaha People.

There was a meeting last night for the purpose of considering the extension of the Kansas Southern railroad into the city of Omaha. The railroad company was represented by its president, Charles S. Wheeler of Kansas City; its engineer, H. A. Schwaneke of Marshall, Ill.; R. M. Snyder, a Kansas City banker, and Norton Thayer, representing a Kansas City trust company. Among the Omaha men present in the meeting were: Herman Krounce, Euclid Martin, R. S. Peters, W. J. Brounch, E. E. Smith, E. E. Bruce, E. M. Andreesen, P. E. Her and F. A. Brogan. The principal inquiry of the local men was relative to the object and desire of the railroad representatives. They stated that the Kansas Southern is a new railroad enterprise launched by Kansas City and eastern capitalists who have at present western points from Emporia, Kan., where it forms a junction with the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad and the Santa Fe system. The object of the company is to build a line to connect northwestern points with the southwestern railway system, thus opening direct communication with gulf ports. Briefly stated their object in visiting Omaha was to see if the citizens would join them in building the line. Several phases of the question were discussed informally and it was learned that the company expected the city or county to issue $250,000 in bonds in aid of the road to secure its entrance into Omaha. The Omaha citizens present would neither endorse nor reject the plan proposed by the railroad company, but asked that it be left to the citizens of the community to pass upon, and with that understanding the meeting adjourned. It was then decided by the Omaha people to ask the commercial club to call a public meeting within a week to consider the proposition and if thought desirable to devise ways and means of raising the money required by the company. It was stated that at this time the Kansas City men have said nothing in regard to enlisting Omaha capital in the construction of the road other than through municipal or county bonds, but that it is probable that some of the Omaha capitalists will be given an opportunity to purchase capital stock if they desire. Habitual constipation is the door through which many of the serious ills of the body find their way. The occasional use of Prickly Ash Bitters will remove and cure this distressing condition.

South Omaha News

The deadlock in the council is getting to be a serious matter. Considerable business of importance has accumulated and still a quorum is regularly broken. From what can be learned the whole trouble is over the redistricting of the city. Each member of the council seems to be afraid that the others are trying to "job" him, and consequently there is little show for a quorum before Monday night, when the vote is to be canvassed. All the trouble appears to be over the redistricting of the city. All four of the outgoing councilmen want to have the wards cut so as to leave them in office another year, and therefore the contention. It is asserted that those who continually break a quorum want to have the matter of dividing the city over until after the natural terms of Clifton, Johnston, File and Trainer expire. This will then leave four councilmen in the field and permit the mayor to appoint two councilmen after the ordinance dividing the city has been passed. Three different schemes are now afoot to cut the city into six wards, and it may be that all these will be discarded when the time comes and a substitute ordinance offered which will be agreeable to a majority of the members. Special Easter Music.

All of the churches have made preparations for special music Easter Sunday. In the First Presbyterian church the choir will consist of Mrs. Nellie G. Sage, soprano; Miss Mabel C. Rich, alto; James C. Carley, tenor; James B. Smith, bass. In addition there will be a boys' choir under the direction of Mrs. Sage. Mrs. Lucy S. Eads will act as organist. Rev. Dr. Wheeler will officiate. A vested choir will sing in St. Martin's Episcopal church. This will be composed of men and boys in cassock and cotta, and women and girls in cap and gown. At this service the new choir stalls recently erected will be used for the first time. The Easter choir will be devoted to paying for these new stalls, which cost $200. Rev. Irving P. Johnson will conduct the service and preach the Easter sermon. Rev. J. A. Johnson will have charge of the services in the First Methodist Episcopal church both morning and evening, and a special musical program has been arranged. The pastor's topic at the morning service will be "The Message of Easter." Great preparations have been made by Rev. D. W. Moriarty of St. Agnes to make this Easter a memorable one in the history of the parish. Masses will be said at 5:30, 8, 9 and 10:30. The last mass at 10:30 will be a solemn high mass. Rev. M. F. Byrne will be celebrant. Rev. D. W. Moriarty deacon and Rev. P. McCarthy sub-deacon. Father McCarthy of Omaha will preach the sermon. The special musical features will be by Miss Agnes O'Connor, Miss Theresa Desmond, Richard O'Neil, Frank Mahon, Mr. O'Halloran, Miss Belle Wilson, Miss Lizzie Lang, J. P. Gallagher, Miss Kate Desmond and W. J. McGrann.

Mayor Stock Sale.

The stormy condition of the weather has caused a temporary stop to the construction of the new pavilion at the stock yards, but Engineer King said yesterday that as soon as the storm was over he would put on an increased force of men in order to make up for lost time. It is expected that the pavilion will be completed May 4. These sales have been booked by the management of the Union Stock Yards company. May 8-9, Everett King, Spring Valley, Minn., 111 head of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. On these dates Canteen Bros. & Stevenson of Quincy, Ill., will sell 100 head of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. May 29 P. P. Healy of Bedford, Ia., will offer sixty-six head of Shorthorns for sale. A two days' sale in October and one in December have been booked. It is expected that with the completion of the new pavilion there will be frequent sales here, as inquiries for dates are being made nearly every day.

Teachers Discuss Methods.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Several hundred teachers from educational institutions in Illinois and neighboring states were here today at the opening session of the fifth annual convention of the North Central History Teachers' association. Methods of teaching history in high schools were discussed by Herbert M. Bolton of the Milwaukee Normal school, Evaris B. Green of the University of Illinois, and Frank Hunscher, principal of the Decatur (Ill.) high school. The meeting will close tomorrow with the election of officers. It has grown up with the country for forty years. Cook's Imperial Extra Dry Champagne has been a household word.

The Bridal Feast

Is not infrequently followed by a long, lenten period of enforced fasting and self-mortification. The cheek grows hollow of the eyes are dull and deep ringed, and the step is slow and languid. There is an "all dragged-out feeling," which makes life an utter burden. The great functional changes which follow marriage are not usually anticipated, or the wife suffering might be avoided.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best friend of weak and sickly women. It cures the womanly diseases that rob the eye of brightness and the step of lightness. It tones up the system and establishes the womanly organism on a basis of sound health.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotics. Accept no substitute. There is no other medicine "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"I had been a great sufferer from female weakness for about two years," writes Mrs. Emma Richardson of Gosh, Wayne Co., Ky. "Could not do my work part of the time. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and felt as well as ever."

Young married women will find a lasting friend in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. It contains 1008 pages and is sent free (in paper cover), on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Cloth binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
