

BOLLS WILL BE RELEASED

Authentic Report Says He Will Be Paroled by Governor.

TEN-YEAR SENTENCE TO BE COMMUTED

Having Served First Sentence in Full, Bolls Can Be Paroled After First Year of Second Sentence.

It is stated on good authority that Henry Bolls, the former city treasurer of Omaha, who is serving time at the state penitentiary, will soon be a free man. Governor Dietrich is expected to issue the papers that will release Bolls from prison within the next week or two. Bolls was convicted on three separate charges and given three separate sentences, one of four years, one of five years and one of ten years, making nineteen years in all. The governor has it within his power to give the prisoner a full pardon, but this he will not do. Under the law a prisoner cannot be paroled until he has served the minimum penalty provided for the crime for which he was convicted, and in Bolls's case the minimum penalty provided for a parole would ordinarily apply until he had served out his first and second sentences and begun on his third. It is proposed, however, to commute the third sentence and parole the prisoner on the second. Bolls has served about six years, the full time of his first sentence and more than a year of the second. With the third sentence commuted and out of the way it will be possible for the governor to parole him on the second sentence, and this is what will be done, according to an authentic report.

A newspaper dispatch from Lincoln quotes Senator Baldridge as saying that he has been endeavoring to secure a pardon for Bolls for several years. The senator says he has been misquoted and denies that he has ever made an attempt to have the governor issue a pardon in the case. "I have with several hundred other citizens of Omaha, asked the governor to release Bolls on parole," says Senator Baldridge, "but I have never even signed a petition for a pardon. I believe that Bolls, on account of his physical condition and the disapproval of his family, ought to be paroled, and to secure his release in this way I have done what many other citizens have done and nothing more."

Senator Baldridge was the county attorney who prosecuted Bolls and secured his conviction on three charges.

SENATOR MILLARD BESIEGED

Those Who Would Have Postoffice or Minor Clerkships Don't Hesitate to Make the Fact Known.

Senator Millard is still hearing from his friends throughout the state, some of whom communicate with him by letter, others in person. Some drop in to extend belated congratulations, but the greater number of his callers wish to consult with him in reference to some appointive office. The senator takes it all good-naturedly and seems rather to enjoy it. "So far my visitors who want office have been confined to those in the city who would have minor clerical positions, while those from the country are after country postoffices," said he. "I had no idea that there would be such struggles for offices which pay from $100 to $500 a year, but from the interest taken in the matter by the applicants and their friends I am beginning to believe that much of the happiness of the people depends upon getting the right man for these places."

DR. LOWRIE ARRIVES HOME

President of Presbyterian Theological Seminary Reports Bright Prospects.

Dr. M. B. Lowrie, president of the Presbyterian Theological Institute, has returned from a visit to the east, where he went in the interests of the seminary. At that meeting plans for the construction of the new buildings in Kountze Place will be considered and probably an architect employed to draft plans for the construction.

KANSAS SOUTHERN IS NEXT

New Railroad Wants Right of Way Into Omaha—Commercial Club to Consider Project.

The Kansas Southern railroad is looking for a way into Omaha, to be used in case satisfactory arrangements are made with the city for its construction. President Wheeler of the road had a conference Monday evening with John R. Webster of the East Omaha Bridge and Terminal company, during which the question of using the tracks of the company between Omaha and South Omaha was considered. The matter was discussed in an informal manner and at the close of the interview neither gentlemen would make a statement for publication as to the conclusion reached. It is understood that the East Omaha company will consider the proposition as soon as the question of the construction of the Kansas Southern is determined.

The construction of the road depends to a great extent upon the decision of the Commercial club, which will hold a meeting Friday night to hear the proposition of the promoters. At the meeting of the executive committee of the club today Euclid Martin reported on behalf of Herman Kountze and other persons who met the Kansas City men last week. The Omaha members of the conference asked that the Commercial club consider the matter and advocated the adoption of the proposition, which, they said, would be a good thing for the city, as the proposed line crosses, in its route to Emporia, eight lines through the states of Kansas and Nebraska, which now carry trade to southern points on the Missouri River.

At the meeting of the executive committee the proposed route of the new line was shown. It will, if constructed according to present plans, extend through the counties of Douglas, Cass, Otoe, Johnson and Pawnee in Nebraska, and the counties of Nemaha, Marshall, Pottawatomie, Wau-bansee and Lyons in Kansas, being an air line from Omaha to the southern terminus. Invitations will be issued by the secretary of the Commercial club inviting such persons into conference Friday night as are believed to be interested in the project, and it is expected that the latter will be finally settled at the meeting.

BIDS FOR INDIAN SUPPLIES

Contracts to Be Awarded in Chicago to Successful Competitors.

OMAHA DEALERS ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Superintendent Jordan of the Supply Depot Goes to Windy City—Additional Bids to Be Opened in New York.

Bids for Indian supplies were opened in Chicago yesterday and last evening R. C. Jordan, superintendent of the depot at Omaha, went to the Windy City to be present at their consideration today. For the first time in the history of the department Omaha and Nebraska bidders will take part in the annual contracting. Dealers from the city and state have submitted bids for supplying bacon, barley, beans, beef, dressed and on the hoof, coffee, corn, meal, feed, bran and shorts, flour, hardtack, hominy, lard, mess pork, oats, rice, salt, sugar, tea, groceries, boots and shoes, crockery and lamps, saddles, harness and leather, agricultural implements, wagons and wagon fixtures, glass, oil and paint, hardware and stores and medical supplies, all of which will be awarded at Chicago.

It is estimated that the total value of the goods bid upon by Omaha dealers will aggregate $2,500,000 and that this sum will be increased at least $1,000,000 by bids from the state. Not only in Chicago have bids been submitted, but Omaha wholesalers have gone into the bidding, which will be held at New York May 15. Bids will be received at that time for blankets, woolen and knit goods, clothing, hats and caps and notions. With the exception of the hats and caps Omaha men will go after contracts on all the supplies to be awarded and if they are successful the Indian bureau of the interior department will leave at least $3,000,000 this year in the city and state.

J. C. GARDINER'S BUSY SEASON

Aforementioned "J. C." Being a Dressmaker, Has No Time for Jury Service.

"J. C. Gardiner" was the way the name appeared on the jury list. There was nothing to show that J. C. Gardiner was a dressmaker and that J. stood for Jessie and not for John, so Judge Keyser ordered her subpoenaed as a juror.

Monday the juror received a letter from Miss Gardiner, 1519 Dodge street, asking to be excused from service. "I appreciate your kindness in waiting until after the Easter rush was over," she wrote, "but this is the opening of the spring season, you know, and I have several suits on hand to make and several others to alter, and I don't see how I can get away." The juror notified her that she was excused.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF?

Greatest European Authority on Skin Disease Says It's a Germ.

The old idea was that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off through a feverish condition of the scalp. Prof. Una, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up the scales of cuticle and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and causes a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing.

City Authorities Determine Upon a Conservative Course Relative to Lights.

After the general committee meeting of the council Monday afternoon the members gathered in Mayor Moore's office and had a private discussion of the ordinance allowing the New Omaha Thomson-Houston Electric Light company to bury its wires in the business portion of the city. The mayor and councilmen agreed that this is a matter which does not require immediate action and decided to seek information concerning the price paid for electric lights in other cities and the best means of burying wires before taking any action.
