Several petitions from property owners in the Fourth ward have been filed, in which they ask that the streets in which they are interested be paved with asphaltum. Some declared themselves in favor of home-made brick, while others have expressed a preference for the Galesburg brick. No computation has been made of the frontage of not known whether they represent a majority.

Protests have been filed against paving vigorous protest has also been filed against the paving of Park avenue between Pomona street and the entrance to Fairmount park. There are no residences on the west side of this portion of Park avenue and the lots slope towards Glen avenue. It is claimed that the abutting property will not be sufficiently benefited to bear the assessment for the cost of the improvement.

House's father is dying and wants to see him. The police were unable to locate House last night, or learn that he was a resident of this city.

In his annual report, filed with the council Monday night, City Engineer Etnyre called attention to the necessity of having all the sewer, gas and water mains and laterals laid on those streets proposed to be paved. He suggested that this be done at once on some of the streets. This matter will, it is expected, be taken up at the meeting this afternoon.

Engineer Etnyre also recommended that 660 obstacle to travel.

TAX FERRET HELPS COUNTY

Secures Over Ten Thousand Dollars that Officials Overlooked. The work of F. M. Cunningham, tax fer ret, in bringing to light property which has been omitted from assessment and consequent taxation is bearing fruit and the county treasury has been enriched by many thousands of dollars which otherwise would never have been paid in. While there is some question as to the right of the county board to contract to pay Cunningham a sum equal to 50 per cent of all the money paid into the treasury through his efforts, County Treasurer Arnd says there is no question but that it is a good thing for the county. Treasurer Arnd estimates that already over $10,000 has been paid in on property which had been omitted from assessment and which had been discovered by Cunningham and there are many thousands of dol lars yet in sight. If Cunningham succeeds in having his contract with the county board sustained by the courts his earnings up to date will exceed $5,000. County Attorney Killpack yesterday, or behalf of Treasurer Arnd, filed a petition in the district court asking that the estate of day. Fred Leutzinger be reopened and the administrators ordered to pay $5,438.86 alleged to be due as taxes on personal property which had been omitted from assessment for the last five years. Leonard Leutzinger. Thomas Maloney and C. Hammel are the administrators of the estate. They filed their final report January 11 with the court and same was approved and the period in which the estate could be re- years: opened will expire today. The petition states that the administrators failed to list for taxation any part of the personal property owned by the estate. Leutzinger died October 4, 1895, leaving a valuable estate. Cunningham reported to the county treasurer that the estate owned personal prop-
