

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $3.00...

OFFICES: Omaha, The Bee Building, Twenty-fifth and M Streets.

CORRESPONDENCE. Communications relating to news and editorial matters should be addressed to Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

BUSINESS LETTERS. Business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company, Omaha.

REMITTANCES. Remit by draft, express or postal order payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. I, George B. DeLoach, Secretary of the Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, depose that the actual number of full and complete copies of the Daily, Morning, Evening and Sunday Bee printed during the month of March, 1901, was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Date, Circulation, Total. Rows show daily circulation from 1st to 31st of March, ending with a total of 807,575.

Net total sales, 804,787. Net daily average, 26,314.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, A. D. 1901. M. B. LUNGA, Notary Public.

Religious revivals are all right in their way, but they will never supplant the constant and steady work of the regular churches.

Governor Shaw of Iowa is becoming more and more in demand as an orator of national reputation. Keep your eye on Governor Shaw.

That specie room of the Lloyd liner seems to have proved a more rich and accessible gold mine than any along the bleak coast of Cape Nome.

It is to be hoped the proposed new soap manufacturers' combination will not develop into a crusade against cleanliness. Cheap soap has its advantages.

The river Rhine, fabled in song and story, has thrown its dignity to the winds and is overflowing its banks in the muddy and unromantic fashion of a Nebraska rivulet.

The next scramble will be for the stenographic positions under the new supreme court commission. It is to be hoped, however, that the deadlock habit will not project itself into this function.

If the Filipinos continue to lay down their rifles with the same abandon Uncle Sam will soon be able to fit out his new island soldiery with the equipment of their former brothers-in-arms.

The mass of junk which was once the battleship Maine, having served its portentous purpose in the affairs of men, a Chicago contractor has undertaken to float it for the price of the old iron.

The Russian admiral is sparing neither smiles nor bows in his reception of President Loubet. The bear may be rambling over the possibility that la belle France may some day prove a friend in need.

The recognition of the gold democrats in the makeup of the supreme court commission will doubtless be appreciated by the sound money wing of the democratic party, which still numbers thousands of voters in Nebraska.

Lieutenant Governor Savage is to have a week to experiment as acting governor in advance of his investiture with full gubernatorial powers. There is nothing like getting accustomed to office by leading up to it by slow degrees.

The Filipino junta at London announces that the Americans are about to torture Aguinaldo into a renunciation of his principles. Their amiable leader, in the meantime, is eating three meals a day and esteeming himself a social success.

The order against fast bicycle riding by reckless messenger boys threatens to puncture the stale jokes about the tardy speed of messengers. When anyone speaks about going as fast as a messenger boy he will have to specify whether on foot or on wheel.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ailes has assumed his new duties at the age of 84 years. Eight years ago his function was to keep the departmental offices free of rubbish. For a trust-ridden age when youthful ambition has no scope this is very passable progress.

An Iowa boy has given space in his stomach to a six-inch lizard and a Nebraska has allowed a bubonic plague germ to ingratiate itself into his system. These gastronomic feats would indicate that the twentieth century digestion is still able to carry on its old-time functions.

It turns out that the "two poor little boys" incarcerated in jail for violating the health ordinances of the city, used as subjects for the sympathetic take about the crime of hauling ashes, are two strapping negroes equipped with wives and families. But it would not do to appeal for sympathy for full grown men when it sounds so much better to talk about "poor little boys."

WHERE THE LINE SHOULD BE DRAWN

At the very outset of their careers Nebraska's new senators are being subjected to pressure from two different directions. On the one side, the holders of all the principal federal positions are pleading for retention and on the other side, the rank and file, as well as many party leaders, demand a radical purging of the federal offices of men who have been a drag upon the party or have been notoriously disloyal to its interests.

The two senators were elected without pledges either to officeholders or to office seekers and are in position to govern their action solely with a view to promoting the welfare of the party and insuring its continued supremacy. This is not merely their privilege, but their duty, subordinate only to their devotion to the general welfare of the state and nation.

In determining upon a policy they doubtless will be guided by a desire to rectify the mistakes and undo the blunders committed within the past few years in the distribution of federal patronage. Under the established usage all positions not included in the civil service class are presumed to be earned by party service rather than bestowed as perquisites to personal favorites who have rendered no service. In other words, competency and integrity being prerequisite, the positions in the federal service should be held by men who have contributed to the party success.

Measured by this standard, few, if any, of the men holding important federal offices in Nebraska have any claim for recognition by the new senators. Had the party depended on their efforts, their influence or their contributions to the campaign fund, the fusionists would still occupy the state house and two fusionists would have been elected to the senate instead of Dietrich and Millard. Had the leading federal officeholders been potential even after a republican legislature had been elected by almost superhuman effort, the legislature would have adjourned without electing any senators. It is a matter susceptible of positive proof that the principal federal officers were on the ground during most of the session exerting all their influence to perpetuate the deadlock and made no secret of their desire to prevent any election. Whether they were acting on their own motion or were instigated by National Committeeman Schneider is immaterial. Suffice it to say that they were doing just what Bryan, Allen and the fusion leaders wanted them to do. Suffice it to say further that the success of their efforts meant disaster to the party from which it would have taken years to recover.

COMING IN BY HUNDREDS. The surrender of over seven hundred insurgents is the latest report from General MacArthur. At this rate it cannot be more than a few weeks until all the Filipinos in arms have come in and sworn allegiance to the United States, for it is hardly possible that the number now exceeds five thousand, scattered about in small bands, and very likely it is less. That the capture of Aguinaldo has contributed to this we suppose no one will question, but good work has been done by the federal party in creating among the native people a better impression of American policy and intentions, while the labors of the Taft commission have had a good effect. Such an object lesson as that furnished by the appointment of General Delgado, formerly chief insurgent commander in Panay, as governor of the province of Iloilo, and giving all but one of the official positions to natives, cannot fail to produce a most excellent impression upon the people, since it is the strongest possible evidence that the assurances given by the government of the United States will be fulfilled.

Interest in the Philippines, so far as the military operations are concerned, will speedily end. Indeed, little is felt now, for there is no longer any resistance to American authority that is at all serious or formidable and what remains is rapidly disappearing. It may be necessary to maintain a considerable force in the islands for some time, but it is probable that the regulars now there will be found sufficient, in which event it will be unnecessary to recruit the army to the maximum.

TERMS WILL BE ADHERED TO. Should the Cuban constitutional convention decide to send a commission to Washington to discuss the terms submitted by our government it will receive proper attention, but if it shall come with the idea of securing any change or modification of the American conditions it will be disappointed. This is the authoritative announcement from Washington. So far as the administration is concerned, it has no authority to change or modify the Platt amendment, if it were disposed to do so. Under that amendment American control in Cuba is to be given up only when a government shall have been established in the island under a constitution which, either as a part thereof or in an ordinance appended thereto, shall define the future relations of the United States with Cuba, substantially as prescribed in the Platt amendment.

The administration, therefore, can do nothing but adhere to the conditions and it has no disposition to do otherwise. It is needless to say that the administration had no small part in framing these conditions and consequently would not recede from them if it could. A Cuban commission would be informed that the terms of this government submitted to the constitutional convention can be changed only by congress and that there is not the remotest chance of congress making any change. This ought to be already fully understood. A commission might be of some service in obtaining directly from the president the views and intentions of this government, but it would seem that this is hardly necessary. The Platt amendment is certainly clear as to the attitude of the United States and besides the Cubans have had it explained by Governor General Wood and by numerous members of congress who have recently visited Cuba. However, there is nothing to be appreciated from a commission, even if no good should come of it.

It is the judgment of most of those who have carefully studied the situation in Cuba that in the end all objections will be waived and the Platt amendment accepted. Doubtless this is the opinion at Washington. The chief objection, it appears, is to the third section of the amendment, relative to intervention on the part of the United States for the preservation of Cuban independence and the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty. This is the proposition that is most obnoxious to the radicals and upon which they mainly rely for creating popular opposition to the American terms. And this element appears to be persistently aggressive, while the conservative class manifests little political activity, though it may be quietly exerting a considerable influence. The great body of the people apparently take very little interest in the issue.

While an early change in the situation is possible, the indications are certainly not favorable to it and it seems highly probable that American occupation of Cuba will have to be maintained for an indefinite time. This will be a disadvantage to the island industrially and commercially, since capital will not be invested there to any considerable extent while existing conditions continue.

ANOTHER PEACE RUMOR. A Capetown dispatch states that General Botha is again negotiating with the British for peace. It is said that he has taken this action for the reason that General Dewet, who a few weeks ago refused to accept the British terms and insisted on continuing the war, has become irresponsible owing to falling physical and mental faculties. This feature of the report will cause doubt of its authenticity, since there has been nothing in the recent movements of Dewet to indicate that he was weakening. It is true that he has been somewhat less aggressive, but this is perhaps due to a new plan of campaign which he and Steyn are said to have formulated.

Dewet was last heard of in the northeast corner of the Orange River colony and it was conjectured that the Free State burghers under him and President Steyn had decided to make the northeastern and the eastern part of their country the field of operations, combining with the Transvaalers a general plan of operations against the British communications all along the line. Assuming this to be correct it is easy to understand the late inactivity of Dewet, so far as the British are concerned, but it gives no warrant for assuming that he has become irresponsible.

There is no doubt that Botha desires to end the war and should he surrender the forces under his immediate command it is probable that Steyn and Dewet would soon be compelled to give up. They have a smaller force than Botha and with the latter out of the way the British would doubtless speedily dispose of Dewet. It is intimated that in order to induce Botha to give up the terms hitherto offered by the British may be modified and this is by no means unlikely. But there will be no concession that would in the least impair British rule in the Transvaal.

Now that the supreme court commission has been installed, the lawyers are willing to admit that they expect to be the principal beneficiaries. When the commission was still hanging in the air it was the poor, mistreated litigant about whom they were so sorely solicited. But the average lawyer can reverse himself as readily as the court.

Confirmed by the Almanac. Boston Transcript. It certainly is reassuring to see by the almanac that the sun nowadays is rising regularly each morning, as in years past.

We Are Bound to Stay. Cleveland Leader. Well, if the Cubans do not want to accept this government's terms, the troops will remain in the island. There is no help for it.

Won't Give It Away. The list of those who have gone into Wall street to make their fortunes and have come out laden with wealth takes up very little room in the newspapers.

No May We All. General MacArthur is confident that the reports of the frauds in the commissary department have been grossly exaggerated. Let us hope that the general is better informed in this direction than he was concerning the numerous deaths of Aguinaldo.

Punished Because of Poverty. Detroit Journal. It is announced that China cannot pay the full indemnities because her resources are limited to a petty two hundred or two hundred and fifty millions. Of course the allied powers will not be thwarted by this—they will proceed to punish China for not being richer. The ancient kingdom should have known what was coming.

Charity Begins at Home. Pittsburg Dispatch. There is pertinence in the suggestion that, while the Johnsons are trying to reduce fares in Cleveland, Columbus, New York and Philadelphia, they should neglect Johnstown, Pa. Whatever difficulties they may meet elsewhere, they can do it in Johnstown without the aid or consent of any other corporation. They own the street railway lines there.

Stray Shots at the Peersless. Providence Journal. If Mr. Bryan had attended to his own affairs and not tried to defeat the democratic majority candidates in Chicago and St. Louis, the last vestiges of his prestige might be less bedraggled than they now are. The Bryan influence failed to carry its point in either city. The importance of Mr. Bryan as a political power is becoming more and more damaged as the years roll past.

Promoting Friendship. Philadelphia Ledger. The employment of native Filipinos for the harder work in the navy in their home waters promises to be an important means of promoting friendship between the natives of the United States and the Filipinos, and the Americans, by doing the men are treated kindly. They are undoubtedly better fitted for hot work in a hot climate than the American sailors are, but, on the other hand, it is reported that that few of them are not doing the hard work of any kind, and harsh discipline may have the reverse of a beneficial effect on them. If treated with consideration, it is quite probable that they will learn to respect their new associates and to teach their tribesmen to do the same.

Their Lot Not a Happy One. Minneapolis Times. The crowed ranks of Europe are not any happier than other people just now. They are all pretty uncertainly set on their foundations in one way or another. The czar is a general target for everybody. Emperor Franz Joseph is talked out in whispers by all the old ladies. King Edward is no great shakes of a royal personage now that he doesn't keep up the royal enclosures, and Victor Emmanuel is out with the pope. The young King Alfonso had a chance to make a shining record for himself by keeping out of hot water.

Education in Russia and Japan. The czar's appointment of General Yanovsky, an educational reformer, as minister of education, is an unexpected concession to the liberal sentiment represented by the students. The czar admits "the existence of a crisis in our scholastic system that is so material that it immediately has come to undertake an immediate and thorough revision and improvement."

According to the international year book for 1899, Russia had at least accounts 9,000 pupils, with 923 teachers and 16,326 pupils; 44 other institutions for higher education, with 9,000 pupils; 78,728 elementary schools, with 113,984 teachers and 3,779,818 pupils. The year book stated that 70 per cent of the 265,000 annual recruits for the Russian army were illiterate. A recent official report from the Ministry of Education, however, Russia's figures bear relation to a population of 136,000,000.

Japan, with a population of 42,000,000, has, according to government reports just issued, 45 special schools, including agricultural and technical schools, with 593 teachers and 12,824 students; 236 technical schools with 1,451 instructors and 24,719 students. Of Japanese boys of school age 85.6 per cent are in the public schools; of the girls 59.4 per cent.

THREE TRIUMPHS. Achievements of the United States in Distant Fields of Activity. Philadelphia Press.

Secretary Hay a month ago notified China in a guarded but vigorous note of the grave mistake the empire would commit in assenting to the Manchuria convention. The United States has today in China a more guard. Our army is withdrawn. Our policy is enforced by no overmastering physical force. But the moral weight of the protest was not less. Negotiations were checked at Peking. The other victors saw their way clear to act and advise against success. Japan made ready to express its disapproval. The current which had been setting unchallenged Russia toward success in the other direction and the Manchuria convention, however, was checked. When the army act was passed by congress and the size of the military establishment was fixed at 68,000 for the regular army, with the privilege of increasing the force to 100,000, it was predicted in congress and the country that the United States would be needed for a long warfare in the Philippines. The amnesty proclamation naming May 1 as the last date for taking the oath of allegiance was treated as mere moonshine. But a few weeks have passed and the United States has secured the entire oath of allegiance, with one exception every leading Filipino commander has surrendered, military operations have ceased, only police duty remains and May 1 will see local civil government in operation or will be organized over all the archipelago.

Just over a month ago congress laid down the terms and conditions under which Cuba and the United States could discharge their mutual obligations. The terms were inclusive "jurisdiction, sovereignty and control" and the United States to enforce its promise of peace, order and stability on the island in perpetuity. The rejection of these conditions by the Cuban constitution is an act of betrayal. No such rejection has come. No one doubts today that a majority of the inhabitants and of the property ownership of the island desires the acceptance of the conditions. Senator Sangulany and the republicans of the senate have demanded this. The convention gravitates in this direction. Factions or violent resistance is no longer feared. The Cuban problem approaches a peaceful settlement.

In China, in the Philippines and in Cuba the United States has triumphed. In each of the policy of the administration, patiently pursued, is bringing peace and a wise solution of existing problems. In all three the government of the United States holds a position not only successful but also honorable and to the credit of the majority of the citizens of the United States.

TRUSTS EXPOSING THEMSELVES. Falling Out of Promoters Reveals the Skeleton of Greed. Philadelphia Times. In the experience of the municipal courts the falling out of rogues often furnishes the only means of bringing rogues to justice. Those who have despaired of curbing the power of the industrial trusts to destroy competition and then extort exorbitant prices have offered for sale in the city an attack upon trust methods by the application of a similar principle. The cheated or disappointed members of trust organizations can, by turning state's evidence, so to speak, reveal the inner methods by which the trusts combine their forces to prevent them from becoming extortionate monopolies.

The National Salt company, organized under the laws of New Jersey to absorb other salt-producing concerns and establish a monopoly in table salt, is furnishing an example of this kind just now. It absorbed the United States Salt company of Cleveland, O., a Rockefeller concern, agreeing to give the stock and bondholders of the Cleveland concern stock and other securities to the value of $25,000 for the sum of $1,000,000. It now finds that it has bought a bad bargain and has fled a petition in a Cleveland court asking for the pretended sale set aside.

The chief value to the public in this petition lies in the cry of "murder in the object of the pretended sale and absorption and the elimination of competition and the establishment of a monopoly in salt, a purpose that is made illegal by the Ohio anti-trust laws. The chief difficulty in preventing these trusts from combining their forces for this purpose. In the National Salt company's petition to the court this purpose is admitted, and the method by which it was sought to evade the law is exposed. As a means of keeping the deception it was agreed that the Ohio branch of the trust should retain the name of the United States Salt company, but that it should have the sole monopoly of the Ohio salt trade.

With this exposure of the legal jugglery by which the trusts seek to circumvent the laws against monopolies, lawyers officials charged with the enforcement of anti-trust laws should find their task much easier. While few trusts that are profitable are likely to plead their own violations of law as reason for their continued existence, the purely fictitious nature of these pretended trust purchases of the stock and securities of other concerns in the same business. When all the salt or other necessary articles of consumption in a state, or in the United States, has to be purchased from one concern it ought not to be difficult to establish in court that there has been an illegal combination formed in restraint of trade. With an trust taking the truth about its own methods in court, it ought to be possible to get at the truth about other trusts whenever they want it told of.

FUNSTONS OF OTHER DAYS.

Former Attempts to Capture Leaders of Hostile Forces. New York Sun.

General Funston's achievement in capturing the Arizona rebels earlier attempts made by officers of other armies to make prisoners of the leaders of hostile forces. The first attempt at seizing a general was never carried out. It involved too many persons and the plotters engaged in it worked from the inside, not from without, as Funston did, and their plans were overheard. This was the attempt, in June, 1777, to seize Washington in New York. The plan was changed later to an attempt to poison him. The plans of the conspirators were overheard by a woman, who disclosed them to the American authorities, and as a result the men implicated were captured and punished, one of them, Private Thomas Hickey of Washington's bodyguard, being hanged.

After Arnold's treason and his flight to the British, the Americans made an attempt to seize him. This understanding was given General Funston's exploit. Sergeant Champe of Lee's Legion was the principal actor in the scheme. His plan was known only to the chief in command; so when he deserted to the British his late comrades tried to seize him. He reached the enemy's lines under a shower of bullets, narrowly escaping with his life. This was an excellent introduction to the British, and Champe was received with open arms. But he was unsuccessful; Arnold moved his headquarters the day on which Champe had straggled to the British, and Champe had finally to desert from the English and return, again under fire, to our lines. When Washington wished soon after to promote him for his gallantry he found that Champe had died of disease.

The capture of the British general, Prescott, in July, 1777, was perhaps the first successful attempt of the kind. General Prescott commanded the British forces in the army of the Clouds at the West Point. He was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a man of great energy and ability, very solicitous about the kind treatment of animals and children, and considered a degree when it comes to accepting the surrender of such an officer as Admiral Sherman, who gave up his sword, it may be recalled, was a