Judge Lumpkin holds that according to a decision of the supreme court in Nebraska Christian science is the practice of medicine, and he further holds that the practice of medicine, and he further holds that the practice of medicine, and he further holds that the practice of medicine in Georgia according to the state law must be accomplished by persons who are regularly graduated from a medical school.

Americans Start Well.

Pillsbury, in the course of his Sicilian defence adopted by Blackburne, offered to sacrifice his pawn, which the willy Englishman did not deem prudent to cut. Eventually the American was gaining ground and while he has not achieved the tangible advantage it is to be hoped that he will graduate from the maiden class as far as the cable matches are concerned.

Showalter defended himself with a king's inchetto against Mason. The latter falled to maintain the advantage gained in the opening and the position is fairly even now. Barry had the superior game against Lee throughout the day and in view of his well known perserverance it is to be expected that he will add another victory to his strength.

A lot of fine maneuvering characterized the Ruy Lopez between Mills and Hodges. The American held his own very well and was not slow in accumulating slight advantages which ought to insure him a draw to say the least. Less favorable is the aspect presented by board No. 5. In the morning Hymes had a fine game against Atkins, but after recess the position turned in favor of the Englishman, aithough there is plenty of fight left to determine the issue. The most promising outlook affords at board No. 7, where Marshail, after pulping out of a bad position, won a pawn from Ward. The remaining games are about even, that on No. 10 being a shade in favor of the American player.

Play will be resumed tomorrow. of the American player. Play will be resumed tomorrow.
