FOOTPAD ROBS A WOMAN

Stope Mrs. Alice Johnson on Her Way Home from Grecery.

WITH REVOLVER FORCES HER TO YIELD

He Vainly Hunts for Her Pocket, Then Compels Her to Deliver the Contents of Her Purse and Flees in Darkness.

Mrs. Alice Johnson of 1817 West Broadway was held up at the point of a revolver and robbed by a footpad last night at ! o'clock, at the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway.

Mrs. Johnson is 60 years of age. She lives with her son-in-law's family and was on her way home from uptown, where she had been to buy groceries and other supplies. As she neared Fourteenth street on Broadway, she noticed a man at the corner, but did not suspect anything wrong. She was about to cross the street when the fellow called: "Stop a minute. I want to see you."

Mrs. Johnson tried to pass on, but the ellow seized her by the cape, at the same time thrusting a revolver into her face. "You will have to give me all the money you have with you." he said.

"But, mister, I have not got any money; have spent it buying these groceries," replied the frightened woman, and the fellow started to feel for her pocket. Not being able to find it, he ordered her to put her packages on the sidewalk and take her ourse out of her pocket. Mrs. Johnson, too frightened to refuse, handed the fellow her pocketbook. From it he took the contents, $8, and handing her back the empty purse started on a run down South Seventh street.

The place where the holdup was committed is very dark and Mrs. Johnson was so alarmed she was unable to give the police a clear description of the footpad. Charley Sutherland, a young lad of Eleventh street and Avenue E, saw the fellow standing at Fourteenth street and Broadway and gave the officers a fair description of the man. The police suspect he is one of the tough characters who hang out at a saloon in that neighborhood.

Final Action on Smallpox Bills. The Board of Supervisors took final action on the smallpox bills yesterday and adjourned until the June session. Bills to the amount of $5,708.91 were allowed, while claims aggregating $3,912.23 were rejected. The board applied the ax again to Dr. V. L. Treynor's claim, lopping off another $100, this amount representing his fees for attending A. D. Van Horn and Rev. Henry DeLong. In Van Horn's case the board decided that he was well able to bear the cost of medical attendance himself. Rev. Henry DeLong, the board found on its investigation, owned real property in this city of the value of $3,000, and this being he case, it was of the opinion that he could well afford to pay the expense connected with his smallpox. On these grounds the board also rejected the city's claim for groceries and other supplies furnished Mr.

DeLong during his sickness. Rubber stamps at DeLong's, 307 B'way.

Stockholders in Western Iowa Building Association Guessing.
Stockholders in the defunct Western Iowa Building association of this city are indulging in considerable speculation as to day. One by one the stockholders pulled out, until a little over a year ago it had to suspend operations and Dillon Ross was appointed receiver by the courts.

Receiver Ross has managed up to date to realize $4,000 on some mortgages held by the association, but has been unable to secure trace of any further property or assets. The stockholders who remained in the concern until it suspended paid in $11,500. They are wondering what has become of this money, or at least of the $7,000 difference between what Receiver Ross has realized and the cash they paid in.

A meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday in the office of the receiver and the situation was discussed, but no action was decided upon. The matter of bringing suit against the officers of the defunct concern was discussed, but the stockholders were generally of the opinion that it would be useless. The stockholders, however, gave it as their opinion that the officers should at least be able to give some explanation of where the money went to. It it was lost in making bad investments they would like to know it, even though it would not help them recoup their losses any.

An attempt will be made by the receiver to get, this information from the former officers of the association and he will report back to the stockholders at a meeting next week.

Receiver Ross has been unable to locate it and the present prospects are that the stockholders will not receive more than 25 cents on the dollar. The National Building association of Council Bluffs was organized in 1891, the officers being residents of this city. The name of the organization was found to be unsuitable and it was changed to that of the Western Iowa Building association. For a few years it did a thriving business, but, like many similar institutions, it had its day. One by one the stockholders pulled to suspend operations and Dillon Ross was treet.

Married for Her Money.

Another case of misplaced confidence, with a wealthy widow as the victim, has just come to light here. The principal in the case is a Mrs. Emery, widow of a pioneer physician who lived many years in Story county, forty miles northeast of Des Moines. He bought a fine farm near State Center and lived on it several years before dying. After his death the farm was sold in part and a part of it remained with one of the family. The widow removed to Des Moines, and after residing here a few years was married to a man who was represented to be a wealthy Californian. As he was about to leave for California with his bride he was suddenly called to Chicago on important business, and he has not yet returned nor sent back a large amount of noney which he had secured and which belonged to her. It is claimed that he did not pass under his right name, but his history has not been traced.
