WANT REDUCED DUTIES. A member of the Cuban commission said in an interview: "We should not desire free trade with the United States if the independence of our country were established. We should require revenues to support our government and we would find it necessary to raise them by customs duties. What we would wish, though, would be a specially devised system of tariff duties between the two countries, making rates as low as practicable and to the mutual advantage of both countries."

and there seems very good reason to believe that the export tax upon English coal will enable us rapidly to gain upon Great Britain and Germany in this trade. It is pointed out that in percentage of gain for the past ten years we are far ahead of both those countries. According to eastern coal men, a lack of vessels would be the only thing that would stand in the way of an immediate vast export to the West Indies, South America and Mexico. As it is, American coal has within the last few weeks been shipped to Japan, although the freight cost nearly four times as much as the coal itself.

Seven Kings in the Pack. The fact that seven men are in control of the 100,000 miles of the principal railway systems has as a corollary the fact that the necessity for earning interest and dividends makes those mighty railways the arbitrary masters of the seven men.

Top-Notch Credit. New York Credit. British credit seems to be still good, notwithstanding the huge war expenditures in Africa. The $10,000,000 loan in this country is said to be already a good as over-subscribed and in London the new bonds are selling at a premium on the issue price.

OUR PUBLIC PARKS. Omaha's public park system represents an investment of no small proportions on which the people will get returns in the ratio that they make use of their park facilities. The season is at hand when the benefits of our parks and parkways come within reach of the greater number of our people and they ought not to have to be urged to make the most of them.

After the islands have been put under civil rule the soldier will still need to look after things and give advice and instruction. He will take the place, to a certain extent, which the friar used to hold as a representative of the Manila government. The force which will be kept in the Philippines from this time on will be a civilizing agent, rather than a fighting machine.

What some of the Cuban leaders seem unable to comprehend is that future commercial relations between their country and this may depend very largely upon the character of the political relations. If they refuse to enter into that close political alliance contemplated in the American conditions and intended to secure for Cuba a stable government, they will doubtless find it extremely hard to obtain any commercial concessions. This is a view of the case which it is to be presumed will be impressed upon the minds of the members of the Cuban commission.

What astonishes our allies go factually along upon their brutal path without once suspecting or seeming to suspect that the Chinese have sensibilities as keen as theirs and intellects perhaps more keen; that they still persist in acts which they regard as the most disgraceful and degrading that man can commit.

Seeking Loans in America. Indianapolis Journal. London's traditional prestige as the money center of the world is being quite a bit jarred by the placing of $50,000,000 of the new British loan in New York. For American banks to loan money to the British government verifies the old adage of sending coals to Newcastle, but it is scarcely more surprising when we consider that the roads we are making on British manufacturing and trade. No doubt the whole loan could easily have been placed in England two or three times over, and the motive for placing any part of it in this country is not apparent.

ARMY AT FULL STRENGTH. Improved Conditions Justify a Reduction from the Limit. Kansas City Star. The decision not to recruit the regular army to its full strength shows that the government is convinced that the fighting in the Philippines is practically at an end. The army reorganization bill provided a minimum force of 58,000 men, which could be increased by 40,000, at the discretion of the president, but the bill now provides for 100,000. The large power given the chief executive was one of the grounds on which the measure was criticized. This discretionary provision has now proved useful in preventing needless expenditure for the support of the army at its maximum.

Optical Truths. It isn't always the most glittering promise that develop into the best fitting glasses. Investigation is a searchlight that often shows up sham. GERMAN EXCESSES IN CHINA. The excesses of the German soldiers in China have done more to perpetuate and intensify the anti-foreign feeling there than anything else. Their conduct in looting and other more serious lawlessness has been a reproach to their country and there can be no doubt as to the credibility of the report from Peking stating that there is intense feeling throughout the province against foreigners, largely because of the harsh treatment the Chinese have received from the Germans. It is also stated that the needless expeditions of the Germans against perfectly quiet communities have caused many Chinese, who have lost all, to join roving bands of robbers.

Watering Corporate Stock. Period of Emotional Insanity Through Which Business is Passing. To those whose knowledge of the facts entitles their views to respectful consideration the new steel merger is much more interesting than formidable. The more it is studied the more evident it is that it is by no means invulnerable; that in its capacity for change it is almost infinite.

Historic Episode Recalled. Boston Globe. The approaching resumption of diplomatic relations between Austria and Mexico, which have been suspended since Maximilian's "taking off" in 1867, will awaken memories of the Basco of Napoleon III in his attempt to establish European monarchial power on the soil of America.

PERSONAL NOTES. Henry James has become a great tea drinker and while writing drinks one cup of tea after another. Attorney General Knox is a lover of horse and an enthusiastic road rider. Last year he bought a Chicago horse for $9,500. Fashion authorities declare that the masculine shirtwaist will be good form for the coming season, and also that it is impossible.

Sad is the fate of Iowa democracy. The central committee is soon to meet for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the state convention and not a place in the state has invited the democrats to make it the convention city. Has the remnant counter lost its attraction in Iowa?
