CAILLES HIMSELF CONTRIVES

Vanishes While Surrounding Forces Fighting Through His Guards.

AMERICANS ARE HOT ON HIS TRAIL

Appalling Record for Cruelty Makes His Capture Much Desired.

EVERYTHING ELSE IN CAMP SECURED

Including His Adjutant General, Five Other Staff Officers, Privates, Rifles, Ammunition and Valuable Correspondence.

MANILA, April 28.—Captain Wilson Chase, with a detachment of the Twenty-first infantry, on April 26, surprised the camp of the insurgent general, Cailles, at Dugout, situated nine miles northeast of Cavinti, in the province of Laguna. Cailles was at his camp at the time of the American attack, but managed to escape. Captain Chase's force captured his adjutant general, five other staff officers, five privates, fourteen men, twenty rifles, a large amount of ammunition and stores and all the papers and personal effects of the Filipino general. The insurgent major, Velo, was killed during the engagement, as were Corporal McGill and Private Tipp, both belonging to Company A of the Twenty-first. Several columns of the American troops continue vigorously to pursue General Cailles.

General Cailles recently offered a reward of $10,000 for the head of Captain Edward N. Jones, Jr., of the Eight infantry. For more than a year past Cailles has commanded the insurgent forces operating to the east of Bay Lake, not far from Manila. He is said to be a French half-breed. He has a reputation for vindictiveness and cruelty and is one of the two or three Filipino leaders still in the field who have clearly ignored the observances of honorable warfare. The society of Mandiocumbe, whose practice it was to assassinate and bury alive those of their countrymen who accepted American sovereignty whenever the latter fell into their hands, operated with the cognizance, if not the support of General Cailles. If Cailles were captured it is doubtful if he could claim immunity for past actions under the terms of the amnesty. In January of this year Cailles offered a reward of $10 a piece for the heads of all Americans brought to him.

CLARK FORCES ARE DEFIANT

Declare Only a United States Marshal Can Retire Them from Their Stand.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 28.—According to a Herald special from Uvada, Utah, Colonel Maxson, who is in charge of the Clark forces at the disputed right of way near Uvada, was today served with notice by the representatives of the Oregon Short Line that an injunction had been issued by the United States court at Carson City prohibiting the San Pedro company from interfering with the Short Line in its construction of a railway between Uvada, Clover Valley Junction and Plogher. Colonel Maxson refused to accept service on the ground that the order lacked official identity and at once dispatched word to his men at the front to ignore the order.

AMERICAN GIRL ACROBATS

Beautiful Twins of Refinement Mystify Paris by Their Adoption of Circus Life.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, April 28.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—Two beautiful American girls, twins, known as the Misses Cunningham, strong and lithe, made their debut as female acrobats in the arena of the fashionable Nouveau Cirque in Paris two weeks ago. The rumors soon spread in the American colony that there was a mystery connected with these fair competitors. It became the rage to see their performance and to seek introductions, for the Misses Cunningham were not only extraordinarily handsome, but also cultured and versed in all the little refinements of society. The best women of the colony invited them to special teas and receptions.

The girls seemed modestly pleased by the attentions, but with gentle craft and firmness resisted all efforts to draw out any information, though they admit that Cunningham is not their true name. The girls seemed modestly pleased by the attentions, but with gentle craft and firmness resisted all efforts to draw out any information, though they admit that Cunningham is not their true name.

The World correspondent called on the Misses Cunningham at their pretty apartment on the Avenue Victor Hugo and obtained the following statement from one of the twins, Gladys or Leonie, he can't tell which. "Nothing should concern the public about us except our performance. We are Americans. It is true, but for reasons of our own we desire to keep our identity to ourselves. We do not come from a very rich and very well known family and are graduates of one of the principal girls' colleges, but the rumor that we were driven to adopt incognito by scandal is gratuitous.

Three years ago we suddenly found ourselves compelled to carry out our own lives. We had some little money left but not enough to provide the comfort we were accustomed to. We had to choose between being saleswomen, typewriters, trained nurses or some such thing. Marriage was not a possibility, the situation for a girl. "None of the usual occupations for women attracted us; they provided small pay and monotonous expense. Therefore, as we had been athletes and acrobats from young, when we used to look ourselves in our room to perform acrobatic feats, we decided to turn what we had learned in school to account. We came to Europe three years ago and went through a systematic training under the best circus performers.

"This is our American moment. We appeared first in Lyons at the Cirque Hancy, where head clown Alphano, our most beloved master and a man of genius in his line, designed the act we now perform in Paris, a clown's fantasy. "We act in American moments. $40 a night, for both, and $20 for matinees. That's only $150 a week for each, provided we feel like working at each performance, which we can't and don't. We have offers of much higher pay. For the same reasons which compel us to remain out of the United States, we shall never return there, either to perform or to live. "We enjoy circus life. It is a career as good as another, as respectable as any if you make it so, and certainly more independent than most of the others.

The twins enter the circus arena tumbling and laughing like robust sprites. One is clad in black, the other in scarlet satin tights. Each has a funny but graceful white wig, and their faces are powdered white. They perform with beauty spots of black court plaster at the corners of the lips. Throughout the act, a perfect whirlwind of pretty and dangerous exercises, no word is spoken, but the girls laugh all the time as though having the greatest fun in the world.

SEES BUT ONE FACE IN YEARS

Ottoman Liberals Tell French League of Sorry Fights of Impressed Former Sultan.

PARIS, April 28.—The French League of the Rights of Man has received a letter from the Ottoman Liberal committee in Constantinople appealing to the league to take up the propaganda for the release of former Sultan Mourad, who was deposed August 31, 1876, on the ground of ill health and mental incapacity.

The committee proceeds in part as follows: "The deposed sultan is undergoing a martyrdom in prison at Tebrizan more cruel than the sufferings of the victim of Devil's Island. He was imprisoned on the pretext of madness. He has not seen a human face in a report that of his father, for twenty-five years, nor a letter, a newspaper or book. He is not allowed to leave his rooms and is thus buried in a living grave." The committee urges that if he is really deranged he should be treated scientifically and that if sane he should be released. The league, who was very active in the agitation that resulted in the release of Dreyfus, has replied assuring the Ottoman Liberal committee of the sympathy of the league and issues an appeal to the Turkish government.

WORSE FIGHT THAN REPORTED

Ketteler Says General Lui Had to Be Well Throated Before Retiring.

NINE CHINESE ROBBERS EXECUTED TODAY

First of Criminals Whose Sentence by Chinese Court is Executed with Chaffee's Formal Approval.

PEKIN, April 28.—The report of General Ketteler, received here from Kuo Lu, differs from the other reports concerning the German-French expedition previously received. General Ketteler's report shows that the Chinese troops did not leave the province until they were forced to do so. The entire brigade commanded by General Ketteler met the enemy on April 23 and inflicted immense loss upon them. The report does not give the loss. The Germans had one officer and three soldiers killed and twenty-eight soldiers wounded. The Chinese were forced to leave the province and were fully demoralized. The French authorities stated that the Chinese had crossed the border of the province on April 19, in which case they must have subsequently returned.

Li Hung Chang says it is impossible to believe that General Lui Kwang Ting intentionally disobeyed his order and anxiously awaits the Chinese report of the encounter referred to by General Ketteler. Li Hung Chang paid return calls to the different legations yesterday and congratulated Special Commissioner Rockhill on the stand taken by the Americans in the matter of indemnity. It is not generally thought among the legations that Mr. Rockhill's effort in this direction will prove successful, though most of them admit that they must be guided in the matter by the instructions they receive from their home governments.

General Gaslee, the British commander, the officers of his staff and the entire British contingent gave a farewell entertainment to the American officers last night. All officers who were not actually on duty were present and the utmost cordiality prevailed. Speeches were made by General Gaslee and General Chaffee only. It is said at German headquarters that the brigade of General Ketteler is returning to Pao Ting Fu.

DETAILS LIU'S PUNISHMENT

Waldersse Sends Berlin Comprehensive Report of Last Week's Hard Fighting with Chinese.

BERLIN, April 28.—The German war office has received the following advice from Count von Waldersse. "On April 27, three engagements occurred April 23 and a fourth April 24. The Great wall, between four columns under General Ketteler and the Chinese troops everywhere defeated, and after a stubborn resistance was turned over to him, being pursued as far as Ku Kuan. Casualties were four officers wounded and three men killed and thirty-two wounded. The French troops were not engaged."

Subsequently the following additional dispatch regarding the four engagements were received from Count von Waldersse: "Pekin, April 28.—The following reports only arrived last night, owing to the difficulty of communication: "General Ketteler's brigade, reinforced, marched in four columns against the Great wall, Colonel Ledebur being the right wing, then those commanded by Colonel Hoffmeister, Colonel Wallmerich and Major Huelsenfels. Ledebur reached the wall April 24, after a slight delay, and sent Hal Shan Kwan, Hoffmeister drove back the enemy April 23. On the same day Huelsenfels encountered a strong party of the enemy occupying a bastion on the heights commanding the pass. The enemy fought stubbornly, a particularly strong position, which was only taken after eleven hours' fighting. Huelsenfels and Lieutenant Stuisart were slightly wounded and Lieutenant Drewells was severely wounded. Standard-bearer and another were killed, and six men severely wounded. The wall was opened, Wallmerich attacked and dispersed April 23, a far superior force of the enemy in a strong position east of the breach of Hao Ho and effected a junction on the Great wall with a battalion under Major Muelman from the Sing China, which taking up the pursuit overtook the enemy in a fresh position to the south. The enemy were pursued as far as Ku Kuan. Wallmerich followed them there.

The enemy suffered severely. Eleven old and the new quick fuses were captured. On our side one man was killed and three were severely wounded and nine slightly. Lieutenant Deusterberg was shot through the right arm. "The enemy are everywhere in retreat. General Von Lesael has arranged with General Baillood that the French troops shall occupy Ku Kuan for the present and secure his left flank. "Ketteler's brigade is marching by short stages to Pao Ting Fu and ten miles' column along the mountains to Peking."

PARKHURST ON HYPOCRITES

Says Northerner is Simply Lean Frank Than Southerner in Disliking the Negro.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst preached today at the Madison Square Presbyterian church on topics connected with his recent trip south, referring to the estimation in which the people of the south and those of the north hold the negro. Dr. Parkhurst said: "The southerner does like the negro any better than the northerner, and the west have assumed plenty of grass, that trade though late, will be heavy. "W. P. Anderson, a well-known live stock statistician, passed through here today after a trip covering the whole northwest. The number of transactions between the north and south of Texas and the northern grazier, has been largely due to the uncertainties surrounding the prospects of grazing facilities in the northwest. As to winter losses, Mr. Anderson says that the extent of the small area, the range losses have been the lightest known in years.

CAN SIPHON CELLARS NOW

Cincinnati Residents Begin Common Effort to Stop It Their Whole Town.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—The Ohio river has continued falling here slowly since yesterday. The weather bureau declares it will be below the danger line of fifty feet tomorrow. Siphon pumps were clearing the cellars today where water had receded. Navigation, including many sightseeing excursions, was resumed today, and the railroads will all be using their regular depots tomorrow. Further down the river on both the Kentucky and Indiana side, the conditions are reported as very bad. Just above Henderson, Ky., there is danger of the channel being changed, owing to the water taking another course in the overflow.

ENTOMBED MINERS REACHED

Two Rescued Alive and One Found Dead After Many Days.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—A special to the Republic from Aurora, Mo., says: Light and air broke in on the five entombed miners at 2 a. m. Two were rescued alive, one was found dead and the other two are supposed to be lifeless. Grant Shard was mangled by falling rocks and earth and undoubtedly died instantly. Faint taps on the iron rails announced that two others were alive. They are William Shane and George Feaster. A large stone boulder had feasted pinioned by the foot, in which position he had remained for a day. He was so firmly wedged it seemed as if a supporting timber would have to be removed to let him out. This would have precipitated the roof on all and could not be considered. Enough of the timber was chipped off, however, to save him. Feaster was nearly famished when he was rescued, but was revived by whiskey and milk given to him in small quantities. The work of saving him was tedious and risky, as the drift was just large enough for one man to work in lying on his side and moving the dirt.

For some reason Chief Titus telegraphed an order to send the slip of paper back, it is suggested that he must have done this to let the teacher who instructed Gertrude McCormick at school have a chance to identify the writing which the little girl herself already has identified. A tracing was made of the writing on the slip of paper in New York when it was sent there by Photographer Kemethy, and it is said Gertrude's teacher almost positively identified the figures on the reverse side as a portion of an arithmetic example she gave the child.

FIVE LIVES FOR REVENGE

Houston Negro Charged with Starting Fire that Burned His Employer and Family.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 28.—In a fire which destroyed a lively stable and three residences this morning five persons were burned to death and several others were injured. The dead are Job Copping, a florist, his wife and three children. A negro has been arrested on the charge of having started the fire to get revenge on his employer for having discharged him. In the ruins were found the bodies of five victims, among them being an infant which had been born to Mrs. Copping during the progress of the fire. The fire started in a lively stable, over which several families lived. The building, a frame shell, was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. A crippled widow, Mrs. Thompson, escaped from the building and says she saw the Copping family run back into their room from the hallway and that was the last she saw of them. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hopper were out of the house when the stable and Mrs. Hopper receiving internal injuries.

HORNED TEXANS COMING UP

Stockmen Anticipate Heavy Movement of Southern Cattle to Northwest Grazing Land.

DENVÉR, April 28.—Stockmen are much interested in the probable heavy movement of cattle from the south to the northwest, which will commence within a few days. During the past few days a number of big buyers have passed through here, headed for Texas to buy cattle, and they have been assured plenty of grass, that trade though late, will be heavy. "W. P. Anderson, a well-known live stock statistician, passed through here today after a trip covering the whole northwest. The number of transactions between the north and south of Texas and the northern grazier, has been largely due to the uncertainties surrounding the prospects of grazing facilities in the northwest. President's Superb Special Train Awaits the Starting Hour.

RIVALS BEST THAT EVER RAN THIS WAY

Southern Railway Will Take It as Far as New Orleans—Many Callers at White House, to Say Good-bye.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The train which will carry the president and his party for the next seven weeks on their trip through the United States reached here this morning. It is one of the finest ever run over any American railway system. The start will be made at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, with Frank Larmond as engineer and W. W. Albright as conductor. Both are tested employees of the Southern railway. The Southern Railway company will have charge of the train from Washington to New Orleans and at this point the party and train will come under the supervision of the Southern Pacific railroad. The train, which is practically new, is made up of seven cars. The president's own car, the Olympia, is in the rear of the train. Next to the engine is the combination baggage and smoking car, followed by the new dining car, with a capacity for forty persons. The next two are comparatively new cars, with seven staterooms and two drawingrooms each. The fifth and sixth cars are handsome twelve-section drawing-room cars. The president will retain the Olympia car for his use, and there will be transferred to the Lincoln, one of the finest private cars in existence, in which he will make the return trip to the east. The Olympia is seventy feet long and has five private rooms and one sofa section and is fitted with the latest improvements. The Lincoln has accommodations for thirteen persons. Detectives Find Boy in Gipsy Camp, Resembling McCormick Lad, but Without Marks.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The detectives are working on the Willie McCormick kidnaping case, and have secured a mink kidnaping case, which they are investigating today. Several features have developed which are regarded as possibly significant. In addition to the slip of paper bearing the name of Gertrude, the detectives believe they have another article which emphasizes the importance of the original check. A pen which was given to Photographer Kemethy on Friday a week ago by one of the gypsy girls under arrest at that time and which she says was touched by the writing on the slip of paper in the horse barn, was turned over to Inspector Boardman tonight and by him given to Detective O'Connell, who sent with the slip of paper containing the name to New York.
