CLUB WOMEN PLAY POLITICS

Have Epirited Contest for Offices, but Good Feeling Prevails.

INDICATE CHOICE BY INFORMAL BALLOT

Nominating Committee and Majority of the Members Are Not Agreed in Selection of a President, and a Contest is On.

The proceedings of the lowa Federation of Woman's clubs, in session at Council Bluffs, opened in lively manner yesterday An animated discussion arose when the chairman of the nominating committee moved for an informal ballot by which to indicate the choice of the convention for candidates for offices within the gift of the federation.

This motion was seconded. Protest followed. It was asserted that such action was unconstitutional in view of the fact that the convention had a nominating committee. The chair overruled the objection and announced that an informal ballot would be taken at the close of the morn ing session.

Other business was taken up, but meanwhile several members found time for hasty caucus in the vestibule, resulting in a motion to postpone the balloting until afternoon. Then there was another protest, even stronger than the first. Some of the women declared that it was unfair to trespass upon the time of the press women's program, while others who objected gave no particular reason. The declaration that the time of the balloting having once been decided upon could not be changed was vigorously disputed. Reference to the secretary's books disclosed that the house had not taken a vote to decide the time at which the balliot should be taken, but that it had simply voted for a ballot and that the president had appointed the time. A vote was taken, which resulted in favor of postpone tent, 103 to 89. Takes Informal Ballot.

During the noon intermission the women were busy and in compilance with the decision of the morning session, the informat ballot was taken immediately after the afternoon session was called to order.

It is understood that the nominating committee favors the following ticket, although no official expression has been President, Mrs. H. M. Towner, Corning vice president, Mrs. Barclay, Boone; cor-responding secretary, Mrs. Nellie F. Cook, Algona; treasurer, Mrs. John P. Davis. Council Bluffs.

As a result of a meeting of delegates from the western part of the state the following list of candidates was made out for their support:

President, Mrs. Deemer, Red Oak; vice president, Mrs. Illick, Burlington; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Towner, Corning; recording secretary, Mrs. Walker, Des Moines; treasurer, Mrs. Treadway, Dubuque.

It developed last night, although the results of the informal ballot have not been made public, that Mrs. Alice Bailey of Des Molnes is the choice of a majority of the members for the presidency, despite DEBTS EXCEED ESTATE'S VALUE, the fact that she has opposition from her home town, also that she is not the favor-Inventory Filed by Administrator of ite of the nominating committee. Pretty Game of Politics.

There was a pretty game of politics throughout this interesting feature of the session, and despite the earnestness with which the respective sides entered into the contest over the informal ballot proposition, good feeling prayailed. The paramount issue and the point which brought out the hand elected to the state convention and inof politics, was the proposed postponement of the ballot

Despite the spirited ballot contest the convention found time for the transaction of a large volume of other business and the program for the day included many good features, even though there was some expression of dissatisfaction on account of the encroachment made upon time set apart for the press women.

The chair called for Mrs. Draper Smith of sive practice in this part of Iowa, without Omaha, president of the Nebraska federation, but she was not present. Mrs. Belle M. CALL EXAMINATION A FARCE

Iowa City Medics Dissatisfied with Quiz Given by State Board.

STUDENTS ASSERT QUESTIONS WERE EASY

Object to Fees Charged and Say They Did Not Get Their Money's Worth-Secretary Kennedy Says Rates Are Low.

IOWA CITY, 1a., May 2 .- (Special.) -The examination given the graduates of the medical school of the University of Iowa immediately after their graduation on April 2 and 3, is pronounced a farce by members of the faculty and of the class. The exsity graduates under the law passed by the Twenty-eighth general assembly of the state of lowa.

The Board of Medical Examiners consists of ten members. The law reads: "The State Board of Medical Examiners shall examine the graudates of the medical de partment of the State University of Iowa and of such other medical colleges in the state as are recognized by the said Board of Medical Examiners as being in good and legal standing at the annual commencement and at the location of said State University At the examination given at Iowa City, the secretary of the board only was present t daughter of Joel B. Babcock, a farmer, at give the examination and to take from the class of over fifty members the $10 couples will make their home on a farm aplece, which is the fee for the examination. When Dr. Kennedy left the city he had over $500 with which to investigate the differences between smallpox and Cuban itch and to publish the journal of the Board of Health.

Think the Rate is Too High.

People about the medical college feel that the rate of payment for the privilege of the presence of the secretary of the state board in the city was high. The questions which he gave the medical students are remarka ble for the important questions omitted and for the easy ones proposed. Said a professor in the medical college: "Any man with the physiology taught him in the High school or with a slight smattering of elementary Latin could make a good stab at almost any of the questions. One of the questions in anatomy, for instance, is 'What are canalicult?" "What would you say they were?" he asked of a collegiate student who abhorred medica and scientific studies. 'Little canals?' Correct. That is the way the questions run. Occasionally there are some questions inserted for the purpose of catching the students, but the questions as whole are many times easier than the faculty questions." Some of the questions propounded by Secretary Kennedy were Name and locate the divisions of the norta; locate and describe the crystalline lens? What do you understand by metabolism? What do you understand by faity degeneration? Name three emetic drugs and their doses; What are the functions of the pancreatic juice? Name and describe the valves of the left side of the heart, explaining their office and how they act What is ganglion? Name the principal se cretions of the body; How would you manage a case of overdose of opium?"

"It would be interesting," said a medical student who took the examination, "to see if an average grammar school class is physiology could not pass the examination If the state board is to examine us, why don't they give us the worth of our money And if the examination isn't necessary except as a matter of form, such as the quiz Dr. Kennedy gave us, what is the reason for taxing us $10 for it?"

The medical students last year made an is at an elevation of 7,165 feet. From this appeal to the general assembly to be line the survey of the region will be made, granted permits to practice in the state upon receiving their diplomas from the State university. They argued that the faculty of the State university were state officers and that the state kept up the standard of its medical college so well that an examination by the state board was un necessary, a needless drain on the pockets of the graduates. Their appeal falled, bu the examination given by the secretary of the board shows how well founded were their contentions as to the uselessness of its examination. A professor in the university said that he thought such a cour would be all right. "There are no colleges which make a specialty of hurrying men through." he said. "The faculties of all the medical schools in the state look after the matter of the worthiness of their was raised tonight after the building had graduates to practice medicine much better than the state board looks into the fitness from the one for which the quarantine was of those who apply for permits to practice. DES MOINES. May 2.-(Special.)-Sec retary Kennedy of the State Board of Medical Examiners when asked in regard to a complaint coming from Iowa City in regard to the recent examination by the state board of the graduates of the State Medical college, said he had nothing to say. The criticism passed upon him should have been directed to the law and the en tire board and not to him personally. "Ur to a few years ago," said Dr. Kennedy, under pressure, "It was legal to admit graduates of colleges on diplomas and not by examination. This was the custom established when the medical practice act was established. The code of 1897 provided that all persons entitled to practice medicine in Iowa must undergo examination by the state board. The twenty-eighth gen eral assembly passed a law requiring that the state board shall make examinations OFFICE OF THE WEATHER BUREAU.

It is customary in most states to charge $2 for this examination and certificate. In New Jersey It costs $50.

"In the state of Washington the fee is $100. The board makes the examination not the secretary. The questions are prepared by the board and examined by the beard and marked in accordance with th judgment of the entire board. The secretary does nothing more than conduct the examination and bring the papers to the office of the board for the inspection of members. Examinations were conducted last year and this year for the convenience of the students at lown City, Sloux City. Keekuk and Des Moin s. where the medical colleges are located.

Absolutely Clean

In the Schlitz brewery cleanliness is car-松 ried to extremes. We do more than is necesde sary to be certain of doing enough. The caldrons in which the beer is brewed are kept scrupulously clean and covered. The air in which the beer is cooled is filtered.
