NEW YORK, May 6 .- Speculation tocks began the day with spirit and enthusiasm that was quite equal to anything witnessed on the floor of the New York exchange in the current movement. Seemingly the public is imbued with a suspicion that the powerful interests who are credited with the leadership of the market had engendered the reaction of Friday and Saturday with the purpose of shaking out weak and encumbering holdings to better prepare for a fresh advance. The high prices of the railroad stocks supposed to be the subject of contest for the control and the resulting great expense of the process of absorption gave plausibility to the theory that the capitalists looked upon the reac tion with complacence. There was in addition a rumor affoat which was an expansion of the recent consolidation rumors, to the effect that all the contesting railroad interests had come to a compromise and were about to consoli-

Opening prices varied as widely as 2 points for the same stocks and the gains over Saturday were from 1 to 4 points. Northern Pacific, which quickly assumed the leadership of the market, went up easy on lighter trans actions. A rise of 4 points in the bid price at the opening brought only 500 shares of stock and the bid had to be raised 215 points before the next block of 1,500 shares came out. As the stock soared to higher regions much heavier offerings came out, but the stock held obstinately near the top when the rest of the market dipped under the flood of realizing orders brought out on the advance. Northern Pacific rose more than 10 points in the first hour and 13% before noon. The subsequent advance to above 125 was less violent.

Realizing was very heavy all through the market during the morning and none of the leading stocks got back to the opening high level. The market became quieter as th Sunday's accumulation of exchange began to be worked off. The sharp rise in the money rate also recalled some of last week's trepidation on that score. The rise in Atchison to $8 and sharp gains in a numbe of less prominent stocks did not altogether vercome a drooping tendeacy. The sepsational advance of 23 points in

Pa. The fight went the twenty-round limit, The bout was before the Southern Athletic club and Carter was a slight favorite. Carter was the aggressor and, save in a few rounds, forced the fighting. The Pennsylvanian's left eye was almost closed in the fifth round and blood poured from an ugly cut about an inch above it. Not until the thirteenth round, however, did Bonner braak ground an inch. The Brook-lyn youngster's infighting and the awful pounding over the kidneys began to tell on Bonner, however, and in the fourteenth round he was barely able to stand. Not a scratch marked Carter's body, but he weakened noticeably in the seventeenth round and from that time on his blows, which he landed at will, did no harm. Very strokey and all but out. Bonner hung on till the twentieth round limit was passed, when Referee Tim Hurst gave Carter the decision. The wlancer was challenged be-fore the fight by Joe Choynski and by Marvin Hart of Louisville. Carter was the aggressor and, save in
