

SOCIETY TAKES ON SOME LIFE

Last Week Fall of Little Things that Keep People Moving.

LUNCHEONS, THEATER PARTIES AND GOLF

Many Opportunities to Go Out Offered and All Apparently Enjoyed by the People Who Were Concerned.

The gaiety of the last week would almost lead one to believe that the long promised and longer delayed season of luncheons is about to be realized after all, though there has been nothing really large, there have been a number of smart affairs, each including from eight to ten and more of the fashionable women and a few occasions when the men have been let in. These last, however, have been confined principally to the Country club.

Of course, the Mansfield engagement was the real feature of the week, and society was present almost in a body. It is doubtful if any other occasion of the season has attracted as large a representation of the fashionable set.

Next week, under the direction of three matrons, that have long since established reputations for novel entertaining, the younger women will present something new through the medium of an old time favorite tableaux. The affair is to be given next Thursday evening at Metropolitan hall, the taking part will be: Mr. Arthur Cooley, Misses Kilpatrick, Edith Smith, Elizabeth Allen, Peck, Kountze, Helen Jones, Spurgil, Moore, Gareisen, Curtis, Carita Curtis, McPherson, Louise Peck and Swenborg.

In spite of the other things, the Country club has claimed first place in the interest of many and every day, when the weather would permit, a crowd of enthusiastic golfers have visited the links. Yesterday afternoon there was an unusually large crowd there, dinners being served to fifty. The evening's attendance was in proportion both from the point of attendance and enjoyment.

Rumor says that June is not to see the consummation of two affairs that were to have been chief among the contributions to its interest. The weddings have been postponed until October.

Perhaps the most elaborate children's gathering ever enjoyed by a party of Omaha's little people, was that at Metropolitan club from 3 until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the birthday of Mr. Julius Meyer, when fully 125 little people and young people ranging in age from 4 months to 21 years, were treated to a birthday party which included every variety of entertaining usually furnished on such occasions, and some other besides. The majority of "Uncle" Julius' guests were of the younger boys and girls with just a sufficient number of their older brothers and sisters and mamma to see that everyone was well entertained and entertained. Promptly at 3 o'clock the party opened with a grand march led by Mr. Meyer and his very small and very much envied niece and nephew, Miss Lillian and Master Sydney Meyer. Round and round the hall they marched to the inspiring music of the full string orchestra, concealed behind the tall palms on the stage. Next came a May pole dance, the thirty-two participants, little girls in the daintiest frocks, marched into the hall doing the cakewalk steps, headed by Master Sydney Meyer, who with his gaily beribboned cane, acted as drum major. After the walk the line approached the pole about the pedestal of which some of the little girls posed while the others caught up the streaming ribbons and went through the pretty figures of the May pole dance, winding in and out until the ribbons were wound close to the pole.

Then came the dancing, in which all participated and at the end of the program the children fell into line and marched past the grab bag, from which each one drew forth a toy as souvenir of the occasion. The unwrapping of these occupied some time and when all had been duly inspected little gilded rolls were passed to all, which, when pulled from both ends, exploded with a loud crack and gorgeous paper caps flew out. Donning the caps the procession was formed once more and all marched down to the dining room, which was gaily decorated with red and white streamers and festoons of paper. All were seated at once at the big Y shaped table. The head of which stood the birthday cake with its fifty-one blazing candles, marking the place of the host. Down the length of the table on either side were strewn ferns, carnations and American flags, with an occasional bunch of the roses in tall vases. Each plate was marked with a box of confectionery and an orange and when all were seated the long rows of bright happy faces presented a scene which, with the peals of childlike laughter, must long be remembered by all who were privileged to be present.

During the afternoon Mr. Meyer was assisted by a number of young women and matrons who helped to make the affair one that must long stand out permanently in the memory of every child present. Mr. Meyer was the recipient of several valuable remembrances, among which were a handsome reading lamp and a leather couch from the children.

Lancaster-Wilson. The marriage of Miss Jessie Elmsa Wilson and Mr. Bernard Lancaster was quietly solemnized on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. I. E. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster left immediately after the ceremony for St. Paul, Minn., and from there will go east.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Porter Peck entertained a large party of friends at a series of two musicals last week, one on Monday evening and the other Wednesday evening, about sixty guests being present at each. Mrs. H. P. Whitmore and Miss Bishop furnished the program the first evening and on Wednesday evening Miss Gareisen, Miss Bella Robinson of Council Bluffs, Miss Peck and Mr. Gareisen contributed. Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Clarke had as their guests at dinner Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Hirst, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Weller, E. A. Clarke and Susan Clarke of Quincy, Ill. The dinner was given in honor of the 58th birthday of C. F. Weller. Mrs. P. Nielsen entertained the members of the Au Revoir club on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 2702 Cuming street, Mrs. Miller being the guest of honor. A profusion of lilacs were used in the decoration of the rooms and the afternoon was spent in a guessing contest.

In honor of Miss Etta Jacoby, who is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Arthur Brandels, for a time, Mrs. Sam Wertheimer gave a luncheon on Wednesday at which twelve guests were present. The details were carried out entirely in red, red shaded candles and carnations being used.

Miss Halle Patterson was hostess at last Monday's meeting of the Jhamer Glee club at which twelve of the members were present. "Sixty-Three" was the name of the afternoon, Miss Grace Northrup making the high score. Refreshments were served at the close of the game.

The Woman's auxiliary of Unity church gave a May party at Metropolitan hall on Thursday evening, which was their last this spring. The affair was most enjoyable and was largely attended. The May day idea was carried out in every detail of the arrangement, decoration and costuming.

The members of the cooking and sewing clubs with their husbands and escorts enjoyed an informal hop at the Country club on Friday evening, the music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze's piano. Refreshments were served during the evening and the affair proved one of the jolliest of the week.

Mrs. James Erwin gave a pretty luncheon on Wednesday in honor of Miss Egbert, who has been Mrs. Howard's guest. A large bowl of lilacs occupied the center of the table, dotted with Pina cloth being used. Those present were Mrs. Michie, Mrs. Ringwalt, Mrs. Fairfield, Mrs. Giffors, Mrs. Kilpatrick and Miss Egbert.

The Damen Kaffe Kranzchen celebrated their seventeenth anniversary day last Friday at the home of Mrs. Ben Gohs. Cards and games were played, speeches made by several members of the club and refreshments served, every member departing with the best wishes for the future continuation of the Kaffe Kranzchen.

The members of the Original Cooking club were entertained at a charming little luncheon at the Country club on Thursday by Mrs. Herbert Wheeler, who was also a member, previous to her going to Washington. The table decorations were especially appropriate and pretty, daisies being the flowers used. Mrs. Wheeler's guests were Misses Lindsay, Helen Smith, Grace Allen, Webster, Gertrude Kountze, Mesdames Luther Kountze, Charles Kountze, Wilkins, Burgess, McCorck and Wheeler.

Mrs. Ward Burns gave a dinner party at the Country club on Tuesday evening to the members of the Cooking club, lilacs, carnations and ferns trimming the tables most effectively. In the evening the party enjoyed an informal dance in the main room of the club. Those present were: Misses Webster, Helen Smith, Kountze, Mesdames McCormick, Croft, Luther Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wheeler, Mr. C. Charles and Mrs. O. G. Dodge, Mr. Phil Dodge, Mr. Gannett, Mr. Paxton and Mr. Baldrige.

In honor of Mrs. Holterhoff, Mrs. C. W. Lyman gave one of the most charming luncheons of the season on Wednesday. The guests were seated at two tables, in the decoration of which carnations were used, pink on one and white on the other. The place cards were sketches of cats and on the back of each was a set of questions, the answers to each of which included the word "cat." The guests were Mesdames Holterhoff, Dan Wheeler, J. E. Chase, Wood, Gulou, Redick, Remington, Barlow, Joslyn, Belden, Offutt, Punkhouser, Bullock, Millspaugh, Davis, Peck, Barkalou, McCord and Miss Deering.

In celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis entertained a dinner party last Saturday evening, which included the members of the family and several of those present at their wedding. The party was seated at two tables, the table was set with Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Barkalou, who were Mrs. Davis' bridesmaids, Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Deuel, who were the flower girls, Mr. Peck, who was the best man, and Mr. Latham Davis, one of the ushers. The table decoration was of lilacs of the valley, the flowers used twenty-five years ago. The other guests present were Mrs. Clarkson, Mrs. Viles, Mrs. Millspaugh, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Zarnes, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. MAHIN GROWING RAPIDLY. 1901 Advertiser's Hand Book of this Live Agency.

The 1901 "Advertiser's Hand Book" of the Mahin Advertising company of Chicago is a compact book of forty-eight pages. It lists the leading publications of general circulation and also the daily newspapers of America, and gives the size of page, advertising rates and discounts, rates of circulation, date of issue and much other valuable information of every-day use to the general advertiser. The "Hand Book" is not burdened with advertisements of publishers, which shows that this agency is endeavoring to keep clear of the suspicion of patronage and undue influence which these evidences of bounty might exert. The Mahin agency declines advertisements of liquors and objectionable or fake institutions. Its business is strictly legitimate. Its local, necessitating branch offices at St. Louis, Kansas City and New York. A copy of the "Hand Book" and seven cards containing excellent maxims for displaying in every office or factory will be mailed upon receipt of ten cents. Address: Mahin Advertising company, 285 Monroe street, Chicago.

REFLECTS OMAHA'S PROGRESS. June Issue of the Developer Will Be Devoted to this City's Institutions.

The June number of the Developer, a commercial publication of Kansas City, Mo., will be of special interest to the people of Omaha and to those who transact business in the city, for it will contain the result of several weeks' work of members of the editorial staff, who have spent that time investigating the resources and trade conditions of Omaha.

The number will be a work of art from every standpoint. The title page alone has been sketched picturesque scenes, public buildings and large industrial houses, and from these drawings have been prepared photographs with which the work will be illustrated. The title page contains a drawing of the hemisphere, showing Omaha as the center of the United States, a position in the world it is entitled to in the opinion of Russell Sage and others familiar with its geographical position and of railway.

The original drawings from which the book is to be illustrated are now on exhibition at a Douglas street art store and have excited the favorable comment of critics. The issue of the Developer will consist of forty pages, each one of which will be devoted to the interests of Omaha.

Correct Timing for This Season. The ladies' bathery in the Bee building will be the correct thing for this season. The handsome, new furnishings are attractive, artistic and up-to-date, and you can get more complexion treatment, more real developer or reducer (as your case may require) than in all the drug stores in town. The bathery deals in the only real, genuine tonics, elixirs and invigorators—scientific massage, electric treatment, needle baths, etc. All sorts of baths are given—plain baths, Turkish baths, massage baths and with each one an invigorating sea-salt rub, the finest skin tonic—starts the circulation, makes every nerve tingle. It's a health and beauty treatment, par excellence. Try a needle, massage or Turkish bath with sea-salt rub and you'll know what real living is like. It rubs out wrinkles, brings relief from rheumatic pains, soothes the tired nerves and gives you a new lease of life. Ladies only, 220-224 Bee building.
