SPECIAL ORDER OF THE DAY IS REPORTS

Chairmen of Committees Crge Assen bly to Exert Itself to Utmost in Behalf of Various Church Institutions.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The consideration of church board reports was congeneral assembly. The morning session began at 9:30 o'clock and the assembly proceeded promptly to husiness. The special orders for the day were the reports of the committees on home missions, aid for colleges and church erection.

Every effort is being made by the as sembly to dispose of all of the routine matters before debate on revision begins, in order that when that subject is settled there may be little unfinished business to con-

The report of the committee on missions read by Rev. Dr. Hugh Walker, chairman, contained numerous recommendations, one of the most important being an earnest report states:

We earnestly urge upon congress the importance of prompt action in this matter, so that such an amendment may be submitted to the states before the Mormons gain the balance of political power in any additional states of the union.

The committee also recommended that the church be asked to contribute during ing the year not less than $850,000, of which $500,000 is to be used in evangelistic work; that as a means to secure this amount and signalize the centennial year of the board the presbyteries be requested to ask churches for two congregational offerings to the board; that churches, families and individuals be requested to make gifts for special objects, such as furnishing a minister or teacher; that the moderator appoint a committee of thirty to get a proper observance of the 100th anniversary of the Board of Home Missions during the general assembly of 1902.

Just previous to the adjournment of the morning session Elder Ephraim Banning of Chicago precipitated a spirited debate on the report of the committee on home missions. He took exceptions to the statement in the report that 2,314 churches do not contribute directly to the home mission board. He contended that if a presbytery or synod supported its own home missions its work was equal to that of other presbyteries and synods which contribute directly, Rev. Dr. James A. Vance of Chicago protested against what he regarded as an aspersion on the presbyteries which contributed to the home missions. Numerous other commissioners were heard for and against that portion of the report and Dr. Walker ended the discussion by agreeing to make an amendment that any commissioner might offer. The objectionable sentence was finally eliminated and the report was adopted. A supplementary report was presented by the committee on relief, asking the assembly to non-concur in the recommendation of the board that the home at Perth Amboy be abandoned. The report was adopted.

Rev. Dr. John Fox presented a report in behalf of the American Bible society. The Tonight the book of Ruth will be taken up. assembly adopted a resolution commending the society.

For College Aid.

Rev. T. D. Ewing of lows, chairman of the committee on aid for colleges, read the report of the committee at the afternoon session. The report started that 4,000 churches are not reporting any gifts to the board. In commenting upon this Dr. Ewing said the establishment of the board of aid for colleges was still unfavorably regarded. In his appeal for increased assistance, Dr.

"Our church is largely dependent upon this board for ministers, missionaries and teachers. This is where home and foreign missions grow.

Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson and Rev. E. C. Ray of Chicago; Rev. Dr. W. C. Roberts, president of Center college, Danville, Ky., and Rev. Dr. John Dewitt of Princeon university spoke in behalf of the board. The committee recommended that not less than $15,000, the amount actually needed, be contributed this year. The report was ap-

The committee on church erection in its report recommended the adoption of the following resolution "That rule 1, article 12, plan of the board, be made to read: 'No grant shall be made to any congregation unless the title to the lot on which its house of worship is situated or on which it proposes to build, is in fee simple free from all legal incumbrance and vested either in such congregation as a corporate body if the statutes of the state permit incorporation, or, in an incorporated presbytery or synod of the Presbyterian church, or in one of the corporated bodies of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America."

A telegram of greeting was forwarded to the Cumberland presbytery at West Point, Miss.

While it was known he had been for some time in serious ill health, his death was not expected. Last January he showed signs of weakness and he believed he was afflicted with tuberculosis. The first of April he started for Denver. The best physicians there told him that he did not have tuberculosis and advised him to go south. He went to Fort Worth, Tex. and was there taken with inflammatory rheumatism. About ten days ago he sent for his wife, and a few days later he determined on coming home, believing he was able to make the trip. He had got as far as Kansas City and stopped with a brother-in-law for a rest when he died. Dr. Hoyt was noted as a specialist in insanity. He was elected superintendent of the hospital at Clarinda, to succeed Superintendent Lewellen, December 21, 1892, and was transferred to Mount Pleasant hospital October 28, 1898. When elected superintendent at Clarinda he was a resident of St. Joseph. Mo., where he had practiced medicine and had been connected with an institution there. He was deputy coroner at the time of the killing of Jesse James and was the first person to reach the dead bandit after the killing. He leaves a wife. The state hospital at Mount Pleasant has been temporarily in charge of Frank T Stevens, assistant, and for some time will continue in his charge.

The State Board of Medical Examiners this morning put an end to the threatened lawsuit brought by two students of Barnes college to compel the board to grant an examination. When the students applied for examination some time ago the secretary laid the matter over until the meeting of the board, as he had no power to act. The college, while not known to be short of the standard, was not on the list of regularly accredited colleges, and its standing had never been passed on. The address of the president was delivered by students insisted on immediate examination Dr. W. H. Sherraden of Omaha. Papers and the character of the college to be investigated afterwards. The Chicago & Northwestern ratiroad won in two cases determined by the supreme court today. In the case of Brewster against the Northwestern, from Clinton county, the judgment was affirmed. The case was really tried under Illinois law, as the accident happened in Chicago.

In the case of Mosnat against the Northwestern, wherein Engineer Schafer was killed near Eagle Grove in an accident in July, 1898, the lower court erred in admitting as evidence to go before the jury a book of 224 pages, containing 368 rules for the guidance of employes, this evidence being for the purpose of showing the liability of employes and the company. The supreme court says it was wrong to admit this book of rules as evidence, especially without pointing out which rules applied to the case, and any way the rules of the company would not change the liability of the parties.

Council Bluffs Paving Case.

The supreme court sustained Judge Ayles worth in the case brought by the city of Council Bluffs against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway and Bridge company on account of certain paving expenses. The superior court had held that the street railway company should pay the cost of replacing Avenue A in the condition it was prior to the occupation of the avenue by the railroad company and should pay for the paving between tracks and one foot on either side of the tracks in front of city property, where a second track was laid after the city had paid for the paving, but that the company could not be compelled to pay for paving at intersections where the paving had already been paid for. The supreme court sustains this view in its entirety. The city owns the streets, it is true, but not as a property owner. are owned for the use and benefit of the public. Hence one street intersecting another does not make a case of abutting property as provided in the ordinances. Following are the court decisions:

CREIGHTON LOSES THIS ONE

Highland Park College Team is a Victor by a Score of Ten to Zero.

Creighton university team was defeated by the Highland Park college team yester-day, 10 to 9. Harry Welch, Creighton's phenomenal twirler and captain, was out of form and gave the game to the visitors in the first three innings. He left the field in the third, barely able to raise his arm. This took the nerve out of the Omaha tads and despite the efforts of the two succeeding pitchers they lost most of their old-time vim.
