gram.)-Senatorial politics in the Fortyeighth district, which is composed of Carroll, Greene and Sac counties, have been a series of surprises. While it was frequently threatened that the Garst forces would bolt the convention, it was a genuine surprise when the DeWing delegates bolted and proceeded to organize another. W. R. named one and refused to entertain any other nomination. His nominee refused to entertain any motions and amendments. except one by the Garst men that the chairman appoint a credentials committee of five, and the Garst men supported this by force. The DeWing men then left the 500 hall and organized another convention. In the original meeting DeWing had sixty-six votes without contest and Garst 30 fifty-eight votes, eight votes being disputed. Sixty-seven was a majority. The Garst convention instructed for Garst and Cummins, and counted three men who were in the other convention and another who was represented in the latter by proxy. The DeWing delegation allowed DeWing to select his own delegation to the senatorial convention, and named an instructed delegation to the state convention and a majority of the township committeemen chose 200 C. C. Magee as chairman of the county 2.400 central committee. Sixty-four undisputed delegates person-
