

PLANS FOR THE AUDITORIUM

Five Distinct Designs Are Submitted by Omaha Architects.

WIDE RANGE OF IDEAS IS SET FORTH

Some of the Designers Depart from the Stipulations Laid Down by the Auditorium Committee—Names Are Not Made Public.

Five plans for the auditorium building were displayed yesterday in the parlors of the Commercial club, being the plans submitted for entrance in the competition called last month.

The plans are as varied as it is possible for plans to be, and a general idea is furnished in the specifications prepared by the owners of the building. Some of the drawings show pretentious structures, while others are so modest as to appear mean. As a rule the architects have closely adhered to the general specifications furnished by the committee, but others have completely ignored these instructions, and one architect has gone so far as to have the ground under the arena excavated and that part of the building supported by columns, while he prepares not only a meeting room for the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben in the basement, but has also arranged for a work shop for the knights and has placed the auxiliary hall in the basement under one end of the arena.

Another architect places the auxiliary hall on the second floor, while others use part of the ground space, as indicated in the instructions of the committee. Some of the architects have prepared longitudinal and transverse sections, while others have sketched themselves with preparing a perspective and floor plans.

Great Variety Exists. The greatest variety exists in the general designs. One plan shows a four-story building, with numerous doors and windows on the Howard street side, which is made the main front of the building. Ornate work at the top of columns and on panels and facades give an idea of richness, which, if borne out by the estimates, will place the plans far beyond the ability of the auditorium company.

Another plan gives one the impression that it was designed on the lines of the Creighton theater, having the same entrance and arrangement of seats and boxes.

A third architect has attempted something in the way of a classical design, the front entrance being planned after the front of the Burlington depot. This architect has taken the Fifteenth street side for the front of the building and has made an insignificant wall for the Howard street side, which it is understood was intended by the committee for the front of the building.

Another plan gives one an impression that the designer took ideas from the public library building, as there are many points in common between that structure and the plans submitted.

One is Original. The last plan to be received does not seem to be based upon anything ever before seen in Omaha, at least. It is a one-story affair, the roof being of glass and springing from columns just above the top of the entry seats. The designer has adhered closely to the instructions of the committee and while he has not presented an imposing plan it is the only one which seems to have filled the instructions to the letter, and at the same time brought the building within the price which can be paid from the funds on hand or in immediate prospect.

The names of the architects submitting plans are unknown and cannot be made public until after the building and grounds committee of the Auditorium company has acted in the matter, either making the award or rejecting all plans. The committee has ten days in which to consider the plans and it is probable that the full time will elapse before the announcement of its decision is made.

PEACHES AND PLUMS COMING

First Carload of the Season Will Go on Sale in This City Next Wednesday.

The first carload of peaches and plums to arrive on the Omaha market will come from Frank Hill, Iowa, within a day or two. The fruit will be placed on the market Wednesday morning, and the following day the market will be in full blast on these fruits, as other cars are enroute.

The strawberry market was ideal from a dealer's standpoint yesterday morning. Two cars of refrigerator berries were offered and all sold early at $2.25. The express stock was soft and sold from $1.75 down to $1.50.

Word from Ottumwa, the center of the strawberry belt, indicates ways that unless there is a rain there within a day or two it will be impossible to ship carloads from that point, as the berries are drying on the vine. This is taken to mean that the strawberry season will close early this year, Oregon being the only source of supply in any quantities after the close of the Missouri season.

"Wherever Newbro's 'Herpicide' is used on face or scalp after shaving or hair cutting there is no danger, as it is antiseptic and kills the dandruff germ."

The special train leaves Omaha at 8 p. m. Saturday, June 8, arriving at the lake early the next morning. Returning, the train leaves the lake at 8 p. m. Sunday evening and arrives at Omaha early Monday morning.

TEMPTED BY HER RUBY LIPS

Hold Her Man Steals Kiss from Miss Ruth Savers, Pretty Country Lass.

Ruth Savers, her shapely arms embracing some fourteen bundles of various sizes and shapes, stood in the middle of the street at Sixteenth and Douglas and raised her voice in scream after scream. A policeman approached and inquired the nature of her trouble, but she could only sputter and make motions with her head, which seemed to indicate that the source of her displeasure lay somewhere in the vicinity of the postoffice.

Then a middle-aged woman who had seen it all explained to the officer that the fact that the young woman's arms were full of bundles to kiss her. It happened right in the crowd that was waiting to board a street car, she said. He had walked up to her, taken her rosy cheeks between his hands, pursued her lips out so that they looked like an American Beauty rosebud and implanted upon them a resounding smack. Then he had deliberately walked away. He was half way to the postoffice before the young woman had recovered sufficient self-possession to scream.

"If a body meet a body—" hummed someone in the crowd that was listening to the story.

At the officer conducted the young woman to a neighboring store to get a description of the wicked young man he observed that she was comely, of that type of slender plumpness that is so much admired and so rarely seen. He learned that she had come to the store to buy a new dress, and that she was a farmer's daughter, that she would be unable to remain in the city to prosecute "Jack the Kisser" even if he were arrested and that she didn't remember what he looked like anyway. Then the officer said he was sorry she had been so mistreated and hoped it wouldn't happen again, at least not upon the street.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Ceremonies Incident to Inauguration of Vesta Chapter's Official Roster.

Vesta chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, installed its officers Saturday evening at Masonic temple, as follows: John E. Simpson, worthy patron; Mrs. Ida F. Brown, associate matron; Mrs. S. A. Walker, conductress; Miss Tillie Gunzenhauser, associate conductress; Mrs. Anna C. Simpson, secretary; John D. Howe, treasurer; Mrs. Clara Springmeyer, Adah; Miss Francis Rogers, Ruth; Mrs. Catherine McDonald, Esther; Miss Nellie Schoula, Martha; Miss Maud Wallace, Electa; Mrs. Clara C. Cox, warden; Samuel Watt, sentinel; Miss Minnie L. Mack, organist; Mrs. Harriet Price, worthy matron-elect, was one of the fifty and will be installed later. The installation was conducted by Judge L. H. Bradley, owing to the inability of Mrs. Matthews of Fremont to attend. After the ceremonies Mrs. Maria Baxter, who has been worthy matron for two years, was presented with a handsome diamond emblematic pin and Judge Bradley with a fine bouquet of roses.

FLOWERS FOR DEAD KNIGHTS

Physicians of Omaha Will Observe June 9 as Memorial Day.

Sunday, June 9, is the Memorial day of the Knights of Pythias and the combined lodges of Omaha are making extensive preparations for its observance. The graves of departed members in the various cemeteries will be decorated with flowers in the morning and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon memorial services will be held at Myrtle hall, in the Continental block. The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. E. H. Jenks of the First Presbyterian church and the service will be made by George E. French, grand commander of the order in the state of Nebraska. Music will be supplied by a quartette composed of S. Grace Cady, Miss Belle Beadle, Edward Exstrom and C. Carlton.

Souvenirs in the form of an art program will be presented to those at the services and all friends of the order in the city are expected to be present. Delegations from many of the towns in western Nebraska and eastern Iowa will join in the Omaha lodges in the ceremonies.

Nothing out to Prickly Ash Bitters for removing that sluggish, bilious feeling, so common in hot weather. It creates strength, vigor, appetite and cheerful spirits.

TAXING FOR CINDER WALKS

Mayor Moores is in Doubt as to Whether City Can Make Collections.

"I am much in doubt as to whether the city can collect special taxes levied for the construction of cinder walks," Mayor Moores remarked. "Contracts have been let for such work, but I am not sure that the city has the right under the charter to lay cinder walks and assess the cost to adjacent property. I think cinder walks are safer and better than board walks and I am anxious to see them put in on streets which are not up to grade, but until the legal department assures me that taxes for such walks can be collected I shall be slow in approving any ordinances providing for their construction."

Seven Years in Bed. "Will wonders ever cease?" inquire of the friends of Mrs. L. Pease of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but, "Three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk, she writes, 'and in three months I felt like a new person.'" Women suffering from headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed by Kuhn & Co., only 50c.

WHALEN BOYS GET THE CASH

Forty-Five Thousand Dollars from the Estate of Richard Kitchen, Deceased.

One hundred and fifty-seven shares of the stock of the Kitchen Brothers Hotel company were sold at auction at the court house yesterday by James B. Kitchen as executor under the will of Richard Kitchen. The stock was bid in by J. A. Perkins, a lawyer, at $45,000.

The cash realized from the sale is to go to Herbert and Wallace Whalen, minors, to whom the property was willed by Richard Kitchen. There has been a long drawn out battle in the courts over this legacy, and the sale of yesterday was in compliance with an order of the supreme court.

Decease in Will Case. Judge Vinsonhaler has decided the case of William Gibson, administrator of the estate of Frederick Lewon, against Peter Kroeger in favor of the defendant. It was a forcible entry and detainer case in which the widow of Mr. Lewon alleged that Kroeger, with the assistance of about twenty hired men, had taken possession of her homestead without warrant of law. The court holds that Kroeger acted legitimately.

Two Lawyers in a Suit. David Van Etten's lawsuit against V. O. Strickler for $10,000 damages is on trial in Judge Keyser's court. After his arrest Van Etten had a hearing before the police judge, who discharged him.
